Policy Eric Singer, Valerie M. Hudson, 2020-02-24. First published in 1992, one of the issues of particular interest to political psychologists centers around how foreign policy decisions are made. The psychological phenomena that political psychologists examine have to do with how individuals perceive, interpret, feel about, and react to their environment. The political factors have to do with the activities involved in governing or the making of public policy, that is, with how the material and human resources of a collectivity are allocated. The research presented in this volume addresses 6 key questions that link psychological and political processes, and the chapters are organized around three conceptual clusters: perception, studies, personality studies, and studies of group dynamics. Lifetimes of Commitment Molly Andrews, 1991-05-31.

Explores the ways in which political belief is developed and sustained throughout the course of a lifetime. Through interviews, it focuses on the lives of 15 British men and women aged between 70 and 90 who have dedicated half a century or longer to working for social change and justice. International Bibliography of Social Science International Committee for
