Social Movements And The Local Community Social Ecology Of The Community Series:

Social Movements and the Local Community Ronald W. Perry, David F. Gillespie, Howard A. Parker, 1976 Handbook of Community Movements and Local Organizations Ram A. Cnaan, Carl Milofsky, 2007-12-18 Although the way associations and the organization of local social life are intertwined is one of the oldest approaches to community study the way citizens and residents come together informally to act and solve problems has rarely been a primary focus Associations are central to important and developing areas of social theory and social action This handbook takes voluntary associations as the starting point for making sense of communities It offers a new perspective on voluntary organizations and gives an integrated yet diverse theoretical understanding of this important aspect of community life Social Ecology and the Right to the City Venturini Federico Venturini, 2020-03-01 Cities today are increasingly at the forefront of the environmental and social crisis they are simultaneously a major cause and a potential solution Across the world a new wave of urban social movements is rising to fight against corporate control social exclusion hostile immigration policies gender oppression and ecological devastation These movements are building economic social and political alternatives based on solidarity equality and participation This anthology develops the debates that began at the recent Transnational Institute of Social Ecology's TRISE conference about the dire need to rebuild the social and political realities of our world's cities It discusses the prospects of radical urban movements examines the revolutionary potential of the concept of the Right to the City and looks at how activists scholars and community movements can work together towards an ecological and democratic future A fruitful conversation between theory and practice this book opens new ground for rethinking systemic urban change in a way that challenges oppression and transforms how people work create and live together Community Gardening as Social Action Claire Nettle, 2016-05-23 There has been a resurgence of community gardening over the past decade with a wide range of actors seeking to get involved from health agencies aiming to increase fruit and vegetable consumption to radical social movements searching for symbols of non capitalist ways of relating and occupying space Community gardens have become a focal point for local activism in which people are working to contribute to food security question the erosion of public space conserve and improve urban environments develop technologies of sustainable food production foster community engagement and create neighbourhood solidarity Drawing on in depth case studies and social movement theory Claire Nettle provides a new empirical and theoretical understanding of community gardening as a site of collective social action This provides not only a more nuanced and complete understanding of community gardening but also highlights its potential challenges to notions of activism community democracy and culture Cultivating Community Amanda Shankland, 2024-09-01 In the face of escalating water scarcity effective water management has become a central concern globally The Murray Darling Basin spanning over a million square kilometres across four states and one territory is a lifeline for Australian agriculture and rural communities Cultivating Community How discourse shapes the philosophy practice and policy of water management in the Murray Darling Basin dissects the prevailing environmental discourses shaping water policy in the Murray Darling Basin and assesses their implications for both the environment and for farming communities Drawing on five months of extensive field research among farmers and Murray Darling Basin Authority officials Dr Amanda Shankland presents a nuanced understanding of farmer perspectives within the broader policy discourse By examining the interplay between environmental discourses and farmer knowledge Shankland sheds light on how different ideologies shape policy decisions and subsequently impact water management practices Central to the book s contribution is the identification and analysis of four key environmental discourses prevalent in the Murray Darling Basin administrative rationalism economic rationalism democratic pragmatism and green environmentalism Against the backdrop of looming water scarcity and the declining health of the Murray Darling Basin Cultivating Community challenges these dominant discourses by highlighting a new perspective community centrism which emphasises community based cooperation and engagement in water management By amplifying farmer voices and advocating for a more inclusive approach to policy deliberations Cultivating Community paves the way for alternative futures in water management that prioritise social values alongside economic and environmental considerations Cultivating Community is a timely and indispensable resource for charting a path towards a more resilient and equitable water future in the Murray Darling Basin and beyond Inclusive

Housing Management and Community Wellbeing Kwok-yu Edward Lee,Wai-wan Vivien Chan,2024-07-01 This book examines the contributory role of inclusive housing management services in safeguarding the living environment empowering neighborhoods sustaining lovable home building social capital fostering community wellbeing and social sustainability from the perspective of the sociology of housing By repositioning professional housing management as an important driving force in community building this book argues that the community initiated inclusive housing management model has been acting as a cornerstone in enhancing a sense of belonging cultural renewal environmental sustainability social integration and community cohesion particularly in cities with high density and compact development This case study in Hong Kong will make an important contribution to interdisciplinary research in urban sociology business management community development leadership building and environmental health This study also contributes to the international literature on the dynamics of neighborhood and community governance by addressing the concrete local community initiatives and collaborative management practices in meeting the ever changing environmental social and health risks in Hong Kong and beyond It will be of value to scholars researching on housing management and inclusive community building in world cities globally The Settlement House Movement Revisited Sarah Vicary,John Gal,Stefan

Köngeter,2020-12-16 This book explores the role and impact of the settlement house movement in the global development of social welfare and the social work profession It traces the transnational history of settlement houses and examines the interconnections between the settlement house movement other social and professional movements and social research

Looking at how the settlement house movement developed across different national cultural and social boundaries this book show that by understanding its impact we can better understand the wider global development of social policy social research and the social work profession Critical Community Psychology Carolyn Kagan,Mark Burton,Paul Duckett,Rebecca Lawthom,Asiya Siddiquee,2019-09-16 This accessible textbook draws upon progressions in academic political and global arenas to provide a comprehensive overview of practical issues in psychological work across a diverse range of community settings Interest in community psychology and its potential as a distinctive approach is growing and evolving in parallel with societal and policy changes Thoroughly revised and updated this new edition covers crucial issues including decolonial approaches migration social justice and the environmental crisis It has a new chapter on archive research working with data policy analysis and development to reflect the continuously developing global nature of community psychology Key features include Sections and chapters organised around thinking acting and reflecting Case examples and reflections of community psychology in action Discussion points and ideas for exercises that can be undertaken by the reader in order to extend critical understanding Aiming to provide readers with not only the theories values and principles of community psychology but also with the practical guidance that will underpin their community psychological work this is the ideal resource for any student of community social and clinical psychology social work community practice and people working in community based professions and applied settings Health Promotion at the Community Level Neil F. Bracht,1999 Like the First Edition this book serves as a guide to the science and art of community health promotion The last decade of research and development has considerably advanced the science of achieving and maintaining health In this new edition international contributors share their experiences and expertise about diverse health promotion and point out areas needing adjustment in community implementation both on an international and domestic level New Regionalism in Australia Mardelene Grobbelaar,2018-01-18 New Regionalism promoted as a new paradigm of development by the OECD suggests that globalization is bringing together new technologies management employees and communities to form new patterns of local governance However despite the growing influence of New Regionalism in regional development policy in the West and increasingly in Australia there has been little debate about the relevance and application of these ideas in Australia Bringing together contributions from academics practitioners and policy makers this book redresses this imbalance by examining the theoretical and empirical foundations of this powerful and growing school of thought locating the debate firmly in the Australian context With an opening chapter by Kevin Morgan Cardiff University who has been at the heart of the New Regionalism debate the book provides important insights into the theory and practice of New Regionalism in this vibrant region
