The Other Heading Reflections On Today's Europe:

The Other Heading Jacques Derrida, 1992-06-22 Like a navigator Derrida sets out from a Europe that has always defined itself as the capital of culture the headland of thought in whose name and for whose benefit exploration of other lands other peoples and other ways of thinking has been carried out If such Eurocentric biases are not to be repeated Derrida warns the question of Europe must be asked in a new way it must be asked by recalling another heading Not only is it necessary for Europe to be responsible for the other but its own identity is actually constituted by the other Rejecting the easy or programmatic solutions of Eurocentrism or anti Eurocentrism of total unification or complete dispersion Derrida argues for the necessity of working with and from the Enlightenment values of liberal democracy while at the same time recalling that these values do not themselves ensure respect for the other

Europe after Derrida Agnes Czajka, 2016-06-01 Is Europe's crisis merely a financial one Tackling issues ranging from Europe's legal institutional and cultural identity to its border citizenship and integration policies and looking forward to its legacy for the future the contributors to this volume interrogate the various dimensions and contours of the European crisis By revisiting Derrida's diagnosis of the crisis of European identity they simultaneously propose a new direction for Europe and an alternative response to today's crisis

The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History Dan Stone, 2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the 35 chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history the The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the thirty five essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by acknowledged experts as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe

Queer in Europe Robert Gillett, 2016-04-15 Queer in Europe takes stock of the intellectual and social status and treatment of queer in the New Europe of the twenty first century addressing the ways in which the Anglo American term and concept queer is adapted in different national contexts where it takes on subtly different overtones determined by local political specificities and intellectual traditions Bringing together contributions by carefully chosen experts this book explores key aspects of queer in a range of European national contexts namely Belgium Cyprus England France Germany Hungary Ireland Italy The Nordic Region The Netherlands Poland Russia and Spain Rather than prescribing a universalizing definition the book engages with a wide spectrum of what is meant by queer as each chapter negotiates the contested border between direct queer activist action based on identity categories and more plural queer strategies that call these categories into question The first volume in English devoted to the exploration of queer in Europe this book makes an important intervention in contemporary queer studies

Debating Turkey in Europe Caner Tekin, 2019-12-16 In contemporary history a much debated issue has been whether European nations have a common identity and what relevance the European Union has for a shared definition of Europeanness The present book examines the link between historical conceptions of Europe and the contestations over Turkey's compatibility with the European Union during the 2000s

Metaphoricity and the Politics of Mobility, 2016-08-01 This collection of essays investigates the convergence between the postmodern politics of mobility and a politics of metaphor a politics in other words in the context of which the production and displacement of meaning's constitute the major stakes Ranging from discussions of re-territorialization multiculturalism digisporas and transnational politics and ethics to September 11th the Pentagon's New Map American legislation on Chinese immigration Gianni Amelio's film Lamerica Keith Piper's online installations and Doris Salcedo's Atrabiliarios the collection aims to follow three different theoretical trajectories First it seeks to rethink our concepts of mobility in order to open them up to the complexity that structures the thoughts and practices of a global order Second it critically examines the privileged position of concepts and metaphors of mobility within postmodern theory In juxtaposing conflictual theoretical formulations the book sets out to present the competing responses that fuel academic debates around this issue Finally it evaluates the influence of our increasingly mobile conceptual frameworks and everyday experience on the redefinition of politics that is currently under way especially in the context of Post Marxist theory Its hope is to contribute to the production of alternative political positions and practices that will address the conflicting desires for attachment and movement marking postmodernity generation of filmmakers for whom national cinema no longer means what it did even twenty years ago The volume provides a good balance of critical approaches that includes auteur studies descriptions of state policies and the particular practices of filmmakers and producers in different parts of the continent Spain Germany Ireland the Balkans and finally useful appendices that provide a close up view of the complex nature of international co productions Marvin D Lugo Professor of Spanish Clark University This is an interesting collection of essays that has been well conceived and organised The standard of writing is high and I recommend publication I particularly commend the conceptual framework underpinning the volume This marries a cultural studies approach which still dominates the study of film in Area Studies and language departments across Europe and the US where filmic texts are increasingly used as teaching tools with the more industry based focus one tends to find adopted by Media and Screen Studies departments Thus this collection will appeal to a wide range of students and academics The introduction sets out the volume s overarching framework cogently and clearly giving a nuanced exploration of the way that the notion of the border can be used as a dynamic prism to help define and explore the limits of our understanding of Europe European identity and European culture within which cinema has long played a key role The editors give a good account for example of the way film has been employed as a space to explore the possibilities of European integration by EU politicians as well as highlighting the flaws inherent within this project They do however perhaps suggest a certain Western European North American centric view in their suggestion that the cinema of Yugoslavia Greece or Ireland is somehow less well known than other national and transnational cinemas explored here Less well known to whom However from the broad range of cinemas explored in the rest of the volume clearly this is not the case Particular high points for me are the chapters on the work of Fatih Akin by Janis Little Solomon and John Davidson s discussion of Schulze gets the Blues as well as Olivier Asselin s fascinating account of Database Cinema This will be a good addition to scholarship on European film and I look forward to receiving my copy Professor Paul Cooke University of Leeds

English and Translation in the European Union Alice Leal, 2021-06-20 This book explores the growing tension between multilingualism and monolingualism in the European Union in the wake of Brexit underpinned by the interplay between the rise of English as a lingua franca and the effacement of translations in EU institutions bodies and agencies English and Translation in the European Union draws on an interdisciplinary approach highlighting insights from applied linguistics and sociolinguistics translation studies philosophy of language and political theory while also looking at official documents and online resources most of which are increasingly produced in English and not translated at all and the ones which are translated into other languages are not labelled as translations In analysing this data Alice Leal explores issues around language hierarchy and the growing difficulty in reconciling the EU s approach to promoting multilingualism while fostering monolingualism in practice through the diffusion of English as a lingua franca as well as questions around authenticity in the translation process and the boundaries between source and target texts The volume also looks ahead to the implications of Brexit for this tension while proposing potential ways forward encapsulated in the language turn the translation turn and the transcultural turn for the EU Offering unique insights into contemporary debates in the humanities this book will be of interest to scholars in translation studies applied linguistics and sociolinguistics philosophy and political theory Global Turkey in Europe II Senem Aydin-Düzgüt,Daniela Huber,Meltem Müftüler-Baç,E. Fuat Keyman,Jan Tasci, Nathalie Tocci ,2014-04-04 The EU Turkey and their common neighborhood are changing rapidly and deeply exposing the European Turkish relationship to new challenges and opportunities in diverse policy areas such as energy migration citizenship and civil society This collective volume explores how the EU and Turkey can enhance their cooperation in these policy domains and so aims to contribute to a comprehensive discussion on shaping a common Turkish European future in the world Paul's Letters and the Construction of the European Self Fatima Tofighi,2017-01-26 Even when he was a prototype of European identity Paul transgressed the limits of Europe It is not clear whether he was conformist or rebellious orthodox or liberal sexist or egalitarian Instead of pushing the Apostle into the arbitrary categories of modern European identity Fatima Tofighi takes into account the challenge that Paul brings to normative conceptions of political theology Rom 13 religion Gal 2 12 14 and women s veiling 1 Cor 11 5 16 Alternative interpretations of these passages with the help of postmodern theory both solve the major problems of biblical exegesis and offer a critique of the allegedly well defined European categories The Idea of Europe Shane Weller,2021-06-03 This book offers a new critical history of the idea of Europe from classical antiquity to the present day Thinking Europe MATS ANDRÉN,2022-10-14 Presenting a new historical narrative on European integration and identity this title examines how the concept of Europe has been entangled in a dynamic and dramatic tension between calls for unity and arguments for borders and division Through an in depth intellectual history of the idea of Europe Mats Andren interrogates the concept of integration and more recent debates surrounding European identity across the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and the post war period Applying a broad range of original sources this unique work will be key reading for students and researchers studying European History European Studies Political History and related fields The Fishing Net and the Spider Web Claudio Fogu,2020-11-23 This book explores the role of Mediterranean imaginaries in one of the preeminent tropes of Italian history the formation or making of Italians While previous scholarship on the construction of Italian identity has often focused too narrowly on the territorial notion of the nation state and over identified Italy with its capital Rome this book highlights the importance of the Mediterranean Sea to the development of Italian collective imaginaries From this perspective this book re interprets key historical processes and actors in the history of modern Italy and thereby challenges mainstream interpretations of Italian collective identity as weak or incomplete Ultimately it argues that Mediterranean imaginaries acted as counterweights to the solidification of a national Italian identity and still constitute alternative but equally viable modes of collective belonging European Cooperation in Higher Education Iryna Kushnir,2025-04-23 The ebook edition of this title is Open Access and freely available to read online Iryna

Kushnir examines the perspectives from the four founding higher education stakeholders of the The European Higher Education Area through the lens of rationale choice neoinstitutionalist view of Europeanisation What is Europe? Anna Triandafyllidou, Ruby Gropas, 2022-10-07 This authoritative yet accessible introduction to understanding Europe today moves beyond accounts of European integration to provide a wide ranging and nuanced study of contemporary Europe and its historical development This fully updated edition adds material on recent developments such as Brexit and the migrant and Eurozone crises The concept of Europe is instilled with a plethora of social cultural economic and political meanings Throughout history and still today scholars writing on Europe and politicians involved in national or European politics often disagree on the geographic limits of this space and the defining elements of Europe Europe is therefore first and foremost a concept that takes different shapes and meanings depending on the realm of life on which it is applied and on the historical period under investigation At a given point in time depending on the perspective we adopt and the situation in which we find ourselves Europe may represent very different things Thus we should better talk about Europes in plural What is Europe explores these evolving conceptions of Europe from antiquity to the present This book is all the more timely as Europe responds to the Russian invasion of Ukraine and Britain's departure from the European Union financial slump refugee emergencies and the COVID 19 pandemic This book offers a fully updated introduction to European studies from an interdisciplinary perspective It is a crucial companion to any undergraduate or graduate course on Europe and the European Union The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Revolutionary Hope Shane Wahl, Nathan J. Jun, 2013-03-22 Over the course of the last four decades William Leon McBride has distinguished himself as a teacher mentor and scholar without peer The author of seven books and more than two hundred book chapters articles and reviews he is a world renowned expert on the philosophy of Jean Paul Sartre and a leader in the international community of philosophers This volume which celebrates the occasion of his seventy fifth birthday includes contributions from colleagues friends and former students Together they pay tribute to the intellectual philosophical and professional achievements of one of the most esteemed and accomplished scholars of his generation The Concept of European Values Sanja Ivic, 2023-07-10 The Concept of European Values Creating a New Narrative for Europe offers a philosophical analysis of the concept of European values from its origin to the present day This book rethinks European values in light of the crises economic political migration identity and pandemic that the European Union EU has faced from 2008 until today and analyzes EU initiatives to create a new narrative for Europe Sanja Ivic reexamines the concept of European values as well as the philosophical and political assumptions on which this concept is based In times of crisis the EU has shown a lack of solidarity As evidenced by Brexit the migration crisis and the pandemic crisis the EU is experiencing a clash of national and postnational norms and values Ivic argues that the EU did not react in accordance with the supranational values and principles on which it is based as stated in Article 2 of the Treaty on European Union respect for democracy human dignity freedom equality the rule of law and respect for human rights Its reaction to these crises shows a turn from postnational values which the EU advocated as a supranational political community to nationalist paradigms The Margins of European Law Ian Ward, 1996-09-18 The Margins of European Law attempts to provide a critical and sceptical approach to European law The related themes of the book attempt to introduce a historical and theoretical context for European law Ultimately it is suggested that the new European order requires a very different legal and jurisprudential approach one which is distinctively post modern European Community law at its margins is a mass of inconsistencies and injustices and a post modern model can better effect the erasing of the margins of European law
