CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, THE EARLY YEARS (1903-1913) Alissandra Dramov, 2013 Carmel by the Sea The Early Years 1903 1913 describes the establishment of Carmel by the Sea California along with an overview of the history of the Carmel Mission and the Monterey Peninsula The book s emphasis is on the development of Carmel as a Bohemian artists and writers colony at the start of the 20th century The town s first decade of existence is described the businesses and services offered and the residential architecture There are biographies of the well known Bohemian artists writers poets builders and other notable residents and visitors in the early 1900 s This original group of settlers the majority of whom came from Northern California s Bay Area were distinctive individuals who were drawn to the coastal village by its scenic beauty and the inspiration it provided for their intellectual pursuits They set the tone that made Carmel by the Sea a Bohemian enclave on the West Coast and distinguished it as a unique place These early residents and visitors left a significant and lasting impact on the future of the seaside town which in turn attracted other creative talents to the area through the years and still to this day Carmel by the Sea The Early Years 1903 1913 preserves the literary artistic cultural and architectural heritage of Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula region Exploring Outdoor Play In The Early Years Maynard, Trisha, Waters, Jane, 2014-06-01

The aim of this text is to explore outdoor play in the early years focusing in particular on early years settings and young children aged 0 to 7 years Immersion Education in the Early Years Tina Hickey, Anne-Marie de Mejía, 2017-10-02 Worldwide more parents are opting for immersion pre schooling for their children in order to benefit from its linguistic educational and cultural benefits This immersion can be either bilingual or monolingual aimed at early second language learning or at language maintenance offering minority language children mother tongue support and enrichment This book examines some of the key issues and policy concerns relating to immersion education in the early years The term itself can be difficult in some political contexts as can the differing outcomes noted by studies comparing monolingual programmes and bilingual programmes for minority language children The importance of training in immersion methodology for educators is discussed as is the need to adapt preschool pedagogical practices to the immersion context in order to provide optimal input for young language learners One of the most pressing discussions surrounds differentiated provision ensuring that the varying needs of children with language impairment typical second language learners and mother tongue speakers with significant socioeconomic or linguistic disadvantages are all met Overall the book explores the challenges currently facing the sector particularly with regard to training and professional development for practitioners and the provision of appropriate materials in less widely used languages Given the documented benefit of high quality immersion pre schooling this book fulfils an urgent need to increase the recognition of the sector This book was published as a special issue of International Journal of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism

Attainment and Executive Functioning in the Early Years Hazel G. Whitters, 2018-12-07 Attainment and Executive Functioning in the Early Years combines knowledge and understanding from research with operational skills from practice in the early years It presents the development of a sense of self which occurs between birth and five years the effect of adverse childhood experiences and the link to executive functioning in adulthood The book supports the development of expertise which can be applied to enhance inclusive pedagogy to nurture attainment and to contribute to life long learning It explores practice approaches which support children to gain a sense of self to recognise the needs of others and to achieve fulfilment by operating with purpose Research is accessed to gain knowledge and understanding of the complex processes which result in a demonstration of executive functioning in childhood Attainment and Executive Functioning in the Early Years will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of early years care and education It will also appeal to those working within children's services

Understanding Transitions in the Early Years Anne O'Connor, 2017-10-02 There are many transitions that children experience before they are five including the first major transition from home to an early years setting Successive changes can have a serious impact on young children and stress separation and insecure attachments can affect not only a child's emotional health but also cognitive and intellectual development Featuring new material on provision for two year olds school readiness and families and transitions this thought provoking text explains why transitions matter and provides practical guidance on how to support young children's developing emotional resilience and equip them to embrace change in the future Aimed at practitioners and students this fully updated second edition draws together evidence from neuroscience attachment theory child development and childcare practices provides a context for practitioners to empathise with children and families as they relate to their own understanding of the impact of change and transition looks at ways to reduce the number of transitions including the key person approach and offers guidance and practical strategies for practitioners managers and head teachers for supporting children through transitions Including case studies examples of
