Music Library, 1966 Sexual Selection and Reproductive Competition in Insects Murray Blum, 2012-12-02 Sexual Selection and Reproductive Competition in Insects explores the biological mechanisms underlying intrasexual reproductive competition as a driving force in sexual selection in insects The book contains papers presented at a symposium on reproductive behavior in insects held at the 15th International Congress of Entomology in Washington D C in 1976 Organized into 13 chapters this volume begins with a historical background on sexual selection theory and some of the principal conceptual advances that have been made since

Charles Darwin 1871 posited that a sexual character was a characteristic possessed by only one sex and not the other. It then introduces the reader to differences in patterns of sexual selection and how they affect the reproductive success of individuals, male-female mating relationships and mate choice by females. The book also discusses the evolution of mating strategies in insects touching on concepts such as parental investment, female choice and sexual conflict. Later chapters focus on winglessness, fighting and dimorphism in male fig wasps and other insects along with agonistic behavior among males of Achias australis, the function of horns in beetles and the evolution of alternative male reproductive strategies in field crickets. The book also looks into the courtship and mating behavior of insects and then concludes with an analysis of insect life histories in order to elucidate the biological aspects of the male-female phenomenon. This book is an essential reading for biologists and chemists.

Humorous and Sentimental Songs Hamlin's Wizard Oil Company, Chicago, 1889 The Musical Herald and Tonic Sol-fa Reporter, 1895 Toward a Practice of Autonomous Systems Francisco J. Varela, Paul Bourguin, 1992-04-02. Artificial life embodies a recent and important conceptual step in modern science asserting that the core of intelligence and cognitive abilities is the same as the capacity for living. The recent surge of interest in artificial life has pushed a whole range of engineering traditions such as control theory and robotics beyond classical notions of goal and planning into biologically inspired notions of viability and adaptation, situatedness and operational closure. These proceedings serve two important functions: they address bottom-up theories of artificial intelligence and explore what can be learned from simple models such as insects about the cognitive processes and characteristic autonomy of living organisms while also engaging researchers and philosophers in an exciting examination of the epistemological basis of this new trend. Topics: Artificial Animals, Genetic Algorithms, Autonomous Systems, Emergent Behaviors, Artificial Ecologies, Immunologic Algorithms, Self-Adapting Systems, Emergent Structures, Emotion And Motivation, Neural Networks, Coevolution, Fitness Landscapes. Contributors: H. Bersini, Domenico Parisi, Rodney A. Brooks, Christopher G. Langton, S. Kauffman, J. L. Denenbourg, Pattie Maes, John Holland, T. Smithers, H. Swefel, H. Muhlenbein. A History of Discoveries on Hearing Darlene R. Ketten, Allison B. Coffin, Richard R. Fay, Arthur N. Popper, 2023-12-19. This volume focuses on the history of research on hearing from comparative approaches. Each chapter examines the most formative studies that led to current understanding of hearing across taxa and still influence hearing research in general. Much of the early work on hearing which goes back to Aristotle as well as the classic work of 16th to early 20th century scientists e.g. Spellanzani, Retzius, Ramon y Cajal and Helmholtz is not well known to modern investigators. Similarly work in the first 75 years of the 20th century is also unknown or in some cases dismissed because it is old. Much of the earlier work describes research approaches and results fundamental to our understanding of hearing as well as the beauty of observation and synthesis. The pioneering work on hearing contains ideas and questions that are still germane today. Thus the goal of this volume is to introduce, review and put into perspective older but exemplary extraordinary studies by investigators that form the basis of our knowledge as well as questions being asked.

today Each chapter includes the first significant observations and approaches to hearing in the taxa and or hearing type that is the focus of the chapter with some of the most important earlier papers discussed in some detail including the theories formative experiments results and conclusions Each chapter provides briefer notations and citations of additional important papers that are outgrowths of the founding research or correlate and even reverse the original works This volume is a departure from the classic approach established for the SHAR books in which the focus has been on a single topic and on the most recent and exciting discoveries One difference in this volume from past SHAR volumes is that we have a more coordinated approach for the chapters to ensure that this volume is indeed a documentation of hearing research history not a review of the latest status of the topic A second difference is that the focus of the volume is on the historical value of studies In that sense the volume maintains the tutorial value for which SHAR books are famous but it explores the ancestry of modern research in order to help new researchers to gain perspective on important questions and on fundamental information they may not fully appreciate to their loss Our interest in doing this volume comes from phenomena familiar to most senior investigators that younger investigators often have little or no sense of the history of their discipline and they often do not know that their hot new idea was not only pursued and often solved but further that it was solved in an elegant way We believe it is important to bring the methodologies and discoveries on hearing done before the advent of the internet to light for the benefit and growth of new research In deciding on the chapter divisions for this book we considered a number of different organizational schemes and particularly using as a focus methodological approaches e g psychoacoustics low to high frequency types physiology anatomy However we came to the conclusion that most investigators tend to be more focused on working within a particular taxonomic group settling on particular taxa in many cases driven by the special hearing abilities We also concluded that that this approach is more naturally related to the evolution not only of hearing but also to the evolution of ideas as much of hearing science was part of the natural philosopher approach that was a core element of historical discoveries
