The Postcolonial Crescent John Charles Hawley, 1998 When the Ayatollah Khomeini pronounced the fatwa against the novelist Salman Rushdie in 1989 the world awoke to the question which unifies the fifteen essays in this volume What is the contentious relationship between the world s fastest growing religion and an increasingly secular literary world Recognizing the convergence between Islam s religious concerns and the political agenda it shares with many postcolonial emerging nations noted international scholars address issues of authorization the role of gender and the pluralism among Islamic and non Arabic cultures After providing a historical context for current crises the essayists discuss the coming cultural enrichment and potential threat

The Muslim World Book Review, 2000 Annual Bibliography of the History of the Printed Book and Libraries Dept. of Special Collections of the Koninklijke Bibliotheek, 2002-03-31 The Annual Bibliography of the History of the Printed Book and Libraries records articles of scholarly value that relate to the history of the printed book to the history of arts crafts techniques and equipment and of the economic social and cultural environment involved in their production distribution conservation and description

The Politics of Writing in Iran Kamran Talattof, 2000-05-01 Emerging in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries as a secular activity Persian literature acquired its own modernity by redefining past aesthetic practices of identity and history By analyzing selected work of major pre and post revolutionary literary figures Talattof shows how Persian literary history has not been an integrated continuum but a series of distinct episodic movements shaped by shifting ideologies Drawing on western concepts modern Persian literature has responded to changing social and political conditions through complex strategies of metaphorical and allegorical representations that both construct and denounce cultural continuities The book provides a unique contribution in that it draws on texts that demonstrate close affinity to such diverse ideologies as modernism Marxism feminism and Islam Each ideological standard has influenced the form characterization and figurative language of literary texts as well as setting the criteria for literary criticism and determining which issues are to be the focus of literary journals

brings together fascinating discussions of the way in which Muslim and Jewish beliefs and practices are represented in modern literary texts of poetry fiction and drama The chapters collected here consider elements of the expression of Judaism and Islam in modern literature Key topics such as religious ideas and teachings aspects of mysticism the tenets of religion uses made of sacred texts religion and popular culture and reflections of religious controversies are covered While there is an embodied comparative element to the chapters the essays are not confined by comparisons and cover a wide range of the literary expression of religious issues With contributions from a group of international scholars all of whom are experts in the field and each of whom has brought a particular perspective to the topic this book is a significant contribution to and will stimulate further research on the various literatures treated reflection on comparative work on these two cultural traditions and new interest in literary expressions of religion and religiousness in general

In the Shadow of World Literature

Michael Allan, 2016-04-05 We have grown accustomed to understanding world literature as a collection of national or linguistic traditions bound together in the universality of storytelling Michael Allan challenges this way of thinking and argues instead that the disciplinary framework of world literature far from serving as the neutral meeting ground of national literary traditions levels differences between scripture poetry and prose and fashions textual forms into a particular pedagogical aesthetic and ethical practice In the Shadow of World Literature examines the shift from Qur'anic schooling to secular education in colonial Egypt and shows how an emergent literary discipline transforms the act of reading itself The various chapters draw from debates in literary theory and anthropology to consider sites of reception that complicate the secular religious divide from the discovery of the Rosetta stone and translations of the Qur'an to debates about Charles Darwin in the modern Arabic novel Through subtle analysis of competing interpretative frames Allan reveals the ethical capacities and sensibilities literary reading requires the conceptions of textuality and critique it institutionalizes and the forms of subjectivity it authorizes A brilliant and original exploration of what it means to be literate in the modern world this book is a unique meditation on the reading practices that define the contours of world literature

Arab, Muslim, Woman

Lindsey Moore, 2008-05-14 Given a long history of representation by others what themes and techniques do Arab Muslim women writers filmmakers and visual artists foreground in their presentation of postcolonial experience Lindsey Moore's groundbreaking book demonstrates ways in which women appropriate textual and visual modes of representation often in cross fertilizing ways in challenges to Orientalist colonialist nationalist Islamist and multicultural paradigms She provides an accessible but theoretically informed analysis by foregrounding tropes of vision visibility and voice post nationalist melancholia and mother daughter narratives transformations of homes and harems and border crossings in time space language and media In doing so Moore moves beyond notions of speaking or looking back to encompass a diverse feminist poetics and politics and to emphasize ethical forms of representation and reception Aran Muslim Woman is distinctive in the eclectic body of work that it brings together Discussing Algeria Egypt Jordan Lebanon Morocco the Palestinian territories and Tunisia as well as postcolonial Europe Moore argues for better integration of Arab Muslim contexts in the postcolonial canon In a book for readers interested in women s studies history literature and visual media we encounter work by Assia Djebar Mona Hatoum Fatima Mernissi Ahlam Mosteghanemi Nawal el Saadawi Leila Sebbar Zineb Sedira Ahdaf Soueif Moufida Tlatli Fadwa Tuqan and many other women The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences ,1998 Persian Language, Literature and Culture Kamran Talattof,2015-03-05 Critical approaches to the study of topics related to Persian literature and Iranian culture have evolved in recent decades The essays included in this volume collectively demonstrate the most recent creative approaches to the study of the Persian language literature and culture and the way these methodologies have progressed academic debate Topics covered include culture cognition history the social context of literary criticism the problematics of literary modernity and the issues of writing literary history More specifically authors explore the nuances of these topics literature and life poetry and nature culture and literature women and literature freedom of literature Persian language power and censorship and issues related to translation and translating Persian literature in particular In dealing with these seminal subjects contributors acknowledge and contemplate the works of Ahmad Karimi Hakkak and other pioneering critics analysing how these works have influenced the field of literary and cultural studies Contributing a variety of theoretical and inter disciplinary approaches to this field of study this book is a valuable addition to the study of Persian poetry and prose and to literary criticism more broadly The Postcolonial Crescent John Charles Hawley,1998 When the Ayatollah Khomeini pronounced the fatwa against the novelist Salman Rushdie in 1989 the world awoke to the question which unifies the fifteen essays in this volume What is the contentious relationship between the world s fastest growing religion and an increasingly secular literary world Recognizing the convergence between Islam s religious concerns and the political agenda it shares with many postcolonial emerging nations noted international scholars address issues of authorization the role of gender and the pluralism among Islamic and non Arabic cultures After providing a historical context for current crises the essayists discuss the coming cultural enrichment and potential threat British Asian fiction Sara Upstone,2013-07-19 This is the first text to focus solely on the writing of British writers of South Asian descent born or raised in Britain Exploring the unique contribution of these writers it positions their work within debates surrounding black British diasporic migrant and postcolonial literature in order to foreground both the continuities and tensions embedded in their relationship to such terms engaging in particular with the ways in which this new generation has been denied the right to a distinctive theoretical framework through absorption into pre existing frames of reference Focusing on the diversity of contemporary British Asian experience the book engages with themes including gender national and religious identity the reality of post 9 11 Britain the post ethnic self urban belonging generational difference and youth identities as well as indicating how these writers manipulate genre and the novel form in support of their thematic concerns Books on Turkey ,2005 Writing Fundamentalism Axel Stähler,Klaus Stierstorfer,2009-05-27 Given its discursive amplification and its very real impact on contemporary societies fundamentalism has become the focus of much scholarly attention. However, whereas it is commonly recognized to be centred on texts, the complex and at times paradoxical relationship of fundamentalism with literature remains as yet largely unexplored. Based on new research by an international team of scholars working in the fields of literary and cultural studies, the essays gathered in this volume are based on a number of theoretical frameworks and debates and open up a historical perspective which engages critically with received notions of fundamentalism by exploring literary representations of fundamentalisms and the function of literature in fundamentalism. They enquire into the underlying generic differences and incompatibilities as well as perhaps more unexpected the similarities and affinities between fundamentalism and literature. Opening up a historical perspective reaching back to the early sixteenth century, concepts of fundamentalism as a response to exclusively modernist tendencies since the beginning of the twentieth century are challenged in this volume and several contributors begin to explore the rise of fundamentalisms at various points in history characterized by the crisis experience of cultural change. While taking this conceptual base as a point of departure, the articles collected here then spread out on a plurality of theoretical frameworks. Alert to the productive friction between these discourses, which it aims to elicit, the volume confronts earlier research in the disciplines of theology, history of religion, sociology, political history, anthropology, and if less copious, literary studies with postcolonial and cultural studies. With its general focus on writing in English, including American and British literatures as well as the new literatures in English worldwide, the collection takes into account cultural and historical affinities and differences which have contributed to the ongoing negotiations of fundamentalism and literature in the English language and transcends borders of both nations and academic disciplines. In exploring new perspectives on fundamentalism and literature, the volume offers tools for a better understanding of this interrelation which should be of interest to scholars across all disciplines concerned with fundamentalism as a social and cultural phenomenon of ever growing global importance and impact.
