

Practising Mental Health Social Work

A mental health social worker might:

- Commence with a biopsychosocial-spiritual assessment
- View the situation through a critical lens (i.e. power imbalances, institutional practices, structural causes of mental health issues, relevance of alternative approaches)
- Build a relationship with the person and, when relevant, with carers, family and other team members
- Promote social justice—promote people's rights to necessary treatment and support, and to have input into decisions that impact on them
- Educate the person and family about the illness and treatments; if necessary, provide communication and coping skills to empower the family to make their needs and wishes known.
- Ensure the lived experience of the person (and carer, family, and relevant others) is considered when making decisions about treatment.
- Emphasise the importance of, and incorporate the person's social environment into the recovery-oriented treatment plan
- Assist family members to deal with the short- and long-term problems that develop as consequences of the person's illness, or as consequences of treatment, disability, and family and community response
