Social History and Issues in Human Consciousness Andrew E. Barnes, Peter N. Stearns, 1989-01-01 Social Histories and Issues in Human Consciousness Andrew Barnes, 1990-09-01 0 An Emotional History of the United States Peter N. Stearns, Jan Lewis, 1998 Emotions lie at our very core as human beings How we process and grapple with our emotions how and what we emote and how we respond to the emotions of others constitute the essence of our social universe In a very real sense we exist only through the prism of our emotions And yet the profound effect of human emotion on history politics religion and culture remains underexamined While the influence of emotion in such realms as American foreign policy has been well documented other emotional aspects of American history have escaped notice What role for instance does emotion have in the practice of African American religion How do shame and self hatred influence American conceptions of identity How does our emotional life change as we age To what degree is American consumerism driven by basic human emotion With this landmark anthology historians Peter N Stearns and Jan Lewis provide a road map of the American emotional landscape From the emotional world of working class Massachusetts to the prayers of evangelical and pentecostal women and the gendered nature of black rage these essays provide a multicultural snapshot of the unique nature and evolution of American emotions Power and the Self Jeannette Marie Mageo, 2002-01-24 Power and the Self first published in 2002 deals with an important but neglected topic the ways in which power is experienced by individuals both as agents and as objects of the exercise of power Each contributor presents a series of case studies drawn from a variety of cultural contexts including the analysis of the appeal of Japanese superhero toys for American children the conditions that lead to dehumanising treatment of patients in an American nursing home the experiences of a Turkish immigrant woman in the Netherlands a contribution relating theories about the capacity to commit genocidal violence to everyday forms of violence and other cases from New Guinea and Samoa The introduction provides a readable historical review and synthesis of the theoretical ideas that provide the context for the work presented in the book Motherhood, Childlessness and the Care of Children in Atlantic Slave Societies Camillia Cowling, Maria Helena Pereira Toledo Machado, Diana Paton, Emily West, 2020-05-21 This book provides critical perspectives on the multiple forms of mothering that took place in Atlantic slave societies Facing repeated child death mothering was a site of trauma and grief for many even as slaveholders romanticized enslaved women's work in caring for slaveholders children Examining a wide range of societies including medieval Spain Brazil and New England and including the work of historians based in Brazil Cuba the United States and Britain this collection breaks new ground in demonstrating the importance of mothering for the perpetuation of slavery and the complexity of the experience of motherhood in such circumstances This pathbreaking collection on all aspects of the experience politics and representations of motherhood under Atlantic slavery analyses societies across the Atlantic world and will be of interest to those studying the history of slavery as well as those studying mothering throughout history This book comprises two special issues originally published in Slavery Abolition and Women's History Review Heaven on Earth Richard Landes, 2011-08-04 Millennialists through the ages have looked forward to the apocalyptic moment that will radically transform society into heaven on earth. They have delivered withering critiques of their own civilizations and promised both the impending annihilation of the forces of evil and the advent of a perfect society. And all their promises have invariably failed. We tend therefore to dismiss these prophets of doom and salvation as crackpots and madmen and not surprisingly historians of our secular era have tended to underestimate their impact on our modern world. Now Richard Landes offers a lucid and ground breaking analysis of this widely misunderstood phenomenon. This long awaited study shows that many events typically regarded as secular including the French Revolution, Marxism, Bolshevism, Nazism not only contain key millennialist elements but follow the apocalyptic curve of enthusiastic launch, disappointment and often catastrophic re entry into normal time. Indeed as Landes examines the explicit millennialism behind such recent events as the emergence of Global Jihad since 1979 he challenges the common notion that modern history is largely driven by secular interests. By focusing on ten widely different case studies none of which come from Judaism or Christianity he shows that millennialism is not only a cultural universal but also an extremely adaptive social phenomenon that persists across the modern and post modern divides. At the same time he also offers valuable insight into the social and psychological factors that drive such beliefs. Ranging from ancient Egypt to modern day UFO cults and global Jihad, Heaven on Earth both delivers an eye opening revisionist argument for the significance of millennialism throughout history and alerts the reader to the alarming spread of these ideologies in our world today.

Raising Citizens in the 'Century of the Child' Dirk Schumann, 2010-09-01 The 20th century declared at its start to be the Century of the Child. By Swedish author Ellen Key saw an unprecedented expansion of state activity in and expert knowledge on child rearing on both sides of the Atlantic. Children were seen as a crucial national resource whose care could not be left to families alone. However the exact scope and degree of state intervention and expert influence as well as the rights and roles of mothers and fathers remained subjects of heated debates throughout the century. While there is a growing scholarly interest in the history of childhood research in the field remains focused on national narratives. This volume compares the impact of state intervention and expert influence on theories and practices of raising children in the U.S. and German Central Europe. In particular the contributors focus on institutions such as kindergartens and schools where the private and the public spheres intersected on notions of race and ethnicity, normality and deviance and on the impact of wars and changes in political regimes.
