Geographies of Practice Transfer Judith Wiemann, 2022-04-13 Employing a practice theoretical approach this study centers on how German multinational enterprises transfer three selected production related training practices to their subsidiaries in emerging economies onboarding of new employees shop floor inducting of machine operators and German style dual apprenticeship training for specialized technicians Empirical findings are drawn from three research regions Greater Shanghai Area China Metropolitan Areas Mumbai Pune Bangalore India and Central Mexico Mexico In doing so this study contributes to debates about the internationalization of multinational enterprises conceptualizing internationalization through the lens of practice transfer Practice transfer is still an understudied phenomenon in economic geography while international business studies have a long standing research interest in this area This study provides a bridge between these two disciplinary fields connecting debates in economic geography on proximity distance and knowledge transfer with organization studies based research in international business studies all the while providing a unique new perspective by developing a practice theoretical approach to explain practice transfer across distance and between territories      Annales Stuart Clark, 1999 This collection reprints key articles written within the past 30 years on the Annales school their journal their influence on history historiography and other academic fields      Women and Cartography in the Progressive Era Christina E. Dando, 2017-08-15 In the twenty first century we speak of a geospatial revolution but over one hundred years ago another mapping revolution was in motion Women s lives were in motion they were playing a greater role in public on a variety of fronts As women became more mobile physically socially politically they used and created geographic knowledge and maps The maps created by American women were in motion too created shared distributed as they worked to transform their landscapes Long overlooked this women s work represents maps and mapping that today we would term community or participatory mapping critical cartography and public geography These historic examples of women generated mapping represent the adoption of cartography and geography as part of women s work While cartography and map use are not new the adoption and application of this technology and form of communication in women s work and in multiple examples in the context of their social work is unprecedented This study explores the implications of women s use of this technology in creating and presenting information and knowledge and wielding it to their own ends This pioneering and original book will be essential reading for those working in Geography Gender Studies Women s Studies Politics and History Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2019-12-26 Women are the exclusive focus of the 38th volume of Geographers For the first time in the series history the entire volume is devoted to important work of distinguished female geographers amply demonstrating how these scholars professional lives enrich the discipline s history It also illustrates how reading and writing their biographies not only expands our understanding of geography s past but points to its more diverse future The collection includes biographies of Doreen Massey winner of geography s Nobel prize the prix Vautrin Lud for her remarkable contribution to geography and neighbouring disciplines which discovered the importance of space through her work Helen Wallis geographer and historian of cartography who for many years had charge of the UK s foremost collection of maps Alice Saunier Se t who applied her geographical training and formidable energy to teaching and educational reform in France Isabel Margarida Andr who lived through a turbulent political period in her native Portugal and meticulously investigated its effect on women and political geography and the many women who helped to create the UK s first Geography department the University of Oxford s School of Geography including Fanny Herbertson Nora MacMunn Marjorie Sweeting Mary Marshall Barbara Kennedy and other women geographers who are memorialised in a group article The Dictionary of Human Geography Derek Gregory, Ron Johnston, Geraldine Pratt, Michael Watts, Sarah Whatmore, 2011-09-23 THE DICTIONARY OF HUMAN GEOGRAPHY Even better than before the Dictionary is an essential tool for all human geographers and over the years has provided an invaluable guide to the changing boundaries and content of the discipline No one can afford to be without this fifth edition Linda McDowell University of Oxford From explanations of core concepts and central debates to lucid discussions of the theories driving contemporary research this is the best conceptual map to the creative and critical thinking that characterises contemporary human geography The fifth edition belongs on the bookshelf of all serious students Gerard Toal Virginia Tech With an exceptional balance between breadth and depth this is undoubtedly a timely and ground breaking revision of the Dictionary An outstanding accomplishment of the editors and contributors and a comprehensive and essential reference for any student or scholar interested in human geography Mei Po Kwan Ohio State University I can t imagine life without it Definitive detailed yet accessible there s still no single volume reference work in the field to rival it

Noel Castree University of Manchester The Dictionary of Human Geography represents the definitive guide to issues and ideas methods and theories in human geography Now in its fifth edition this ground breaking text has been comprehensively revised to reflect the changing nature and practice of human geography and its rapidly developing connections with other fields The major entries not only describe the development of concepts contributions and debates in human geography but also advance them Shorter definitional entries allow quick reference and coverage of the wider subject area Changes to the fifth edition include entries from many new contributors at the forefront of developments in the field and over 300 key terms appearing for the first time It features a new consolidated bibliography along with a detailed index and systematic cross referencing of headwords The Dictionary of Human Geography continues to be the one guidebook no student instructor or researcher in the field can afford to be without

Geographies of Economies Roger Lee, Jane Wills, 2014-05-01 Setting out to explore the intersections of economy and geography this book brings together contributions from the world's top economic geographers Over forty contributors draw upon contemporary theory and experience to explore the cultural and social constitution of economic geographies processes of globalisation and new forms of political regulation and practice Although focusing upon new economic geography the book also illustrates the many connections with previous scholarship as scholars seek to reconstruct the traditions of political economy to understand the contemporary world Highlighting and illustrating contemporary developments the book opens up discussion about the implications of the complex geographies involved In pointing to new directions of research and debate this major statement in state of the art economic geography demonstrates the central relevance of economic geography not only in understanding the trajectories of change but in proposing alternatives

The Uses of Art in Public Space Julia Lossau, Quentin Stevens, 2014-12-05 This book links two fields of interest which are too seldom considered together the production and critique of art in public space and social behaviour in the public realm Whilst most writing about public art has focused on the aesthetic cultural and political intentions and processes that shape its production this edited collection examines a variety of public artworks from the perspective of their actual everyday use Contributors are interested in the rich diversity of peoples engagements with public artworks across various spatial and temporal scales encounters which do not limit themselves to the representational aspects of the art and which are not necessarily as the artist curator or sponsor intended Case studies consider a broad range of public art including commissioned and unofficial artworks memorials street art street furniture performance art sound art and media installations
