Song And Dance Man:

Song and Dance Man Karen Ackerman, 2003-01-14 A beautifully nostalgic picture book about one grandfather's younger days that shows you're only as old as you feel. In this affectionate story, three children follow their grandfather up to the attic where he pulls out his old bowler hat, gold-tipped cane, and his tap shoes. Grandpa once danced on the vaudeville stage, and as he glides across the floor, the children can see what it was like to be a song and dance man. Gammell captures all the story's inherent joie de vivre with color pencil renderings that leap off the pages. Bespectacled, enthusiastic Grandpa clearly exudes the message that you're only as old as you feel, but the children respond as will readers to the nostalgia of the moment. Utterly original. starred Booklist

Song & Dance Man III Michael Gray, 2000 This classic is the definitive study of Dylan's 40-year body of songs and recordings. This latest edition offers fresh material, including major studies of Dylan's remarkable use of the blues, nursery rhyme, films, and the Bible. This entertaining, authoritative book has earned exceptional reviews.

Screening the Male Steve Cohan, Ina Rae Hark, 2012-09-10 Screening the male re-examines the problematic status of masculinity both in Hollywood cinema and feminist film theory. Classical Hollywood cinema has been theoretically established as a vast pleasure machine manufacturing an idealized viewer through its phallogocentric ideological apparatus. Feminist criticism has shown how difficult it is for the female viewer to resist becoming implicated in this representational system. But the theories have overlooked the significance of the problem itself of the masculine motivation at the core of the system. The essays here explore those male characters, spectators, and performers who occupy positions conventionally encoded as feminine in Hollywood narrative and question just how secure that orthodox male position is. Screening the Male brings together an impressive group of both established and emerging scholars from Britain, the United States, and Australia, unified by a concern with issues that film theorists have exclusively linked to the feminine and not the masculine spectacle: masochism, passivity, masquerade, and most of all, the body as it signifies gendered racial, class, and generational differences.
