The One Star Jew:

The One-Star Jew David Evanier, 2014-06-17 Signature David Evanier a story collection so wickedly funny and painfully honest you won't know whether to laugh cry or curl up in a ball and moan with delight New York writer Bruce Orav is crumbling Every time his father speaks I thought there was a chance you'd have a bestseller sometime I guess that's dead huh Bruce loses another piece of himself The same thing happens at the Jewish philanthropic organization where he earns a steady if not exactly generous paycheck and is regularly subjected to the musings of Luther his cynical coworker My experience has always been that kids are cannibals and killers Not even the weekly volunteer visits he and his wife Susan make to an elderly Jewish woman's home give Bruce the chance to stitch himself back together again every trip is marred by another wildly inappropriate and combative scene between the quarrelsome eighty-four year old and her African American caretakers With nowhere safe to turn what is Bruce to do His therapist wants him to join a dating club but there is only one real answer Keep living because the future fingers crossed is almost guaranteed to be better than the past And just as important keep laughing Thankfully David Evanier is here to make the laughter part as easy as reading The One Star Jew

Wasserstrom,2014-07-14 Steven Wasserstrom undertakes a detailed analysis of the creative symbiosis that existed between Jewish and Muslim religious thought in the eighth through tenth centuries Wasserstrom brings the disciplinary approaches of religious studies to bear on questions that have been examined previously by historians and by specialists in Judaism and Islam His thematic approach provides an example of how difficult questions of influence might be opened up for broader examination In Part I Trajectories the author explores early Jewish Muslim interactions studying such areas as messianism professions authority and class structure and showing how they were reshaped during the first centuries of Islam Part II Constructions looks at influences of Judaism on the development of the emerging Shi ite community This is tied to the wider issue of how early Muslims conceptualized the Jew In Part III Intimacies the author tackles the complex esoteric symbiosis between Muslim and Jewish theologies An investigation of the milieu in which Jews and Muslims interacted sheds new light on their shared religious imaginings Throughout Wasserstrom expands on the work of social and political historians to include symbolic and conceptual aspects of interreligious symbiosis This book will interest scholars of Judaism and Islam as well as those who are attracted by the larger issues exposed by its methodology Originally published in 1995 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 The Jewish Reformation Michah Gottlieb,2021 In the century and a half beginning with Moses Mendelssohn s pioneering translation and the final one by Martin Buber and Franz Rosenzweig German Jews produced sixteen different translations of at least the Pentateuch Exploring translations by Moses Mendelssohn Leopold Zunz and Samson Raphael Hirsch Michah Gottlieb argues that each articulated a middle class Judaism that was aligned with bourgeois Protestantism seeing middle class values as the best means to serve God and the authentic actualization of Jewish tradition Affiliated Identities in Jewish American Literature David Hadar,2020-07-23 Focusing on relationships between Jewish American authors and

Jewish authors elsewhere in America Europe and Israel this book explores the phenomenon of authorial affiliation the ways in which writers intentionally highlight and perform their connections with other writers Starting with Philip Roth as an entry point and recurring example David Hadar reveals a larger network of authors involved in formations of Jewish American literary identity including among others Cynthia Ozick Saul Bellow Nicole Krauss and Nathan Englander He also shows how Israeli writers such as Sayed Kashua perform their own identities through connections to Jewish Americans Whether by incorporating other writers into fictional work as characters interviewing them publishing critical essays about them or invoking them in paratext or publicity writers use a variety of methods to forge public personas craft their own identities as artists and infuse their art with meaningful cultural associations Hadar s analysis deepens our understanding of Jewish American and Israeli literature positioning them in decentered relation with one another as well as with European writing The result is a thought provoking challenge to the concept of homeland that recasts each of these literary traditions as diasporic and questions the oft assumed centrality of Hebrew and Yiddish to global Jewish literature In the process Hadar offers an approach to studying authorial identity building relevant beyond the field of Jewish literature
