The Dynamics Of Aging Original Essays On The Processes And Experiences Of Growing Older:

The Dynamics Of Aging Forrest J. Berghorn, Donna E. Schafer, 1981-02-08 Aging and the Aged Linna Funk Place, 2019-03-13 This book introduces undergraduates to library research in the field of gerontology and focuses on the wide variety of sources available for research. It covers physiological and psychological aspects of aging, social aspects of aging, and environmental aspects of aging. A Clinician's Guide to Systemic Sex Therapy Nancy Gambescia, Gerald R. Weeks, Katherine M. Hertlein, 2020-12-21 This new edition of A Clinician's Guide to Systemic Sex Therapy integrates the latest empirical research from the field of sex therapy and demonstrates how clinicians can optimize their treatment for a wide range of clients. Grounded in the Intersystem Approach, the book incorporates the multifaceted perspectives of the individual client, couple, or family. It considers every domain of assessment and treatment: biology, psychology, the intimate relationship, family of origin, and larger contextual factors contributing to any sexual relational issue. This revised edition contains 13 chapters consistent with the DSM-5 definitions of sexual disorders and features new content on areas including LGBTQ issues, non-monogamous relationships, intersex clients, and an increased focus on issues surrounding sexual diversity. The authors of this award-winning text have set out a cutting-edge framework for clinicians looking to develop a comprehensive understanding of sexual issues, which will be an essential reference point for beginning and seasoned therapists alike. The 2nd edition of A Clinician's Guide to Systemic Sex Therapy won the AASECT Book Award and Best Integrative Approach to Sex Therapy Award 2017. Black Couples Therapy Yamonte Cooper, Erica Holmes, 2023-08-10 Most research and couple therapy modalities tend to be normed on white European American couples and fail to include research on Black couples. This volume fills a void in the theory, research, and practice of couples therapy where clinicians have historically not been specifically trained to provide culturally responsive care when addressing the unique experiences and needs of Black couples. It aims to provide students, researchers, and allied mental health professionals with greater awareness, knowledge, and competency in working with Black couples. It assists therapists in developing a working alliance with Black couples and places an emphasis on cultivating environments that are instrumental to decreasing relationship distress and disconnection. Black Couples Therapy provides a comprehensive overview of the research and theory behind race and collective identity, as well as romantic coupling, illustrated by examples of practice. Elderlearning Lois S. Lamdin, Mary Fugate, 1997 Faced with the possibility of a significantly extended lifespan, many Americans can expect to enjoy continued growth and development well past the traditional age of retirement. Elderlearning examines the important role of learning in maintaining the health, quality of life, and longevity of older adults and in providing opportunities for them to take on new roles in society. This book includes the results of the first comprehensive survey on the topic of adult learning in men and women over the age of 55. The authors provide key data on the sources, topics, and extent of the current learning activities of older adults, as well as on their preferred learning modes. Adult learning is viewed from the perspective of providers of learning services as well as from the viewpoint of individual learners This information is based on extensive interviews with elderlearners and with learning services providers across the country The authors also discuss the policy implications of the elderlearning phenomenon at the federal state and institutional levels They conclude the book with a recommended eight point agenda for improving service to this rapidly growing segment of the population Elderlearning will be a valuable aid to anyone involved in developing or teaching programs designed to meet the needs of older adults as well as to elderlearners themselves

The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture Charles Reagan Wilson, 2014-02-01 This volume of The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture addresses the cultural social and intellectual terrain of myth manners and historical memory in the American South Evaluating how a distinct southern identity has been created recreated and performed through memories that blur the line between fact and fiction this volume paints a broad multihued picture of the region seen through the lenses of belief and cultural practice The 95 entries here represent a substantial revision and expansion of the material on historical memory and manners in the original edition They address such matters as myths and memories surrounding the Old South and the Civil War stereotypes and traditions related to the body sexuality gender and family such as debutante balls and beauty pageants institutions and places associated with historical memory such as cemeteries monuments and museums and specific subjects and objects of myths including the Confederate flag and Graceland Together they offer a compelling portrait of the southern way of life as it has been imagined lived and contested

Elderly People and the Environment Irwin Altman, M. Powell Lawton, Joachim F. Wohlwill, 2013-06-29 The present volume in our series follows the format of the immediately preceding ones in dealing with a topical theme of considerable importance in the environment and behavior field In view of current and projected demographic trends it is a certainty that a broad ranging set of issues concerned with the elderly and the physical environment will continue to be of focal pertinence if not of increasing importance in the remaining decades of this century The present volume also follows in the tradition of earlier volumes in the series in being eclectic with respect to content theory and methodology and in including contributions from a variety of disciplines such as anthropology economics psychology geography and urban and regional planning To have encompassed the whole array of disciplines and topics in this emerging field in a single volume would have been impossible We trust that the sample of contributions that we have selected is provocative and that it will illustrate the range of problems and topics and point to promising areas of study and analysis We are pleased to have M Powell Lawton as a guest co editor for this volume His broad ranging expertise perceptive judgment and fine editorial talents have contributed enormously to the volume

Menopause and Culture Gabriella E. Berger, 1999-03-20 An extremely significant contribution to the field of medical sociology Menopause is an area which has been somewhat neglected in social science discourse Dr Megan Jennaway University of Queensland Original well argued at the cutting edge of the field of sociology and health Dr Mina Roces University of New South Wales In Menopause and Culture Gabriella Berger questions the view of menopause as an estrogen deficiency disease by examining how other vital influences such as culture mediate the menopause transition Her positive and refreshing approach culminates in a cross cultural examination of Australian and Filipino women s menopause experiences and concludes in an elegant demonstration of how intricate sociocultural belief systems impact on menopause Set against a broad review of current and often contradictory literature in the fields of biomedicine psychiatry psychology anthropology and sociology her findings serve to demystify long held stereotypical and misogynist views of women as diseased and useless Menopause is unequivocally more about wellness than illness this is a book at the cutting edge of medical sociology
