Peterson, 2006 Sir John Betjeman 1906 1984 Poet Laureate was probably the most widely read English poet of the twentieth century Because of his frequent appearances on radio and television and his fervent devotion to the preservation of England's architectural heritage his face and voice became familiar to millions Few other poets of any century have had such a powerful influence on their contemporaries This bibliography lists and describes all of his known writings including his own books ephemera contributions to periodicals and to books by others lectures and radio and television programmes Other categories such as editorships music settings and dramatic adaptations of his poems recordings and interviews are also included as well as a section devoted to writings about him Manuscripts and drafts of all his works are described in detail This enormous body of material is thoroughly indexed cross referenced and in most cases annotated Now at last the activities of this remarkable man both a poet and a cultural phenomenon can be seen in their full breadth and complexity Anti-Sport Sentiments in Literature John Bale, 2007-11-05 This book draws on literature specifically on the writings of selected novelists and poets to widen an existing anti sport discourse to include hitherto excluded voices from the world of literature The book commences with a review of exiting pro and anti sport discourses and then proceeds to examine in turn the written works of five eminent authors excavating from their writings their anti sports rhetorics These writers are Lewis Carroll Charles Dodgson Charles Hamilton Sorley Jerome K Jerome John Betjeman and Alan Sillitoe In its conclusion the book draws together the broad themes discussed in the preceding chapters Innovative in its approach to sport and literature and remarkable for its not having been previously explored in any depth this book will be of interest to readers from both social sciences and humanities backgrounds Harvest Bells John Betjeman, 2019-06-27 A charming new collection of previously unpublished and uncollected poems by Sir John Betjeman John Betjeman's unforgettable poems on landscape and suburbia desire and death faith and doubt helped to establish him as the beloved voice of a nation Yet the ten books of poetry he published individually later assembled in the Collected Poems were an incomplete representation of his poetic oeuvre Many poems published in journals or magazines were excluded from Betjeman's books by him or his editors and a substantial number of finished poems were never printed at all remaining unknown to readers until now In this exquisite new edition of Betjeman's verse editor Kevin Gardner promises new treasures for Betj's admirers the world over Betjeman wrote many of these poems in the late 1920s and early 1930s when he was still developing his unique poetic voice They reveal a young poet experimenting with both Modernism and post Romanticism yet influenced by Shelley and Pope among others Some of these poems are profoundly psychological personal and deeply affecting to read today Several have the delicate and eccentric touch of much of his early poetry and shed new light on his growth as a young poet while many others reflect the sustained maturity of his later verse Almost all are typically amusing and highly witty in the style typical of Betjeman some verge on the bawdy and even in one instance point towards homosexuality These charming and surprising new discoveries found in archives as far apart as Austin Texas and Christ Church Oxford will delight poetry lovers and introduce a whole new generation to Betjeman's unforgettable work The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I.
