The Prehistory Of The Mediterranean:

The Prehistory of the Mediterranean David H. Trump,1980      Islands in Time Mark Patton,2013-01-11 Islands in Time explores the ecological and cultural development of prehistoric island societies It considers the prehistory of the Mediterranean and offers an explanation of the effects of isolation on the development of human communities Evidence is drawn from a broad range of Mediterranean islands including Cyprus Crete and the Cyclades Malta Lipari Corsica and Sardinia      The Archaeology of Mediterranean Prehistory Emma Blake,A. Bernard Knapp,2008-04-15 This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the archaeology of Mediterranean prehistory and an essential reference to the most recent research and fieldwork Only book available to offer general coverage of Mediterranean prehistory Written by 14 of the leading archaeologists in the field Spans the Neolithic through the Iron Age and draws from all the major regions of the Mediterranean s coast and islands Presents the central debates in Mediterranean prehistory trade and interaction rural economies ritual social structure gender monumentality insularity archaeometallurgy and the metals trade stone technologies settlement and maritime traffic as well as contemporary legacies of the region s prehistoric past Structure of text is pedagogically driven Engages diverse theoretical approaches so students will see the benefits of multivocality      The Prehistory of Asia Minor Bleda S. Düring,2010-10-21 In this book Bleda D ring offers an archaeological analysis of Asia Minor the area equated with much of modern day Turkey from 20 000 to 2 000 BC During this period human societies moved from small scale hunter gatherer groups to complex and hierarchical communities with economies based on agriculture and industry Dr D ring traces the spread of the Neolithic way of life which ultimately reached across Eurasia and the emergence of key human developments including the domestication of animals metallurgy fortified towns and long distance trading networks Situated at the junction between Europe and Asia Asia Minor has often been perceived as a bridge for the movement of technologies and ideas By contrast this book argues that cultural developments followed a distinctive trajectory in Asia Minor from as early as 9 000 BC      On the Ocean Barry W. Cunliffe,2017 The story of the contest between humans and the sea played out in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic from early prehistory until AD 1500      A Companion to Mediterranean History Peregrine Horden,Sharon Kinoshita,2014-01-21 A Companion to Mediterranean History presents a wide ranging overview of this vibrant field of historical research drawing together scholars from a range of disciplines to discuss the development of the region from Neolithic times to the present Provides a valuable introduction to current debates on Mediterranean history and helps define the field for a new generation Covers developments in the Mediterranean world from Neolithic times to the modern era Enables fruitful dialogue among a wide range of disciplines including history archaeology art literature and anthropology      The Cambridge Ancient History: pt. 1. The prehistory of the Balkans; and the Middle East and the Aegean World, tenth to eighth centuries B.C., edited by John Boardman ... [et al.]. 2d ed,1982      Prehistory : a study of early cultures in Europe and the Mediterranean basin Miles Crawford

Burkitt,1921 The Chora of Croton 1 Jon Morter,2012-10-03 From 1974 to the present the Institute of Classical Archaeology ICA at the University of Texas at Austin has carried out archaeological excavations and surveys in ancient territories chora in southern Italy This wide ranging investigation which covers a large number of sites and a time period ranging from prehistory to the Middle Ages has unearthed a wealth of new information about ancient rural economies and cultures in the region These discoveries will be published in two multivolume series Metaponto and Croton This volume on the Neolithic settlement at Capo Alfiere is the first in the Croton series The Chora of Croton 1 reports the excavation results of a remarkable Neolithic site at Capo Alfiere on the Ionian coast Capo Alfiere is one of a very few early inhabitation sites in this area to have been excavated extensively with a full team of scientific specialists providing interdisciplinary studies on early farming and animal husbandry It provides comprehensive documentation of the economy material culture and way of life in the central Mediterranean in the sixth and fifth millennia BC Most notable are the remains of a wattle and daub hut enclosed within a massive stone wall Unique for this area this well preserved structure may have been used for special purposes such as ritual as well as for habitation The presence of Stentinello wares shows that the range of this pottery type extended further east than previously thought and casts new light on the development of ceramics in the area

Mediterranean Voyages Helen Dawson,2016-07-01 Islands are ideal case studies for exploring social connectivity episodes of colonisation abandonment and alternating phases of cultural interaction and isolation Their societies display different attitudes toward the land and the sea which in turn cast light on group identities This volume advances theoretical discussions of island archaeology by offering a comparative study of the archaeology of colonisation abandonment and resettlement of the Mediterranean islands in prehistory This comparative and thematic study encourages anthropological reflections on the archaeology of the islands ultimately focusing on people rather than geographical units and specifically on the relations between islanders mainlanders and the creation of islander identities This volume has significance for scholars interested in Mediterranean archaeology as well as those interested more broadly in colonisation and abandonment

Greece and the Eastern Mediterranean in ancient history and prehistory Konrad H. Kinzl,2016-05-24 Keine ausführliche Beschreibung für Greece and the Eastern Mediterranean in ancient history and prehistory verfügbar Human Mobility and Technological Transfer in the Prehistoric Mediterranean Evangelia Kiriati,Carl Knappett,2016-12-24 The diverse forms of regional connectivity in the ancient world have recently become an important focus for those interested in the deep history of globalisation This volume represents a significant contribution to this new trend as it engages thematically with a wide range of connectivities in the later prehistory of the Mediterranean from the later Neolithic of northern Greece to the Levantine Iron Age and with diverse forms of materiality from pottery and metal to stone and glass With theoretical overviews from leading thinkers in prehistoric mobilities and commentaries from top specialists in neighbouring domains the volume integrates detailed case studies within a comparative framework The result is a thorough treatment of many of the key issues of regional interaction and technological diversity facing archaeologists working across diverse places and periods As this book presents key case studies for human and technological mobility across the eastern Mediterranean in later prehistory it will be of interest primarily to Mediterranean archaeologists though also to historians and anthropologists

A Companion to the Environmental History of Byzantium, 2024-03-04 How did humans and the environment impact each other in the medieval Eastern Mediterranean How did global climatic fluctuations affect the Byzantine Empire over the course of a millennium And how did the transmission of pathogens across long distances affect humans and animals during this period This book tackles these and other questions about the intersection of human and natural history in a systematic way Bringing together analyses of historical archaeological and natural scientific evidence specialists from across these fields have contributed to this volume to outline the new discipline of Byzantine environmental history Contributors are Johan Bakker Henriette Baron Chryssa Bourbou James Crow Michael J Decker Warren J Eastwood Dominik Fleitmann John Haldon Adam Izdebski Eva Kaptijn J rg Luterbacher Henry Maguire Mischa Meier Lee Mordechai Jeroen Poblome Johannes Preiser Kapeller Abigail Sargent Peter Talloen Costas Tsiamis Ralf Vandam Myrto Veikou Sam White and Elena Xoplaki

Sicily Before History Robert Leighton, 1999 Sicily is the largest island in the Mediterranean Sea one of the most varied in appearance and least insular in terms of cultural development It has often been described as a meeting place of cultures where East meets West

Space and Time in Mediterranean Prehistory Stella Souvatzi, Athena Hadji, 2013-10-15 Space and Time in Mediterranean Prehistory addresses these two concepts as interrelated rather than as separate categories and as a means for understanding past social relations at different scales The need for this volume was realised through four main observations the ever growing interest in space and spatiality across the social sciences the comparative theoretical and methodological neglect of time and temporality the lack in the existing literature of an explicit and balanced focus on both space and time and the large amount of new information coming from prehistoric Mediterranean It focuses on the active and interactive role of space and time in the production of any social environment drawing equally on contemporary theory and on case studies from Mediterranean prehistory Space and Time in Mediterranean Prehistory seeks to break down the space time continuum often assumed rather than inferred into space time units and to uncover the varying and variable interrelations of space and time in prehistoric societies across the Mediterranean The volume is a response to the dissatisfaction with traditional views of space and time in prehistory and revisits these concepts to develop a timely integrative conceptual and analytical framework for the study of space and time in archaeology

Encounters and Transformations Miriam Balmuth, Antonio Gilman, Lourdes Prados Torreira, 1997-04-01 Over the past twenty years archaeological research in Spain and Portugal has undergone profound changes in theoretical orientation changes that parallel the political and social transformations in those countries over the past generation These Proceedings of the First International Conference in America on Iberian Archaeology demonstrate the increasingly strong implantation of processualist approaches and their useful integration with historicist orientations Contributions ranging from the Neolithic to the Iron Age provide a representative sample of the current state of archaeological research in Iberia

Race and Practice in Archaeological Interpretation Charles E. Orser, Jr., 2013-04-19 Scholars who investigate race a label based upon real or perceived physical differences realize that they face a formidable task The concept has been contested and condoned debated and denied throughout modern history Presented with the full understanding of the complexity of the issue Race and Practice in Archaeological Interpretation concentrates on the archaeological analysis of race and how race is determined in the archaeological record Most archaeologists even those dealing with recent history have usually avoided the subject of race yet Charles E Orser Jr contends that its study and its implications are extremely important for the science of archaeology Drawing upon his considerable experience as an archaeologist and using a combination of practice theory as interpreted by Pierre Bourdieu and spatial theory as presented by Henri Lefebvre Orser argues for an explicit archaeology of race and its interpretation The author reviews past archaeological usages of race including a case study from early nineteenth century Ireland and explores the way race was used to form ideas about the Mound Builders the Celts and Atlantis He concludes with a proposal that historical archaeology cast as modern world archaeology should take the lead in the archaeological analysis of race because its purview is the recent past that period during which our conceptions of race developed

Islands of Inquiry Geoffrey Richard Clark, Sue O'Connor, Bryan Foss Leach, 2008-06-01 Many of the papers in this volume present new and innovative research into the processes of maritime colonisation processes that affect archaeological contexts from islands to continents Others shift focus from process to the archaeology of maritime places from the Bering to the Torres Straits providing highly detailed discussions of how living by and with the sea is woven into all elements of human life from subsistence to trade and to ritual Of equal importance are more abstract discussions of islands as natural places refashioned by human occupation either through the introduction of new organisms or new systems of production and consumption These transformation stories gain further texture and variety through close examinations of some of the more significant consequences of colonisation and migration particularly the creation of new cultural identities A final set of papers explores the ways in which the techniques of archaeological sciences have provided insights into the fauna of the islands and the human history of such places Provided by publisher

The Plain of Phaistos Harriet Blitzer, Despoina Hadzi-Vallianou, L. Vance Watrous, 2005-02-01 The Plain of Phaistos presents the results on an interdisciplinary regional field project 1984 1987 carried out on the island Of Crete This volume traces the changing patterns of settlement and cycles of social complexity from the Late Neolithic period to the present day within the heartland of the state of Phaistos The authors and contributors publish geological archaeological environmental botanical historical and ethnographic studies that establish the regional identity of the Western Mesara Using a combination of empirical processual and post processual theoretical approaches the volume investigates a central problem how and why did the Bronze Age and Classical states arise at Phaistos
