External Research. ER List United States. Department of State. External Research Division,1952 The South Pacific Ramesh Thakur,2016-07-27 Political security economic and ecological issues in the South Pacific have acquired increasing regional and international prominence In The South Pacific observers from within and outside the region describe and analyse the dynamics of the region assessing the problems issues and prospects of the area Some Dependent Peoples of Tke South Pacific ,1954 Scholars at War Geoffrey G. Gray,Doug Munro,Christine Winter,2012-01-01 SCHOLARS AT WAR is the first scholarly publication to examine the effect World War II had on the careers of Australasian social scientists It links a group of scholars through geography transnational national and personal scholarly networks and shared intellectual traditions explores their use and contextualizes their experiences and contributions within wider examinations of the role of intellectuals in war SCHOLARS AT WAR is structured around historical portraits of individual Australasian social scientists They are not a tight group rather a cohort of scholars serendipitously involved in and affected by war who share a point of origin Analyzing practitioners of the social sciences during war brings to the fore specific networks beliefs and institutions that transcend politically defined spaces Individual lives help us to make sense of the historical process helping us illuminate particular events and the larger cultural social and even political processes of a moment in time External Research ,1953

Cultures of the Pacific Thomas G. Harding,Ben J. Wallace,1970-04 Cultures of the Pacific offers a selection of 28 readings representing anthropological research interests cultural variation in the Pacific The selections emphasize anthropological significance and relevance rather than substantive and geographical coverage The articles are divided into 6 topical areas of major importance Culture History Technology Economics Social Life Politics Social Control Religion Culture Change Among the selections included are The Kon Tiki Myth by Robert C Suggs The Primitive Economics of the Trobriand Islanders by Bronislaw Malinowski and The Rights of Primitive Peoples by Margaret Mead Many of the selections including 4 previously unpublished papers have not been readily available to the reader Editors introductions to each section indicate the place of the individual contributions in Pacific studies in particular and in anthropology in general Illustrations tables complement the text Cultures of the Pacific is designed primarily for undergraduate graduate courses in the anthropology of Pacific peoples cultures It will also find application in courses dealing with the cultural geography history of the Pacific as well as those concerned with the political science economic development of the area Melanesians and Missionaries Darrell L. Whiteman,2002-05-10 In Melanesians and Missionaries one of the best of the younger generation of missionary anthropologists demonstrates that a commitment to the missionary enterprise on the part of a solid scholar facilitates rather than hinders the anthropological study of a missionary topic This is better anthropology because Dr Whiteman is able to probe more deeply into his topic and demonstrates that he understands and appreciates both Melanesians and missionaries Charles H Kraft Professor of Anthropology School of World Mission Fuller Theological Seminary Pasadena

Framing the Islands Greg Fry,2019-10-25 Since its origins in late eighteenth century European thought the idea of placing a regional frame around the Pacific islands has never been just an exercise in geographical mapping This framing has always been a political exercise Contending regional projects and visions have been part of a political struggle concerning how Pacific islanders should live their lives Framing the Islands tells the story of this political struggle and its impact on the regional governance of key issues for the Pacific such as regional development resource management security cultural identity political agency climate change and nuclear involvement It tells this story in the context of a changing world order since the colonial period and of changing politics within the post colonial states of the Pacific Framing the Islands argues that Pacific regionalism has been politically significant for Pacific island states and societies It demonstrates the power associated with the regional arena as a valued site for the negotiation of global ideas and processes around development security and climate change It also demonstrates the political significance associated with the role of Pacific regionalism as a diplomatic bloc in global affairs and as a producer of powerful policy norms attached to funded programs This study also challenges the expectation that Pacific regionalism largely serves hegemonic powers and that small islands states have little diplomatic agency in these contests Pacific islanders have successfully promoted their own powerful normative framings of Oceania in the face of the attempted hegemonic impositions from outside the region seen for example in the strong commitment to the Blue Pacific continent framing as a guiding ideology for the policy work of the Pacific Islands Forum in the face of pressures to become part of Washington s Indo Pacific strategy
