The Discipline Of Power Essentials Of A Modern World Structure:

The Discipline of Power. Essentials of a Modern World Structure George W. Ball, 1968 The Superpowers and Africa Zaki Laïdi, 1990 That Africa one of the superpowers crucial diplomatic and economic battlegrounds now verges on political developments as dramatic as those of eastern Europe compels us to consider the tremendous influence that East and West have wielded in recent African political development Drawing from American diplomatic archives firsthand interviews and the African and international press Zaki Laid presents a historical analysis of how the dialectical relationships of the United States Soviet Union and African actors evolved to their present state The lapse of European influence in the 1960s left a diplomatic void which the superpowers rushed to fill Just as Dien Bien Ph and the Suez crisis thrust Asia and the Near East respectively into the diplomatic spotlight so the Angolan crisis lent a multifaceted cast to Africa s international relations The ebb and flow of African crises is now linked to the rhythm of superpower relations but Laid is quick to warn that Africa s internal political circumstances shape the boundaries for external influence and constrain any efforts of the superpowers to exert total control Laid s provocative study here in its first English translation addresses diplomatic strategy often neglected economic considerations the growing influence of the Bretton Woods institutions and the decline of French influence in Africa Background Readings ,1970 National Defense Resources Conference Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1970 National Security Seminar, Background Readings Joint Chiefs of Staff,1971 National Security Seminar Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1974 George Ball, Vietnam, and the Rethinking of Containment David L. DiLeo,1991 Looks at Ball s role as the lone presidential advisor to President Johnson who opposed American military intervention in Vietnam and summarizes Ball s criticisms of U S policy Anglo-American Strategic Relations and the French Problem, 1960-1963 Constantine A. Pagedas,2013-10-23 Drawing on official records and private papers this book offers insights into Anglo American reactions to France s development of an independent nuclear capability France s bid for the political leadership of Europe Britain s first application to join the EEC the controversial US multilateral force MLF proposal for NATO Britain s numerous propositions to France for the development of an independent European nuclear force the tense Anglo American diplomatic quarrel that was the Skybolt crisis and the creative diplomacy that produced the Nassau Agreement of December 1962 Development of the Idea of Detente Michael B. Froman,2016-01-28 Since the early 1950s there has been agreement in the US concerning the desirability of improving relations with the Soviet Union Policymakers have often disagreed however about how to implement policy and this book looks at the policy of individual administrations Military Decision-Making Processes Kevin Dougherty,2013-11-01 President Bill Clinton speaking as might any commander in chief on the eve of his decision to deploy ground troops to Bosnia in 1995 declared he had no responsibility more grave than putting soldiers in harm s way Such a statement suggests that a study of the decision making process associated with the weighty matters of using force would be enlightening Indeed it is The decision making process is far from standardized nor is it simple. While all individuals associated with important decisions about national security and the lives of America's service members take their responsibilities seriously, the processes by which they reach their conclusions are varied and complicated. The book traces eight traditional and emerging theories or models of decision making by first explaining the components of each model and then by analyzing its practical application through three case studies. Each chapter concludes with a discussion of the utility and explanatory power of the particular model.
