Collecting the Now Michael Maizels, 2022-08-09 Collecting the Now offers a new in depth look at the economic forces and institutional actors that have shaped the outlines of postwar art history with a particular focus on American art 1960 1990 Working through four case studies Michael Maizels illuminates how a set of dealers and patrons conditioned the iconic developments of this period the profusions of pop art the quixotic impossibility of land art the dissemination of new media and the speculation fueled neo expressionist painting of the 1980s This book addresses a question of pivotal importance to a swath of art history that has already received substantial scholarly investigation We now have a clear nuanced understanding of why certain evolutions took place why pop artists exploded the delimited parameters of aesthetic modernism why land artists further strove against the object form itself and why artists returned to neo traditional painting in the 1980s But remarkably elided by extant scholarship has been the question of how How did conditions coalesce around pop so that its artists entered into museum collections and scholarly analyses at pace unprecedented in the prior history of art How when seeking to transcend the delimited gallery object were land artists able to create monumental and by extension monumentally expensive interventions in the extreme wilds of the Western deserts And how did the esoteric objects of media art come eventually to scholarly attention in the sustained absence of academic interest or a private market The answers to these questions lie in an exploration of the financial conditions and funding mechanisms through which these works were created advertised distributed and preserved Understanding Art Markets Iain Robertson, 2015-10-30 The global art market has recently been valued at close to 50bn a rise of over 60% since the global financial crisis These figures are driven by demand from China and other emerging markets as well as the growing phenomenon of the artist bypassing dealers as a market force in his her own right This new textbook integrates updates and enhances the popular aspects of two well regarded texts Understanding International Arts Markets and The Art Business Topics covered include Emerging markets in China East Asian South East Asian Brazilian Russian Islamic and Indian art Art valuation and investment Museums and the cultural sector This revitalized new textbook will continue to be essential reading for students on courses such as arts

Davidson, 2013-09-27 Advertising is no longer on the defensive It has survived the snobbery of the 50s the conspiracy theories of the 60s and the semiology of the 70s to be embraced and apotheosised by the 80s The Consumerist Manifesto is the first book to examine the advertising process from within the agency itself and from the wider perspective of advertising's dual relationship as both consumer and object with contemporary cultural theory Martin Davidson follows the creation of successful campaigns and explores how advertising has succeeded in setting the tone for even larger aspects of our material and personal lives With the impact of postmodernism and popular culture and the subsequent collapse of the old anti advertising critique the book reveals how advertising came to be embraced as the idiom of the enterprise culture and how it became central to the decades assault on traditional notions of political and cultural value Martin Davidson explores the wider implications of advertising's dominance for cultural theory art anthropology and language Finally Martin Davidson asks how this new critique will have to develop if the industry's new credibility is to be maintained Chambers's Journal of Popular Literature, Science and Arts, 1879 Beyond the Frame Deborah Cherry, 2012-11-12 Beyond the Frame rewrites the history of Victorian art to explore the relationships between feminism and visual culture in a period of heady excitement and political struggle Artists were caught up in campaigns for women's enfranchisement education and paid work and many were drawn into controversies about sexuality This richly documented and compelling study considers painting sculpture prints photography embroidery and comic drawings as well as major styles such as Pre Raphaelitism Neo Classicism and Orientalism Drawing on critical theory and post colonial studies to analyse the links between visual media modernity and imperialism Deborah Cherry argues that visual culture and feminism were intimately connected to the relations of power Democracy & the Arts Arthur M. The Works of Jeremy Bentham, Now First Collected Jeremy Bentham,1842 Boggs Lawrence Weschler,2000-11-15 Boggs A Comedy of Values teases out these transactions and their sometimes dramatic legal consequences following Boggs on a larkish though at the same time disconcertingly profound economic philosophic chase For in a madcap Socratic fashion Boggs is raising all sorts of truly fundamental questions what is it that we value in art or for that matter in money Indeed how do we place a value on anything at all And in particular why do we why should we how can we place such trust in anything as confoundingly insubstantial as paper money

The postsocialist contemporary Octavian Esanu,2021-11-23 The postsocialist contemporary joins a growing body of scholarship debating the definition and nature of contemporary art It comes to these debates from a historicist perspective taking as its point of departure one particular art programme initiated in Eastern Europe by the Hungarian American billionaire George Soros First implemented in Hungary the Soros Center for Contemporary Art SCCA expanded to another eighteen ex socialist countries throughout the 1990s Its mission was to build a western open society by means of art This book discusses how network managers and artists participated in the construction of this new social order by studying the programme's rise, evolution, impact and broader ideological and political consequences. Rather than recounting a history, it engages critically with contemporary art as the aesthetic paradigm of late capitalist market democracy. How to Start a Magazine James B. Social Networks, 2020-06-22 Recent and increasing interest in art market studies, the dealers, mediators, advisors, taste makers, artists, etc., indicate that the transaction of art and decorative art is anything but linear. Taking as its point of departure two of the most active agents of the late nineteenth century, Wilhelm von Bode and Stefano Bardini, the essays in this volume also look beyond to other art market individuals and their vast and frequently interconnected social and professional networks. Newly told history taken from rich business, epistolary and photographic archives, these essays examine the art market within a broader and more complex context. In doing so, they offer new areas of inquiry for mapping of works of art as they were exchanged over time and place. Philosophies of Arts Peter Kivy, 1997-06-13 Since the beginning of the eighteenth century, the philosophy of art has been engaged on the project of trying to find out what the fine arts have in common and thus how they might be defined. Peter Kivy's purpose in this accessible and lucid book is to trace the history of that enterprise and argue that the definitional project has been unsuccessful. He offers a fruitful change of strategy instead of engaging in an obsessive quest for sameness: let us explore the differences between the arts. He presents five case studies, three from literature, two from music. With its combination of historical and analytic approaches, this is a book for a wide range of readers in philosophy, literary studies, music, and non-academic readers with interests in the arts.
