The Postmodern Condition A Report On Knowledge Theory And History Of Literature:

The Postmodern Condition Jean-François Lyotard, 1984 In this book it explores science and technology makes connections between these epistemic cultural and political trends and develops profound insights into the nature of our postmodernity The Postmodern Condition Jean-Francois Lyotard, 1991 Postmodernism and Politics Jonathan Arac, 1986 A Feast of Flowers Christopher Krupa, 2022-04-05 When Ecuador's cut flower industry took off in the mid 1980s it rode a wave of international credit peddling and currency speculation that would lead countries of the Global South into successive debt crises and northern financial firms to fortune and dominion By the start of the twenty first century as the Ecuadorian economy collapsed and its ties with international finance became strained flower exporters rebuilt their businesses around the profitability of their indigenous labor force drawing local communities deeply into new plantation systems taking over the highlands In A Feast of Flowers Christopher Krupa goes inside Ecuador's booming cut flower industry to chronicle the ways its capitalist pioneers built a booming export industry around a racial ideology turning indigenous people's purported differences into resources for industrial expansion At the core of this racial system is a belief central to postcolonial science and politics in Ecuador in capitalism's unique capacity to change people's racial identity and to liberate oppressed populations from racial subordination Krupa shows how such views not only guide how indigenous people are today incorporated into demanding labor systems in Ecuador's new export plantations but also how indigenous minds and bodies became sites of study and intervention by scientists politicians and economic planners throughout the last century all looking to change indigenous people in some way Combining nearly two decades of ethnographic and historical research A Feast of Flowers shows how aggressive capitalist expansion in postcolonial contexts may revive longstanding intersections between race and economy to facilitate new modes of dispossession under the guise of humanitarian intervention The Subversive Harry Potter Vandana Saxena, 2014-01-10 The seven books in J K Rowling's Harry Potter series bring together a variety of aspects of young adult fiction and portray youthful rebellion as well as cultural containment and an adolescent's negotiations through these conflicting forces This detailed study of Harry Potter explores the limits of the formulaic structure of adolescent fantasy fiction and also examines the impulse of exploration subversion and resistance contained within the formula Within both subversion and containment in the narrative young adult fantasy becomes an embodiment of the experience of adolescence its angst rebellion and also its journey of personal maturation Knowledge and the Economy Peter Meusburger, Johannes Glückler, Martina Meskioui, 2013-05-23 The broad spectrum of topics surrounding what is termed the knowledge economy has attracted increasing attention from the scientific community in recent years The nature of knowledge intensive industries the spatiality of knowledge the role of proximity and distance in generating functional knowledge the transfer of knowledge via networks and the complex interplay between knowledge location and economic development are all live academic issues This book the fifth volume in Springer's Knowledge and

Space series focuses on the last of these the multiple relationships between knowledge the economy and space It reflects the conceptual and methodological multidisciplinary emerging from this scholarship yet where there has up to now been a notable lack of communication between some of the contributing disciplines resulting in lexical and other confusions this volume brings concord and to foster interdisciplinarity These complications have been especially evident in our understanding of the spatiality of knowledge the part that spatial contexts play in knowledge creation and diffusion and the relevance of face to face contacts all of which are addressed in these pages The material here is grouped into four sections knowledge creation and economy knowledge and economic development knowledge and networks and knowledge and clusters It assembles new concepts and original empirical research from geography economics sociology international business relations and management The book addresses a varied audience interested in the historical and spatial foundations of the knowledge economy and is intended to bridge some of the gaps between the differing approaches to research on knowledge the economy and space
