Inventing a Voice Molly Meijer Wertheimer, 2004
Inventing a Voice is a comprehensive work on the lives and communication of twentieth-century first ladies. Using a rhetorical framework, the contributors look at the speaking, writing, media coverage, and interaction and visual rhetoric of American first ladies from Ida Saxton McKinley to Laura Bush. The women's rhetorical devices varied: some practiced a rhetoric without words while others issued press releases, gave speeches, and met with various constituencies. All used interpersonal or social rhetoric to support their husbands' relationships with world leaders, party officials, boosters, and the public. Featuring an extensive introduction and chapter on the First Lady as a Site of American Womanhood, Wertheimer has gathered a collection that includes the post-White House musings of many first ladies capturing their reflections on public expectations and perceived restrictions on their communication.

After their marriage in 1975, they worked toward and achieved Bill's lifelong political dreams, becoming governor of Arkansas in 1978 and president in 1992. Bill Hillary Rodham Clinton offers a behind-the-scenes look at this fascinating couple from their early career successes and the controversies of the Clinton presidency to Hillary's election to the U.S. Senate.
