Understanding the Other Jaco Beyers,2017-08-31 In a religious pluralistic society the other cannot be ignored even less so when there is a familial relationship between religions The way in which Judaism and Christianity relate can be conceptualised in many different forms depending on the theory one subscribes to Did Judaism and Christianity derive from a common ancestor Did Christianity spring from Judaism and if so when Why did the final cut between the two take place Did Christianity replace Judaism If so how can the relationship between them now be described Before interaction between the two religions is possible an honest and unbiased attempt to understand each other must be mutual This is a painful and difficult exercise as Christians and Jews seem to have been at odds since forever This publication is not the final word on the relationship but perhaps it serves as an invitation to Jews and Christians for peaceful engagement The Christian Observer,1802

Christian Theology in a Pluralistic Context Steven L. Wiebe,2007 Original Scholarly Monograph Shaking the Fundamentals Jan van Lin,2016-08-09 The issue central to this study can be considered one of the most pressing facing the World Council of Churches today and in the decades to come and is much greater than that which confronted the International Mission Council in the years 1910 to1938 The question answered in this study is what significance can the theology of religions as it developed between 1910 Edinburgh and 1938 Tambaram have for present day endeavours to develop a more common understanding and vision within the ecumenical movement as regards the theological problem of religious plurality This significance becomes clear in the conclusions and suggestions in the final chapter One of these conclusions is that classic Trinitarian theology and Pneumatology will be incapable of drawing the theology of religions out of the present impasse as long as traditional Christological models continue to exist within them A commemoration of the Edinburgh meeting will undoubtedly be organized in 2010 and in view of this commemoration Dr van Lin suggests considering the possibility of starting a process of reflection on the World Council of Churches theology of religions similar to those on Baptism Eucharist and Ministry and Towards the Common Expression of the Apostolic Faith Today Given the fact that the study of religious plurality shakes the ecumenical movement to its foundations within the foreseeable futures serious thought has to be given to placing the study of the theology of religions on the agenda of Faith and Order within the World Council of Churches The Faith of the Christian Church Gustaf Aulen,2002-04-26 This paperback reprinting of Gustaf Aulen s great textbook of systematic theology should be a welcome delight to the Christian theologian The reputation if this second English edition based on the fifth and most extensively revised Swedish edition has steadily increased over the years as a clear and sound guide to the substance of the Christian faith Besides treating the whole compass of traditional themes associated with the doctrines of God Christ and the church Aulen in this edition has provided new chapters on the Communion of Saints and on the relation between scripture and tradition The chapters on the biblical validation of the content of faith the doctrine of the Lord s Supper and the unity of the church and the disunity of the churches were rewritten The statements on the relation between the two testaments creation and redemption natural law the resurrection the validity of infant baptism and eschatology were substantially revised Aulen's keen analysis and clear presentation of the fundamental motifs of the Christian faith his sharp demarcation of these motifs from their aberrations in the history of Christian thought and in contemporary theology and especially his profound sense of the oneness of the church's faith have endeared this book to students theologians clergymen and hosts of intelligent and inquiring laity of every denomination
