Purkitt, Stephen F. Burgess, 2005-05-11 South Africa's Weapons of Mass Destruction offers an in depth view of the secret development and voluntary disarmament of South Africa's nuclear biological and chemical weapons program Project Coast Helen E Purkitt and Stephen F Burgess explore how systems used for nuclear biological and chemical weapons in South Africa were acquired and established beyond the gaze of international and domestic political actors On the basis of archival evidence from Project Coast and their own extensive interviews with military and political officials Purkitt and Burgess consider what motivates countries to acquire and build such powerful weaponry and examine when and how decisions are made to dismantle a military arsenal voluntarily Questions such as how to destroy weapons safely and keep them from reappearing on international markets are considered along with comparative strategies for successful disarmament in other nation states The Candidates of Cain William Thomas Stead, 1900 South Africa Into The 1980s Richard E Bissell, Chester A. Crocker, 2019-07-11 The question of South Africa's future has become a paramount issue in global politics This book examines the position of South Africa as it faces the 1980s its strengths its weaknesses and the probable influences of other states on South Africa in the years to come The authors share a common interest in an analytical approach to a topic often argued with more emotion than rationality They discuss South Africa's internal situation with particular emphasis on the interests and aspirations of the political parties competing for power then they focus on external realities looking at the country's ability to project influence abroad as well as the power of others to affect events within it. In sum they highlight crucial trends shaping South Africa's current and future development.

The Great War with Germany, 1890-1940 I. F. Clarke, 1997-05-01 In the second of a series of anthologies on future war stories the leading specialist in the field presents a selection of prophetic tales about the conflict to come between the British and the Germans tales which had immense influence in the quarter century before the First World War. An extensive range of contemporary illustrations is included.

Vigilance Papers, 1900 U.S. Business Involvement in Southern Africa United States. Congress. House Foreign Affairs, 1973 B.I. Barnato Harry Raymond, 1897 The Anti-British Crusade in South Africa Ex-official of the Transvaal, 1900 U.S. Business Involvement in Southern Africa United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on Africa, 1972 Total Onslaught Paul Moorcraft, 2018-08-30 The end of the Second World War may have heralded peace in Europe but conflicts in Southern Africa were about to begin. The imperial powers were weakened by the cost of war and a string of wars challenged colonial rule in countries such as Namibia, Angola and Rhodesia. Once independence was achieved civil wars between rival factions unfamiliar with democratic principles resulted. Liberation movements such as those in South Africa demanded self rule and end to Apartheid. Tribal feuds, corruption and the ambitions of dictators led to more conflicts such as the protracted fighting in the Congo. These were wars that ran on until both sides were exhausted, often only to be re-kindled after short periods of uneasy peace. The cost in human and material terms has been devastating and in too many cases remains so. Economic development has been frustrated and the result is often poverty, abuse and genocide. The Author who knows Southern Africa as a native is superbly equipped to tell this fascinating if tragic record.

The Democratic Moment Xolela Mangcu, 2009 The Democratic Moment is among other things a look at the mass forces that swept Jacob Zuma to power in South Africa in 2009 and put an end to the elite politics of the Thabo Mbeki era. Trenchant and provocative Xolela Mangcu looks at the new configuration of power in South Africa and in the process illuminates such topics as the new black elite with particular attention to institutions such as the political opposition, the courts and the media. This is a book that will stimulate ideas, provoke discussion, create controversy and help to understand where South Africa stands as a society and a nation.
