Twentieth-Century Shore-Station Whaling in Newfoundland and Labrador Anthony Bertram Dickinson, Chesley W. Sanger, 2005 Newfoundland and Labrador has a long history of commercial whaling beginning in the first half of the sixteenth century when Basque whalers established seasonal stations on the Labrador coast from which to hunt bowheads and North Atlantic right whales Anthony Dickinson and Chesley Sanger examine the region's modern shore station industry from its beginnings in 1896 to its peak catch season in 1904 through subsequent cycles of decline and revival until its enforced closure in 1972 by the federal government Modern shore station whaling on Canada's eastern shores developed with the spread of Norwegian dominated whaling from local areas where stocks that had been depleted by new hunting technologies to more productive locations in the North Atlantic and elsewhere Twentieth Century Shore Station Whaling in Newfoundland and Labrador adds to a growing number of regionally specific case studies that collectively illustrate the complex nature of the history of global whaling Dickinson and Sanger further demonstrate how participants in the industry were instrumental in developing other whaling initiatives including those in British Columbia      Architecture and Town Planning in Colonial North America James D. Kornwolf, Georgiana Wallis Kornwolf, 2002 Incorporating more than 3 000 illustrations Kornwolf's work conveys the full range of the colonial encounter with the continent's geography from the high forms of architecture through formal landscape design and town planning From these pages emerge the fine arts of environmental design an understanding of the political and economic events that helped to determine settlement in North America an appreciation of the various architectural and landscape forms that the settlers created and an awareness of the diversity of the continent's geography and its peoples Considering the humblest buildings along with the mansions of the wealthy and powerful public buildings forts and churches Kornwolf captures the true dynamism and diversity of colonial communities their rivalries and frictions their outlooks and attitudes as they extended their hold on the land      Canadian State Trials, Volume I Frank Murray Greenwood, Barry Wright, 1996-12-15 State trials reveal much about a nation's insecurities and shed light on important themes in political constitutional and legal history In Canada perceived and real threats to the state have ranged from dissent disaffection and the emergence of threatening ideologies to insurrection riot violent protest and military invasion The Canadian State Trials series will explore the role of the law in regulating such threats from the period of early European settlement to 1971 The first volume and the planned series as a whole present a great deal of new material by prominent Canadian historians and legal scholars Although certain Canadian political trials and security crises have received scholarly attention in the past there has never been a comprehensive and systematic examination of the country's surprisingly rich record in this area The eighteen essays in Volume I examine this record for the period 1608 1837 covering proceedings in New France the four Atlantic colonies the Old Province of Quebec and the two

Canadas They highlight security law during the American revolution the wars against revolutionary Napoleonic France and the War of 1812 comparative treason law and the trials of David McLane Robert Gourlay Francis Collins and Joseph Howe among others The essays which extensive use of primary sources the most illuminating of which appear in a documentary appendix place the examination of the law and its administration during these events in socio political and comparative context

Twentieth-century Newfoundland James Hiller, Peter Neary, 1994 Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations brings together ten papers by eight well known historians of Newfoundland and Labrador The papers address a wide variety of subject matter and open many avenues for further research The book concludes with an extensive bibliography on the Newfoundland and Labrador in the Twentieth century This bibliography is organized by topic and will serve the needs of the general reader and specialists alike Twentieth Century Newfoundland Explorations highlight the scope and complexity of present day writing about the history of Newfoundland and Labrador James Hiller Professor of History at Memorial University and author of a number of articles on Newfoundland in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Peter Neary Professor of History at the University of West Ontario and the author of Newfoundland in the North Atlantic World 1929 1949 1998

Newfoundland in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries James Hiller, Peter Neary, 1980-12-15 The first comprehensive history of Newfoundland was published in 1793 but a centenary and a half passed before the first university course in the history of the island was offered there During the past fifteen years there has been growing activity in the subject This volume is the work of six scholars who have either studied or taught at the Memorial University of Newfoundland Some have done both The book has two broad aims First to point out the major themes of modern Newfoundland history currently being examined and to offer a number of new interpretations of economic and political development in the last two centuries Second to supplement the standard works that are readily available to students In some areas it provides additional details in others it bridges wide gaps The themes considered include an introduction to the writing of Newfoundland history the transition from the purely maritime economy of the nineteenth century to the mixed oceanic and inland resource economy of the twentieth and the difficulties this involved the decline of the traditional cod fishery in the nineteenth century Newfoundland's rejection of confederation in 1896 the limitations imposed by the fisheries agreements Britain negotiated with France and the United States the consequences of the decision to reject confederation and diversify the local economy the growth of the Fisherman's Protective Union the political atmosphere of the 1920s the party politics in the post confederation period and finally the collapse of Newfoundland's oldest industry the saltfish trade and the province's integration into the North American economy This is a book intended for both regional specialists and general students of Canadian history It provides a valuable resource about a province of rapidly growing importance
