Solving History The Challenge Of Environmental Activism:

Solving History Raymond Albert Rogers,1998 An activist s response to current failed environmental policies that simply do not challenge the economic interests that benefit from overexploitation The Moral Austerity of Environmental

Decision Making John Martin Gillroy,Joe Bowersox,2002-06-17 A roundtable discussion on the missing ethical dimension in environmental policy Maritime Heritage in Crisis Richard M. Hutchings,2016-12-08 Maritime heritage landscapes are undergoing a period of unprecedented crisis severely impacted by coastal development population growth and climate change Presenting archaeology and CRM as a grave threat this volume offers an important lesson on the relationship between neoliberal heritage regimes and global ecological breakdown Governing the Environment School of Law and School of Natural Resources and the Environment Edward A Parson,2001-01-01 This collection of seven essays authored by leading Canadian academics examines different aspects of the relationship between government and environmental issues

Political Ecology David Bell,Leesa Fawcett,Roger Keil,Peter Penz,2005-08-18 Political Ecology addresses environmental issues which Innis was concerned with from a contemporary political economy perspective They explore a wide range of themes and issues including sustainability risk and regulation population growth planetary management impact of humanity on environment role of technology and communication Case studies provide further insight into issues such as industrial racism women and development and collective action by highlighting ethical and political questions and providing critical insights into the issues and debates in political ecology Ibss: Political Science: 1998 Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science,2000-02 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures this series provides the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences Arranged by topic and indexed by author subject and place name each bibliography lists and annotates the most important works published in its field during the year of 1997 including hard to locate journal articles Each volume also includes a complete list of the periodicals consulted Radical Ecopsychology, Second Edition Andy Fisher,2013-01-01 Expanded new edition of a classic examination of the psychological roots of our ecological crisis Human-Centered Built Environment Heritage Preservation Jeremy C. Wells,Barry L. Stiefel,2018-09-20 Human Centered Built Environment Heritage Preservation addresses the question of how a human centred conservation approach can and should change practice For the most part there are few answers to this question because professionals in the heritage conservation field do not use social science research methodologies to manage cultural landscapes assess historical significance and inform the treatment of building and landscape fabric With few exceptions only academic theorists have explored these topics while failing to offer specific usable guidance on how the social sciences can actually be used by heritage professionals In exploring the nature of a human centred heritage conservation practice we explicitly seek a middle ground between the academy and practice theory and application fabric and meanings conventional and civil experts and orthodox and heterodox ideas behind practice and research We do this by positioning this book in a transdisciplinary space between these dichotomies as a way to give voice and respect to multiple perspectives without losing sight of our goal that heritage conservation practice should fundamentally benefit all people We believe that this approach is essential for creating an emancipated built heritage conservation practice that must successfully engage very different ontological and epistemological perspectives

Nature and Experience in the Culture of Delusion D. Kidner, 2012-03-06 While the historical development of symbolic power has benefitted humanity enormously there is an insidious and seldom recognised price that goes beyond environmental degradation and cultural disintegration With insights from both social and natural sciences this book explores the changing character of subjectivity in contemporary life

Radical Ecopsychology Andy Fisher, 2012-02-01 Personal in its style yet radical in its vision Radical Ecopsychology offers an original introduction to ecopsychology an emerging field that ties the human mind to the natural world In order for ecopsychology to be a force for social change Andy Fisher insists it must become a more comprehensive and critical undertaking Drawing masterfully from humanistic psychology hermeneutics phenomenology radical ecology nature writing and critical theory he develops a compelling account of how the human psyche still belongs to nature This daring and innovative book proposes a psychology that will serve all life providing a solid base not only for ecopsychological practice but also for a critical theory of modern society

Reimagining Livelihoods Ethan Miller, 2019-03-26 A provocative reassessment of the concepts underlying the struggle for sustainable development Much of the debate over sustainable development revolves around how to balance the competing demands of economic development social well being and environmental protection Jobs vs environment is only one of the many forms that such struggles take But what if the very terms of this debate are part of the problem Reimagining Livelihoods argues that the hegemonic trio of economy society and environment not only fails to describe the actual world around us but poses a tremendous obstacle to enacting a truly sustainable future In a rich blend of ethnography and theory Reimagining Livelihoods engages with questions of development in the state of Maine to trace the dangerous effects of contemporary stories that simplify and domesticate conflict As in so many other places around the world the trio of economy society and environment in Maine produces a particular space of common sense within which struggles over life and livelihood unfold Yet the terms of engagement embodied by this trio are neither innocent nor inevitable It is a contingent historically produced configuration born from the throes of capitalist industrialism and colonialism Drawing in part on his own participation in the struggle over the Plum Creek Corporation s concept plan for a major resort development on the shores of Moosehead Lake in northern Maine Ethan Miller articulates a rich framework for engaging with the ethical and political challenges of building ecological livelihoods among diverse human and nonhuman communities In seeking a pathway for transformative thought that is both critical and affirmative Reimagining Livelihoods provides new frames of reference for living together on an increasingly volatile Earth

Environmental Activism Jacqueline Vaughn,2003-01-15 Offers students a balanced presentation of one of today s most controversial topics conservation and environmental activism A Country Nourished on Self-doubt Thomas Thorner,Thor Frohn-Nielsen,2010-01-01 Always illuminating often infuriating and as raw and vivid as any collection of primary materials that I ve seen assembled for students I will definitely be using the book in my survey course Christopher Pennington University of Toronto Scarborough Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 Canadian Climate of Mind Timothy B. Leduc,2016-05-01 The twenty first century is a period of great environmental and social transformation as climate change increasingly marks lives at levels that are personal familial communal national and global A Canadian Climate of Mind presents stories that emerge from the waters lands and climate of Canada and which have the potential to renew a compassionate energy for changing human relations with each other and with our world The turbulent effects of climate change are popularly discussed in the modern language of scientific knowledge political policies economic mechanisms and technological innovation While there is much to be learned from these views Timothy Leduc suggests a more profound call for change by returning to past understandings of the land and climate He argues that the world is initiating us into a broader and humbler sense of what it is to be human in an interconnected reality The world is doing this by responding to unsustainable practices such as our devastating reliance on fossil fuels Weaving together voices from numerous backgrounds and time periods with Indigenous views on present and past environmental challenges A Canadian Climate of Mind illuminates a world that is being shaken to its core while we hesitate to act Rough and Plenty Raymond A.

Rogers, 2020-02-15 As a commercial fisher in Nova Scotia in the early 1990s Raymond Rogers experienced the collapse of Canada's East Coast fishery first hand. Afterward while preparing to leave the province to find work elsewhere Rogers noticed a lone gravestone across the road from his home in Shelburne County that commemorates the life of Donald McDonald a crofter from the Isle of Lewis in Scotland who departed this life in 1881. Rogers wondered if there might be a connection between the necessity of his own departure and McDonald's lonely presence on the nearby Atlantic shore linking them as members of local communities that were displaced in the name of economic progress. In Rough and Plenty: A Memorial Rogers explores the parallel processes of dispossession suffered by nineteenth century Scottish crofters expelled from their ancestral lands during the Highland Clearances and by the marginalization of coastal fishing communities in Nova Scotia. The book aims to memorialize local ways of life that were destroyed by the forces of industrial production as well as to convey the experience of dislocation using first hand narratives recent and historical. The author makes the case that in a world where capital abhors all communities but itself remembering becomes a form of advocacy that can challenge dominant structures.

Rethinking Environmental History Joan Martinez-Alier, Alf Hornborg, J. R. McNeill, 2007-01-18 This exciting new reader in environmental history provides a framework for understanding the relations between ecosystems and world systems over time. Alf Hornborg, J. R. McNeill and Joan Martinez Alier have brought together a group of the prominent social scientists, historians and geographical scientists to provide a historical overview of the ecological dimension of global economic processes. Readers are challenged to integrate studies of the Earth system with studies of the world system and to reconceptualize the relations between human beings and their environment as well as the challenges of global sustainability.
