Criminal and Social Justice Dee Cook, 2006-03-22 See Sample Chapters Resources to download the Introduction to Criminal and Social Justice Dee Cook's new book is important innovative and invigorating It brings together two spheres criminal justice and social justice which are usually but as she persuades us unjustifiably kept separate intellectually and in policy and practice Dee Cook makes a powerful case for the interconnectedness of penal policy and social policy bringing together concepts from the two spheres such as social exclusion citizenship and human rights Her innovative approach brings insightful theoretical analysis together with two extended case studies differential treatment of tax fraud and benefit fraud and the third way politics of New Labour This book will make it much more difficult for students policy makers and criminal justice practitioners to ignore the social context in which penal policy evolves and is implemented Professor Barbara Hudson University of Central Lancashire This is an accessible and lively critical account of the inter relationship between social and criminal justice in New Labour Britain It should engage students on a range of programmes particularly social policy criminology and sociology Ruth Lister Professor of Social Policy Loughborough University A cogent demonstration that criminal justice cannot be achieved in the absence of social justice

There is a blistering but thoroughly informed critique of New Labour's failure to narrow this justice gap. Let's hope the carefully reasoned but impassioned arguments about how to get really tough on the causes of crime and injustice get the attention they deserve. Robert Reiner, Professor of Criminology, London School of Economics and Political Science. Criminal and Social Justice provides an important insight into the relationship between social inequality, crime and criminalisation. In this accessible and innovative account, Dee Cook examines the nature of the relationship between criminal and social justice both in theory and in practice. Current social, economic, political and cultural considerations are brought to bear and contemporary examples are used throughout to help the student to consider this relationship. The book is essential reading for students and researchers in criminology, social policy, social work and sociology. It is also relevant to practitioners in statutory, voluntary and community sector organisations.

Home Ownership. Getting In, Getting From, Getting Out.

Part II J. Doling, M. Elsinga, 2006-06-29 Home ownership sectors in most European countries have grown in size. Whatever assets European households have acquired in recent decades, real estate appears to form a significant element in wealth portfolios. Frequently, national governments have been active in promoting the shift in tenure balance. The general question pursued in this book is about the gains and losses accruing to individual households by virtue of their position as home owners. The focus here is on financial gains and losses. It also concerns the losses in the form of repayment risk related to difficulties that some households may experience in meeting housing loan repayment schedules. The immediate background to this volume is the Conference Housing in Europe: New Challenges and Innovations in Tomorrow's Cities held in Reykjavik, Iceland. Hosted by the Urban Studies Institute of the University of Iceland and Centre for Housing and Property Research, Bifröst School of Business, it was held under the auspices of the European Network of Housing Researchers.
