Social Reality Of Death:

The Social Reality of Death Kathy Charmaz,1980 In this book I aim to take a fresh look from a sociological perspective at both earlier assumptions and current issues about death and dying Specifically the major source of my theoretical perspective is symbolic interactionism By examining the thoughts feelings and actions of the dying and those affected by death from this perspective we can gain greater insight into the subtle relationships these actors have with each other and more over with death Page v

Epiestems of Death Pratham Parekh,2017-01-01 Death and dying experiences are not common across human race because humans do not share common cultural heritage and physical environment The fact of death thus can be considered as socially constructed fact abounded by idiosyncratic religious beliefs and rituals existing within social life It is almost impossible to have common consensual understanding of death and dying This book tries to investigate various sources of knowledge about death in multiple disciplines from sociological lenses

Encyclopedia of Death and Dying Glennys Howarth,Oliver Leaman,2003-12-16 In recent years there has been a massive upsurge in academic professional and lay interest in mortality This is reflected in academic and professional literature in the popular media and in the proliferation of professional roles and training courses associated with aspects of death and dying Until now the majority of reference material on death and dying has been designed for particular disciplinary audiences and has addressed only specific academic or professional concerns There has been an urgent need for an authoritative but accessible reference work reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of the field This Encyclopedia answers that need The Encyclopedia of Death and Dying consolidates and contextualizes the disparate research that has been carried out to date The phenomena of death and dying and its related concepts are explored and explained in depth from the approaches of varied disciplines and related professions in the arts social sciences humanities medicine and the sciences In addition to scholars and students in the field from anthropologists and sociologists to art and social historians the Encyclopedia will be of interest to other professionals and practitioners whose work brings them into contact with dying dead and bereaved people It will be welcomed as the definitive death and dying reference source and an essential tool for teaching research and independent study

Social Death Lisa Marie Cacho, 2012-11-12 Winner of the 2013 John Hope Franklin Book Prize presented by the American Studies Association A necessary read that demonstrates the ways in which certain people are devalued without attention to social contexts Social Death tackles one of the core paradoxes of social justice struggles and scholarship that the battle to end oppression shares the moral grammar that structures exploitation and sanctions state violence Lisa Marie Cacho forcefully argues that the demands for personhood for those who in the eyes of society have little value depend on capitalist and heteropatriarchal measures of worth With poignant case studies Cacho illustrates that our very understanding of personhood is premised upon the unchallenged devaluation of criminalized populations of color Hence the reliance of rights based politics on notions of who is and is not a deserving member of society inadvertently replicates the logic that creates and normalizes states of social and literal death Her understanding of inalienable rights and personhood provides us the much needed comparative analytical and ethical tools to understand the racialized and nationalized tensions between racial groups Driven by a radical relentless critique Social Death challenges us to imagine a heretofore unthinkable politics and ethics that do not rest on neoliberal arguments about worth but rather emerge from the insurgent experiences of those negated persons who do not live by the norms that determine the productive patriotic law abiding and family oriented subject

Death and Dying in Contemporary Japan Hikaru Suzuki, 2013-03-12 This book based on extensive original research explores the various ways in which Japanese people think about death and how they approach the process of dying and death It shows how new forms of funeral ceremonies have been developed by the funeral industry how traditional grave burial is being replaced in some cases by the scattering of ashes and forest mortuary ritual and how Japanese thinking on relationships the value of life and the afterlife are changing Throughout it assesses how these changes reflect changing social structures and social values

Governing Death and Loss Stephen Conway, 2011 Political economic social cultural and technological changes have led to profound transformations in the ways that death and loss are perceived and managed in contemporary society Over the last few decades the long term shift to chronic illness as a major causal factor has significantly increased the time scale of dying Most people die in institutions and care is typically medical Many communities and ordinary citizens now relinquish control and involvement to experts in the last stages of life However at global and local levels new institutional arrangements are emerging to govern the changing face of death and a new model is being developed to counter claims of the creeping medicalisation of death and dying Emphasising the international context of the issues involved this book illustrates the interlinking nature of society death and loss and gives examples of governance that promotes the empowerment participation and the increasing need for the involvement of ordinary people and communities in differing social and cultural contexts All chapters are written at an accessible level and will appeal to a wide readership Part 1 of the book provides a sociological understanding of the governance of death and loss in international and historical contexts and the implications for practice Part 2 provides examples of good practice drawing upon a sociological understanding

Write to Death Elizabeth A. Gailey, 2003-09-30 Has the mainstream media been careless in reporting on the issue of euthanasia As the Right to Die and Physician Assisted Suicide movements gather steam the national media have been too quick to perpetuate and focus on the medical and legal overtones of death The ethical religious and philosophical dimensions of our increased acceptance of euthanizing the aged infirm and disabled are often neglected Gailey argues that the press s failure to enrich public discourse may well erode its trustworthiness in the public s eye Using abundant examples from analysis of elite mainstream news publications Gailey details how the national press systematically advanced pro euthanasia views and interpretations while marginalizing or omitting pro life perspectives and frames The battle over legalizing passive and active euthanasia has enormous social economic and ethical implications An understanding of how the news media frame or package such issues for public consumption is critical Gailey s integrative approach combines an exploration of the major historical ideational and economic factors leading to the rise of the Right to Die movement and includes in depth analysis of the media s framing of the controversy in the two decades Karen Ann Quinlan s coma in 1975 to Dr Jack Kevorkian s 1999 conviction

Imagining the American Death Penalty Birte Christ, 2025-04-29 Imagining the American Death Penalty traces the US American cultural imaginary of capital punishment through popular visual representations from the 1890s to the twenty first century The book focuses on three generic and historical clusters of representations early film from the 1890s through Intolerance 1916 crime film noir of the 1950s and 1960s and legal TV series from the 1990s through the early 2000s The book makes two central arguments First it demonstrates that an increased concern with the death penalty in popular media does not mean that these texts promote an abolitionist agenda their cultural work is ambiguous at best This ambiguity is always contingent upon both the affordances of the particular genre and medium in question and on political legal discursive context The book explores both in detail Early film is enchanted with its own representational possibilities due to the progress of technology and in analogy with the progress in execution technique specifically the electric chair In film noir genre conventions and the legal back and forth before and after Furman predicate ambiguity In legal TV series the genre s ensemble casts and its focus on conversational exchange invite open debate The second argument is that popular visual representations consistently whitewash the death penalty The book demonstrates that this is the case because the most common narrative around executions in film and TV is to cast the condemned man as a hero who defies the violence of the state gains dignity by accepting his fate and faults and in some ways triumphs over death The American imaginary until very recently did or could not imagine Black men to possess that measure of agency that it attributed to its white heroes
