The Disillusioned Electorate The Politics Of Succesion In Trinidad And Tobago:

The Disillusioned Electorate Selwyn D. Ryan,1989 Democracy and Constitution Reform in Trinidad and Tobago Kirk Peter Meighoo,Peter A. Jamadar,2008 The countries of the Commonwealth Caribbean are all self governing determining their own futures But some 40 years after gaining independence from Britain the question remains whether these countries are truly democratic and whether the parliamentary and electoral systems adopted are well suited to the Caribbean experience Meighoo and Jamadar answer these questions in the negative A true democracy they argue is one where the Legislature has the authority and the strength to make the Executive effectively accountable and responsible to it and where the electoral system results in the true practical separation of the Legislature and the Executive Using Trinidad and Tobago as the model Democracy and Constitution Reform in Trinidad and Tobago offers an overview of the constitutional reform process in the Commonwealth Caribbean In these young postcolonial democracies where party politics have had a negative impact on the process of democratic reform the authors review the historical political and cultural motivations that have spawned the most recent debates on constitutional reform and more particularly on the proposals for parliamentary and electoral reform The book concludes with a review of past proposals and recommendations and puts forward the authors own suggestions for reform At a time when most of the Commonwealth Caribbean is undergoing a process of constitutional debate and change this book makes a valuable contribution to the discussion and provides a basis for the informed citizen student or pundit to judge the process of reform Society and Politics in the Caribbean Colin G. Clarke,1991-06-18 A study of the relationship between society and politics in the Caribbean this book examines the importance of democracy to these subjects It argues that despite structural differences these ex colonies gravitate toward democratic values and practices because of European colonization Politics of Identity in Small Plural Societies S. Wilson,2012-01-30 In small plural societies cultural differences can be exaggerated exploited and intensified during political contests The survival of these societies as democracies or even at all hangs in the balance Governance, Conflict Analysis and Conflict Resolution Cedric

Hilburn Grant,R. The Politics of Labour and Development in Trinidad Ray Kiely, 1996 This thesis is a labour history of Trinidad and Tobago concentrating on the period from 1937 to 1990 The study attempts to show that there is not a unified or homogenous working class and for this reason both traditional Marxist and industrial relations theories are rejected Instead the history of labour focuses on how the working classes have been divided by factors such as race gender class structure and politics These divisions are used as an explanation for the absence of a popular socialist party in the country It concludes that the economic recession of the 1980s has led to the worst crisis in the history of the labour movement but at the same time this has laid the framework for a new strategy of social movement unionism which attempts to constructively engage with rather than ignore divisions within the working classes The main sources of data were documentary and archival material and in particular reports made by the British TUC and Colonial Office industrial relations legislation and trade union and political party documents and manifestoes For the contemporary period these sources of data were supplemented by fifteen interviews with leading figures in trade union and labour politics The work is based on a macro approach to the study of labour and as such constitutes a new and original approach to the study of labour in Trinidad and Tobago In addition more contemporary trade union documents and interviews provided the researcher with new and original material

Critical Perspectives on Indo-Caribbean Women's Literature Joy Allison Indira Mahabir, Mariam Pirbhai, 2013 This book is the first collection on Indo Caribbean women's writing and the first work to offer a sustained analysis of the literature from a range of theoretical and critical perspectives such as ecocriticism feminist queer post colonial and Caribbean cultural theories The essays not only lay the framework of an emerging and growing field but also critically situate internationally acclaimed writers such as Shani Mootoo Lakshmi Persaud and Ramabai Espinet within this emerging tradition Indo Caribbean women writers provide a fresh new perspective in Caribbean literature be it in their unique representations of plantation history anti colonial movements diasporic identities feminisms ethnicity and race or contemporary Caribbean societies and culture The book offers a theoretical reading of the poetics politics and cultural traditions that inform Indo Caribbean women s writing arguing that while women writers work with and through postcolonial and Caribbean cultural theories they also respond to a distinctive set of influences and realities specific to their positioning within the Indo Caribbean community and the wider national regional and global imaginary Contributors visit the overlap between national and transnational engagements in Indo Caribbean women s literature considering the writers response to local or nationally specific contexts and the writers response to the diasporic and transnational modalities of Caribbean and Indo Caribbean communities Bacchanalian Sentiments Kevin K.
