Song King:

Song King Levi S. Gibbs, 2018-05-31 When itinerant singers from China's countryside become iconic artists worlds collide The lives and performances of these representative singers become sites for conversations between the rural and urban local and national folk and elite and traditional and modern In Song King Connecting People Places and Past in Contemporary China Levi S Gibbs examines the life and performances of Folksong King of Western China Wang Xiangrong b 1952 and explores how itinerant performers come to serve as representative symbols straddling different groups connecting diverse audiences and shifting between amorphous place based local regional and national identities Moving from place to place these border walkers embody connections between a range of localities presenting audiences with traditional modern rural and urban identities among which to continually reposition themselves in an evolving world Born in a small mountain village near the intersection of the Great Wall and the Yellow River in a border region with a rich history of migration Wang Xiangrong was exposed to a wide range of songs as a child The songs of Wang's youth prepared him to create a repertoire of region representing pieces and mediate between regions nations and multinational corporations in national and international performances During the course of a career that included meeting Deng Xiaoping in 1980 and running with the Olympic torch in 2008 Wang's life songs and performances have come to highlight various facets of social identity in contemporary China Drawing on extensive fieldwork with Wang and other professional folksingers from northern Shaanxi province at weddings Chinese New Year galas business openings and Christmas concerts Song King argues that songs act as public conversations people can join in on As song kings and queens fuse personal and collective narratives in performances of iconic songs they provide audiences with compelling models for socializing personal experience negotiating a sense of self and group in an ever changing world

The King's Last Song Geoff Ryman, 2008-09-01 Ryman has not so much created as revealed a world in which the promise of redemption takes seed even in horror The Boston Globe Sweeping and beautiful The complex story tears the veil from a hidden world The Sunday Times Inordinately readable extraordinary in its detail color and brutality The Independent Ryman has crafted a solid historical novel with an authentic feel for both ancient and modern Cambodia Washington DC City Paper Another masterpiece by one of the greatest fiction writers of our time Kim Stanley Robinson Ryman's knack for depicting characters his ability to tell multiple interrelated stories and his knowledge of Cambodian history create a rich narrative that looks at Cambodia's killing fields both recent and ancient and Buddhist belief with its desire for transcendence Recommended for all literary fiction collections Library Journal Archeologist Luc Andrade discovers an ancient Cambodian manuscript inscribed on gold leaves but is kidnapped and the manuscript stolen by a faction still loyal to the ideals of the brutal Pol Pot regime Andrade's friends an ex Khmer Rouge agent and a young motoboy embark on a trek across Cambodia to rescue him Meanwhile Andrade bargaining for his life translates the lost manuscript for his captors The result is a glimpse into the tremendous and heart wrenching story of King Jayavarman VII his childhood rise to power marriage interest in Buddhism and the initiation of Cambodia's golden age As Andrade and Jayavarman's stories interweave the question becomes whether the tale of ancient wisdom can bring hope to a nation still suffering from the violent legacy of the last century Geoff Ryman is the author of the novels Air winner of Arthur C Clarke and James Tiptree awards and The Unconquered Country a World Fantasy Award winner Canadian by birth he has lived in Cambodia and Brazil and now teaches creative writing at the University of Manchester in England Reliques of ancient English poetry: consisting of old heroic ballads, songs, and other pieces [ed. by T.
