The President Speaks Off The Record:

Reporting from Washington Donald A. Ritchie, 2005-03-15 Beginning with 1932 when a newly elected FDR energized the sleepy capital Ritchie highlights the dramatic changes in journalism that have occurred in the last seven decades We meet legendary columnists and investigative reporters as well as the pioneers of radio television cable television and internet news We also learn about the efforts of female and black reporters to break into what had long been a bastion of white maleness the press corps From Walter Winchell to Matt Drudge the people who cover Washington politics are among the most colorful and influential in American news Reporting from Washington offers an unforgettable portrait of these figures as well as of the dramatic changes in American journalism in the twentieth century The Pulse of Politics James David Barber, 2017-09-29 Every four years journalists propel a presidential campaign into the national consciousness New candidates and issues become features of the political landscape while familiar rituals are reshaped by the unpredictability of personalities and events Underlying this apparent process of change however is a recurrent cycle of political themes and social attitudes a pulse of politics that locks the process of choosing a president into a predictable pattern In this bold and brilliant examination of modern presidential politics James David Barber reveals the dynamics of this cycle and shows how the pattern of drift and reaction may be broken in this most critical of political choices Barber probes beneath the surface of campaigns to detect a steady rhythm of major political motifs The theory he advances in colorful narrative chapters is that three dominant themes conflict conscience conciliation recur in foreseeable twelve year cycles A combative campaign Truman vs Dewey in 1948 is followed four years later by a moral crusade Eisenhower vs Stevenson in 1952 which in turn is succeeded by a contest to unify the nation the Eisenhower Stevenson rematch in 1956 The pattern is then renewed the fierce combat between Kennedy and Nixon in 1960 was followed in 1964 by the contest of principle between Johnson and Goldwater In 1968 Richard Nixon defeated Hubert Humphrey by promising to bring the nation together Monitoring shifting national political moods is a new elite the journalists Barber makes the case that the party system increasingly clumsy and inflexible can no longer pick up the beat of politics Instead it is through newspapers magazines and television that the main themes of a campaign are sounded created and destroyed This new edition of The Pulse of Politics provides a timely guide to the themes of the 1992 presidential campaign and to future elections It will be of special interest to political scientists historians media analysts and journalists

This Writing Game John Roberts Tunis, 1941 The Twenties in America Niall A. Palmer, 2006 The first full balanced account of the politics and history of the 1920s in America Sneaking Into the Flying Circus Alexandra Pelosi, 2005-06-01 Alexandra Pelosi creator of the Emmy award winning film Journeys with George and of Diary of a Political Tourist makes her literary debut with an intimate look at the frenzied and grueling underbelly of presidential campaigning and the puppet role of the media Pelosi went along on the campaign trail in order to as she puts it document the absurd hazing rituals that our presidential candidates have to go through With this savvy well connected and fearless guide it is a rollicking breakneck journey unlike any other Pelosi's one on one time with the 2004 presidential candidates affords an up close perspective on the highs and lows of campaign life the genuine thrill of seeing America the unrelenting grind of endless campaign stops the hope and heartache of poll results While the candidates try to stick to tightly constructed scripts Pelosi's nonnetwork angle makes for revealing portraits of the men who wanted to be president But even more Pelosi's approach reveals fundamental flaws in the media's election coverage A former member of the campaign press corps she turns her gimlet eye on the media which are busy enacting their own election time rituals Every election cycle journalists defy the theory of evolution living sequestered on a bus with no sleep few showers and tons of junk food going town to town listening to the same speech over and over You re stuck in this dysfunctional relationship between the news organization that has you there to do their bidding and the campaign that is trying to co opt you And herein lies Pelosi s driving point politicians and journalists don t trust each other and so in election coverage and in politics in general the press is utterly hamstrung Since the candidates never say anything unscripted and the journalists have to make nice in order to maintain access modern presidential campaigns have become little more than media events Politicians and journalists alike are going through the motions and the voters have no idea who the candidates really are But Pelosi says the public are not fools Everyone knows that the media do not give them an accurate portrait of a person No wonder people are apathetic But whose fault is it Are the candidates driving people away from the political process or are the media keeping them out Probing insightful and lively Sneaking into the Flying Circus exposes the election process for what it is a three ring gala production that comes to town every four years As a nation and an audience we re often willing to suspend disbelief and we often can t resist when the clowns try to get us in on the act It is after all the greatest show on earth
