A Book for the House that is Or is to Be, Etc. [With Plates, Including a Portrait.] Helen Simpson, 1934      Dinner Roles Sherrie A. Inness, 2001-04 Who cooks dinner in American homes It's no surprise that Mom remains the overwhelming answer Cooking and all it entails from grocery shopping to chopping vegetables to clearing the table is to this day primarily a woman's responsibility How this relationship between women and food developed through the twentieth century and why it has endured are the questions Sherrie Inness seeks to answer in Dinner Roles American Women and Culinary Culture By exploring a wide range of popular media from the first half of the twentieth century including cookbooks women's magazines and advertisements Dinner Roles sheds light on the network of sources that helped perpetuate the notion that cooking is women's work Cookbooks and advertisements provided valuable information about the ideals that American society upheld A woman who could prepare the perfect Jell-O mold whip up a cake with her new electric mixer and still maintain a spotless kitchen and a sunny disposition was the envy of other housewives across the nation Inness begins her exploration not with women but with men those individuals often missing from the kitchen who were taught their own set of culinary values She continues with the study of juvenile cookbooks which provided children with their first cooking lessons Chapters on the rise of electronic appliances ethnic foods and the 1950s housewife all add to our greater understanding of women's evolving roles in American culinary culture      The Happy Housewife. The Wit and Wisdom of Ruth Drew British Broadcasting Corporation, 1964      The Promise of Happiness Sara Ahmed, 2010-04-06 This provocative cultural critique of the imperative to be happy draws on the work of feminist black and queer critics showing how happiness is used to justify social oppression      The Happy Housewife Ruth Drew, 1964      The Happy Housewife Cartoon Book Kay Kelley, 1971      Restaging Feminisms Elaine Aston, 2020-05-18 Restaging Feminisms offers a re encounter with the tripartite modelling of liberal radical and socialist feminisms foundational to establishing feminist approaches to theatre This lucid account of past present connections to the staging of feminism assesses the legacies and renewals of all three feminist dynamics as they intersect with austerity Britain the Weinstein watershed and the MeToo movement Feminist politics concepts and the role of affect in the making of political attachments inform an approach that values understanding feminism's past as critical to reanimating and restaging socially progressive feminist futures The volume includes case studies of productions staged between 2016 and 2019 Caryl Churchill's Escaped Alone David Greig's version of The Suppliant Women Morgan Lloyd Malcolm's Emilia Nina Raine's Consent Townsend Theatre's We Are The Lions Mr Manager and Laura Wade's Home I'm Darling From an author with a pioneering and thirty year long commitment to the study of feminism and British theatre Restaging Feminisms is for an intergenerational feminist theatre readership for those who are discovering relations between feminism and theatre for the first time and those re encountering the feminist dynamics and their renewed resonance on the contemporary British stage Petrified Utopia Marina Balina, Evgenii Aleksandrovich Dobrenko, 2011 Taken together these essays redefine the preconceived notion of Soviet happiness as the product of official ideology imposed from above and expressed predominantly through collective experience and provide evidence that the formation of the concept of individual happiness was not contained by the limitations of important state projects controlled by state policies and aimed toward the creation of a new society

Feel-Bad Postfeminism Catherine McDermott, 2022-06-02 In Feel Bad Postfeminism Catherine McDermott provides crucial insight into what growing up during empowerment postfeminism feels like and outlines the continuing postfeminist legacy of resilience in girlhood coming of age narratives McDermott's analysis of Gone Girl 2012 Girls 2012 2017 and Appropriate Behaviour 2012 illuminates a major cultural turn in which the pleasures of postfeminist empowerment curdle into a profound sense of rage and resentment By contrast close examination of The Hunger Games 2008 2010 Girlhood 2014 and Catch Me Daddy 2014 reveals that contemporary genres are increasingly constructing girls as uniquely capable of resiliently overcoming and adapting to unforgiving social conditions She develops an affective vocabulary to better understand contemporary modes of defiant transformative and relational resilience as well as a framework through which to expand on further modes that are specific to the genres they emerge within Overall the book suggests that exploration of the affective dimensions of girls and women's culture can offer new insights into how coming of age girlhood and femininity are culturally produced in the aftermath of postfeminism

Fashions of a Decade Patricia Baker, 2006 Clothing has been a consistent recorder of history through the years documenting the heights of fashion as it threaded its way through post war society This work traces this intricate history from nylon stockings and stiletto heels to full skirts and slim fitting bodices to Baby Doll nightwear and textured leisure suits Making the Human Corinne Mitsuye Sugino, 2024-11-15 From the debate over affirmative action to the increasingly visible racism amidst the COVID 19 pandemic Asian Americans have emerged as key figures in a number of contemporary social controversies In Making the Human Race Allegory and Asian Americans Corinne Mitsuye Sugino offers the lens of racial allegory to consider how media institutional and cultural narratives mobilize difference to normalize a white Western conception of the human Rather than focusing on a singular arena of society Sugino considers contemporary sources across media law and popular culture to understand how they interact as dynamic sites of meaning making Drawing on scholarship in Asian American studies Black studies cultural studies communication and gender and sexuality studies Sugino argues that Asian American racialization and gendering plays a key role in shoring up abstract concepts such as meritocracy family justice diversity and nation in ways that naturalize hierarchy In doing so Making the Human grapples with anti Asian racism s entanglements with colonialism antiblackness capitalism and gendered violence

Wright, 2016-03-21 This book explores how the next generation of teen and young adult heroines in popular culture are creating a new feminist ideal for the 21st century. Representations of a teenage girl who is unique or special occur again and again in coming of age stories. It's an irresistible concept: the heroine who seems just like every other but under the surface she has the potential to change the world. This book examines the cultural significance of teen and young adult female characters: the New Heroines in popular culture. The book addresses a wide range of examples primarily from the past two decades with several chapters focusing on a specific heroic figure in popular culture. In addition, the author offers a comparative analysis between the New Woman figure from the late 19th and early 20th century and the New Heroine in the 21st century. Readers will understand how representations of teenage girls in fiction and nonfiction are positioned as heroic because of their ability to find out about themselves by connecting with other people, their environment, and technology.

Domesticating the Airwaves Maggie Andrews, 2012-01-26 Using case studies and analytical overviews, this book explores the relationship between broadcasting and the intimate domestic sphere into which it is broadcast. It focuses on the period from the 1920s when broadcasting was established in the UK to the present day when both domesticity and broadcasting have become areas of anxiety and contestation. The entry of the wireless and later television into the home changed men and women's experience of domesticity, offering education and reducing isolation. But broadcasting did not merely change domestic leisure patterns; it actively intervened in constructing domesticity. The supposedly natural relationship between femininity and domesticity has structured the nature of broadcasting and also the discourses which have emerged concerning the consumption of broadcast media. Contemporary broadcasting continues to be obsessed by domesticity both in an idealised sense as well as portraying the domestic world as one of turmoil and crisis. This volume demonstrates that the relationship between broadcasting and domesticity is a key and often neglected feature of the cultural history of Britain in the last 100 years.
