Song of Eskasoni Rita Joe, 1988 I was born in Whycocomagh in 1932 When mother died in 1937 there were many foster homes until I was twelve years old I put myself into the Indian Residential School in Shubenacadie Nova Scotia That school plays an important part in my life along with native upbringing by many mothers My education is by my people I have a front seat to see and feel their needs the major one being that we too live with ideal productiveness The label is deeply rooted and the stroke of a native pen does wonders especially for the coming generation The importance of my country is why I try to portray the Indian as they are so that others may see the part we play in our society If I get too sentimental in my choice of words excuse me I have to call attention to the gentle people of Canada My song is gentle bear with me I still want to offer my hand in friendship the Indian of today Rita Joe Rita Joe- the Middle Years Rita Joe, 2024-05-16 Respected artist and Order of Canada recipient Rita Joe shares her unique combination of native spirituality and Christianity that is her daily life Writing with remarkable clarity and sympathy she faces the pain and joy of our lives together With this latest book from Breton Books called Rita Joe The Middle Years all the published writings of this beloved Mi kmaw Elder and poet Rita Joe are now in print This new collection contains two complete books of her early poetry as originally published Song of Eskasoni 1989 and L nu and Indians We re Called 2011 Her first book Poems of Rita Joe was published in 1978 and is available with new and selected poems in We Are the Dreamers Recent and Early Poetry 1999 The rest of Rita s poetry is in The Blind Man s Eyes 2015 All of these books along with her powerful autobiography called Song of Rita Joe are available through Nimbus Publishing and from her publisher Breton Books Song of Rita Joe Rita Joe, Lynn Henry, 1996-01-01 Here is the enlightening story of an esteemed and eloquent Mi kmaq woman whose message of gentle persuasion has enriched the life of a nation Rita Joe is celebrated as a poet an educator and an ambassador In 1989 she accepted the Order of Canada on behalf of native people across the nation In this spirit she tells her story and by her example illustrates the experiences of an entire generation of aboriginal women in Canada Song of Rita Joe is the story of Joe s remarkable life her education in an Indian residential school her turbulent marriage and the daily struggles within her family and community It is the story of how Joe s battles with racism sexism poverty and personal demons became the catalyst for her first poems and allowed her to reclaim her aboriginal heritage Today her story continues as she moves into old age Joe writes that her lifelong spiritual quest is ever deepening From the Iron House Deena Rymhs, 2014-01-07 In From the Iron House Imprisonment in First Nations Writing Deena Rymhs identifies continuities between the residential school and the prison offering ways of reading the carceral that is the different ways that incarceration is constituted and articulated in contemporary Aboriginal literature Addressing the work of writers like Tomson Highway and Basil Johnston along with that of lesser known authors writing in prison serials and underground publications this book emphasizes the literary and political strategies these authors use to resist the containment of their institutions The first part of the book considers a diverse sample of writing from prison serials prisoners anthologies and individual autobiographies including Stolen Life by Rudy Wiebe and Yvonne Johnson to show how these works serve as second hearings for their authors an opportunity to respond to the law s authority over their personal and public identities while making a plea to a wider audience The second part looks at residential school narratives and shows how the authors construct identities for themselves in ways that defy the institution s control The interactions between these two bodies of writing residential school accounts and prison narratives invite recognition of the ways that guilt is colonially constructed and how these authors use their writing to distance themselves from that guilt Offering new ways of reading Native writing From the Iron House is a pioneering study of prison literature in Canada and situates its readings within international criticism of prison writing Contributing to genre studies and theoretical understandings of life writing and covering a variety of social topics this work will be relevant to readers interested in indigenous studies Canadian cultural studies postcolonial studies auto biography studies law and public policy Dawnland Voices Siobhan Senier,2014-09-01

Dawnland Voices calls attention to the little known but extraordinarily rich literary traditions of New England s Native Americans This pathbreaking anthology includes both classic and contemporary literary works from ten New England indigenous nations the Abenaki Maliseet Mi kmaq Mohegan Narragansett Nipmuc Passamaquoddy Penobscot Schaghticoke and Wampanoag Through literary collaboration and recovery Siobhan Senier and Native tribal historians and scholars have crafted a unique volume covering a variety of genres and historical periods From the earliest petroglyphs and petitions to contemporary stories and hip hop poetry this volume highlights the diversity and strength of New England Native literary traditions Dawnland Voices introduces readers to the compelling and unique literary heritage in New England banishing the misconception that real Indians and their traditions vanished from that region centuries ago Dictionary of Cape Breton

MacKinnon,2016-10-27 Biff and whiff baker s fog and lu sknikn pie social and milling frolic these are just a few examples of the distinctive language of Cape Breton Island where a puck is a forceful blow and a Cape Breton pork pie is filled with dates not pork The first regional dictionary devoted to the island s linguistic and cultural history the Dictionary of Cape Breton English is a fascinating record of the island s rich vocabulary Dictionary entries include supporting quotations culled from the editors extensive interviews with Cape Bretoners and considerable study of regional variation as well as definitions selected pronunciations parts of speech variant forms related words sources and notes giving the reader in depth information on every aspect of Cape Breton culture A substantial and long awaited work of linguistic research that captures Cape Breton s social economic and cultural life through the island s language the Dictionary of Cape Breton English can be read with interest by Backlanders Bay byes and those from away alike Mi'kmaq Landscapes

Anne-Christine Hornborg,2016-07-22 This book seeks to explore historical changes in the lifeworld of the Mi kmaq Indians of Eastern Canada The Mi kmaq culture hero Kluskap serves as a key persona in discussing issues such as traditions changing conceptions of land and human environmental relations In order not to depict Mi kmaq culture as timeless two important periods in its history are examined Within the first period between 1850 and 1930 Hornborg explores historical evidence of the ontology epistemology and ethics jointly labelled animism that stem from a premodern Mi kmaq hunting subsistence New ways of discussing animism and shamanism are here richly exemplified The second study situates the culture hero in the modern world of the 1990s when allusions to Mi kmaq tradition and to Kluskap played an important role in the struggle against a planned superquarry on Cape Breton This study discusses the eco cosmology that has been formulated by modern reserve inhabitants which could be labelled a sacred ecology Focusing on how the Mi kmaq are rebuilding their traditions and environmental relations in interaction with modern society Hornborg illustrates how environmental groups pan Indianism and education play an important role but so does reserve life By anchoring their engagement in reserve life the Mi kmaq traditionalists have to a large extent been able to confront both external and internal doubts about their authenticity

Writing the Everyday Danielle Fuller,2004 In Writing the Everyday Danielle Fuller analyses writing by Atlantic Canadian women from diverse backgrounds Drawing extensively on original interviews with writers editors and publishers Fuller investigates how and why communities form around texts that record women s everyday realities histories and traditions showing that prose writing and poetry performances combine oral storytelling family history and other aspects of local cultures with popular literary genres to address issues of racism sexism and poverty American Indian Literature Kimberly Wieser-Weryackwe,2025-07-10 Discover the essential people works movements and themes in American Indian literature American Indian literature is a varied and vibrant collection of Indigenous artistic expression American Indian novelists poets essayists and critics have over the last four centuries asserted powerful forms of intellectual and artistic sovereignty writing in English while building on discrete tribal oral traditions and forms of storytelling This encyclopedia introduces readers to the key historical and contemporary figures in American Indian literature and their defining works From the fiery sermons of Methodist minister William Apress to the Pulitzer Prize winning novel House Made of Dawn by N Scott Momaday to the critically acclaimed and commercially successful novels of Louise Erdrich this book illustrates the indelible and influential imprint American Indians have on the landscape of American letters Readers are also introduced to the key themes and context of American Indian literature exploring how it is inextricable from American literary history the American literary canon and the narrative of American history not on the fringes of the American experience but central to it

The ^AOxford Handbook of Musical Repatriation Frank Gunderson,Robert C. Lancefield,Bret Woods,2019-09-09 The Oxford Handbook of Musical Repatriation critically explores issues surrounding musical repatriation chiefly of recordings from archives Based on dynamic and richly layered stories and critical questions arising from archival and repatriation work this Handbook s thirty eight chapters address the subjective issues involved in musical repatriation and its wider cultural significance The Emma LaRocque Reader Elaine Coburn,2025-07-15 Emma LaRocque was born in 1949 in Lac La Biche into a Cree speaking M tis family She grew up in a one room kerosene lit log cabin built by her father At the age of nine she fought her parents to attend school where she encountered English and the colonizer's harmful stereotypes of Indigenous peoples. Confronting the contradictions of colonialism sparked her journey as a writer and scholar as she sought to understand the dissonance between her identity and the world around her. The Emma LaRocque Reader is a comprehensive collection of her most significant writings, poetry and prose, offering an intimate window into the mind of one of Canada's foremost Indigenous scholars. Through her work, LaRocque provides profound insights into the intersections of colonialism, sexism, and racism in Canada, while also critically celebrating the beauty of her community and culture. In the afterword, she reflects on fifty years of challenging the colonial enterprise. A vital contribution to postcolonial literature, The Emma LaRocque Reader intertwines the personal and the political to explore what it means to be human, offering a powerful testament to Indigenous resistance, resilience, and vision.

Women of the First Nations Christine Miller, Patricia Chuchryk, 1996-08-15 From diversity comes strength and wisdom; this was the guiding principle for selecting the articles in this collection. Because there is no single voice, identity, history, or cultural experience that represents the women of the First Nations, a realistic picture will have many facets. Accordingly, the authors in Women of the First Nations include Native and non-Native scholars, feminists, and activists from across Canada. Their work examines various aspects of Aboriginal women's lives from a variety of theoretical and personal perspectives. They discuss standard media representations as well as historical and current realities. They bring new perspectives to discussions on Aboriginal art, literature, historical and cultural contributions, and they offer diverse viewpoints on present economic, environmental, and political issues. This collection counters the marginalization and silencing of First Nations women's voices and reflects the power, strength, and wisdom inherent in their lives.

Magic Weapons Sam McKegney, 2007-11-30 The legacy of the residential school system ripples throughout Native Canada; its fingerprints on domestic violence, poverty, alcoholism, drug abuse, and suicide rates that continue to cripple many Native communities. Magic Weapons is the first major survey of Indigenous writings on the residential school system and provides groundbreaking readings of life writings by Rita Joe, Mi'kmaq, and Anthony Apakark Thrasher Inuit, as well as in-depth critical studies of better-known life writings by Basil Johnston (Ojibway) and Tomson Highway (Cree). Magic Weapons examines the ways in which Indigenous survivors of residential school mobilize narrative in their struggles for personal and communal empowerment in the shadow of attempted cultural genocide. By treating Indigenous life writings as carefully crafted aesthetic creations and interrogating their relationship to more overtly politicized historical discourses, Sam McKegney argues that Indigenous life writings are culturally generative in ways that go beyond disclosure and recompense, re-envisioning what it means to live and write as Indigenous individuals in post-residential school Canada.

Before the Country Stephanie McKenzie, 2007-01-01 In the context of Northrop Frye's theories of myth and in light of the attempts of social critics and early anthologists to define Canada and Canadian literature, McKenzie discusses the ways in which our decidedly fractured sense of literary nationalism has set Indigenous culture apart from the mainstream      Restoring the Balance Gail Guthrie Valaskakis, Eric Guimond, Madeleine Dion Stout, 2011-07-15 First Nations peoples believe the eagle flies with a female wing and a male wing showing the importance of balance between the feminine and the masculine in all aspects of individual and community experiences Centuries of colonization however have devalued the traditional roles of First Nations women causing a great gender imbalance that limits the abilities of men women and their communities in achieving self actualization Restoring the Balance brings to light the work First Nations women have performed and continue to perform in cultural continuity and community development It illustrates the challenges and successes they have had in the areas of law politics education community healing language and art while suggesting significant options for sustained improvement of individual family and community well being Written by fifteen Aboriginal scholars activists and community leaders Restoring the Balance combines life histories and biographical accounts with historical and critical analyses grounded in traditional thought and approaches It is a powerful and important book

The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature Eva-Marie Kröller, 2017-06-08 A fully revised second edition of this multi author account of Canadian literature from Aboriginal writing to Margaret Atwood      Indigenous Perspectives of North America Judit Nagy, Enikő Sepsi, Miklós Vassányi, 2014-08-20 The present volume brings to North American Native Studies with its rich tradition and accumulated expertise in the Central European region the new complexities and challenges of contemporary Native reality The umbrella theme Indigenous perspectives brings together researchers from a great variety of disciplines focusing on issues such as democracy and human rights international law multiculturalism peace and security economic and scientific development sustainability literature and arts and culture as well as religion The thirty five topical and thought provoking articles written in English French and Spanish offer a solid platform for further critical investigations and a useful tool for classroom discussions in a wide variety of academic fields      Finding Kluskap Jennifer Reid, 2015-09-30 The Mi kmaq of eastern Canada were among the first indigenous North Americans to encounter colonial Europeans As early as the mid sixteenth century they were trading with French fishers and by the mid seventeenth century large numbers of Mi kmaq had converted to Catholicism Mi kmaw Catholicism is perhaps best exemplified by the community's regard for the figure of Saint Anne the grandmother of Jesus Every year for a week coinciding with the saint's feast day of July 26 Mi kmaw peoples from communities throughout Quebec and eastern Canada gather on the small island of Potlotek off the coast of Nova Scotia It is however far from a conventional Catholic celebration In fact it expresses a complex relationship between the Mi kmaq Saint Anne a series of eighteenth century treaties and a cultural hero named Kluskap Finding Kluskap brings together years of historical research and learning among Mi kmaw peoples on Cape Breton Island Nova Scotia The author's long term relationship with Mi kmaw friends and colleagues provides a unique vantage point for scholarship one shaped not only by personal relationships but also by the cultural intellectual and historical situations that inform postcolonial peoples The picture that emerges when Saint Anne Kluskap and the mission are considered in concert with one another is one of the sacred life as a site of adjudication for both the meaning and efficacy of religion and the impact of modern history on contemporary indigenous religion

Reflections on Native-Newcomer Relations J.R. Miller, 2004-12-15 The twelve essays that make up Reflections on Native Newcomer Relations illustrate the development in thought by one of Canada's leading scholars in the field of Native history. The collection comprising pieces that were written over a period spanning nearly two decades deals with the evolution of historical writing on First Nations and Métis methodological issues in the writing of Native newcomer history, policy matters including residential schools, and linkages between the study of Native newcomer relations and academic governance and curricular matters. Half of the essays appear here in print for the first time and all use archival, published, and oral history evidence to throw light on Native Newcomer relations. Miller argues that the nature of the relationship between Native peoples and newcomers in Canada has varied over time based on the reasons the two parties have had for interacting. The relationship deteriorates into attempts to control and coerce Natives during periods in which newcomers do not perceive them as directly useful and it improves when the two parties have positive reasons for cooperation. Reflections on Native Newcomer Relations opens up for discussion a series of issues in Native newcomer history. It addresses all the trends in the discipline of the past two decades and never shies from showing their contradictions as well as those in the author's own thinking as he matured as a scholar.

How Should I Read These? Helen Hoy, 2001-01-01 Drawing on postcolonial, feminist, poststructuralist, and First Nations theory, Hoy raises and addresses questions around difference in relation to texts by contemporary Native women prose writers in Canada.
