Nitrous Oxide/Oxygen Analgesia In Emergency Care

SUMMARY

A method of analgesia relatively new to North American emergency care involves the use of a homogeneous gas composed of 50% nitrous oxide and 50% oxygen (Entonox). The gas is administered by the patient, who holds the Entonox apparatus mask to his face and triggers gas flow by exerting negative inspiratory pressure ( $-1$  cm.  $H_2O$ ). Worthwhile analgesia (i.e. marked or partial pain relief) was achieved in 95% of 110 emergency department patients experiencing significant pain from various sources. (Can Fam Physician 26:83-87, 1980).

Dr. McKinnon is an emergency room physician, Dr. Culver is an anesthetist and Mr. Pmo is a respiratory technologist at Kitchener-Waterloo and St. Mary's General Hospitals, Kitchener, ON. A SELECT GROUP of narcotic analgesics has been used for many years in emergency departments to relieve pain. These drugs, while potent, carry the disadvantages of prolonged action and potentially serious side effects. Many painful conditions or procedures (i.e. abdominal pain, reductions of dislocations), would be relieved by an analgesic whose action starts quickly, ends quickly, and yet is safe and efficacious. A self-administered mixture of 50% nitrous oxide and 50% oxygen (Entonox, Canadian Oxygen Limited) adequately fulfills these criteria.

Nitrous oxide/oxygen mixtures have been used successfully for many years in British casualty wards and ambulance services, although the Russians originally pioneered its use.<sup>1-3</sup> A popular mode of analgesia in North American obstetrical and dental practices,  $N_2O/O_2$  analgesia has only recently gained a foothold in emergency care here. In Ontario's Kitchener-Waterloo area (population 300,000) a pilot study of Entonox was proposed for both the emergency department and the ambulance service.

The emergency department study, now completed, was originally designed to be only a 'warmup' for the ambulance trial, but the favorable results indicate that, in selected cases, Entonox may be ideally suited for emergency room use. Encouraged by the success to date, we hope to begin an ambulance trial using a slightly different nitrous oxide/oxygen apparatus (Nitronox, Fraser, Harlake, Inc.) in an attempt to compare the North Ameri-
