The Oriental Influences On The Troubadours:

The Troubadours and Courts of Love John Frederick Rowbotham, 1895

The Literature of Ecstasy Albert Mordell, 2019-12-13 In The Literature of Ecstasy Albert Mordell embarks on an intellectually provocative journey through the realms of ecstatic literature examining works that transcend conventional boundaries and delve into the depths of human experience. With a lyrical and analytical prose style, Mordell engages with a rich tapestry of texts from various cultures and epochs, navigating through the works of poets and prose writers who grapple with ecstasy as a profound emotional and spiritual state. The book situates ecstasy within literary modernism, showcasing its evolution and multifaceted representation across diverse genres from Romanticism to modernist experimentation. Albert Mordell, a notable literary scholar and critic, was deeply influenced by his encounters with avant-garde movements and mystic traditions. His profound understanding of psychological and philosophical undercurrents informs his exploration of ecstasy as a vital yet often overlooked facet of literature. The author's own experiences with the transformative power of literature have inspired him to uncover the ways in which ecstatic expressions resonate with universal human themes, thus illuminating the interplay between art and transcendent experience. This essential reading is highly recommended for scholars, students, and enthusiasts of literature who seek to expand their understanding of ecstatic experience in literary contexts. Mordell's incisive analysis not only enriches the appreciation of canonized texts but also invites readers to reconsider the very nature of literary engagement, making it an indispensable addition to the libraries of those passionate about the intersections of emotion and art.

Nathaniel Hawthorne and the Romance of the Orient Luther S. Luedtke, 1989-09-22 This volume argues that by focusing on British and American backgrounds, readers have underestimated the impact of Asia and the East on American novelist and short story writer Nathaniel Hawthorne's 1804-1864 writing. The central force in Hawthorne's intellectual development was New England Puritanism. It fascinated even when it sometimes repelled him. It exercised a pull on his imagination which a lifetime of varied experience did not loosen. The author recreates Hawthorne's heritage and examines his readings in material dealing with the East; he examines three of Hawthorne's early tales that were all written before 1830 and he looks at Hawthorne's The Story Teller, the two-volume book of sketches and tales Hawthorne unsuccessfully tried to publish in 1834 and issued piecemeal thereafter in periodicals as annuals. The author also evaluates the role of the Eastern world in Hawthorne's view of Romance and studies some of Hawthorne's remarkable heroines: Beatrice Rapaccini, Hester, Zenobia, and Miriam, in particular. The author maintains that the Puritan element in Hawthorne's ancestry has been overstressed and that insufficient attention has been paid to the equally important travel/adventure/exploration aspect of Hawthorne's heritage and craft.
