

FAMILY (SOCIOLOGY)

DEFINITION

Family refers to a social group characterized by common residence, economic cooperation, and reproduction. It consists of individuals bound by kinship—either through blood, marriage, or adoption—who share a commitment to one another. The structure of a family unit can vary widely across cultures, time periods, and individual experiences.

COMMON TYPES

- Nuclear or conjugal (a wife, a husband, and their children)
- matrifocal (a mother and her children)
- patrifocal (a father and his children)
- extended families (parents, grandparents, children, aunts, uncles, and so on)

The Social Dynamics of Family Violence Angela Hattery, 2018-05-15 She died in September by the ugliest means weighing an unthinkable 18 pounds half what a 4 year old ought to She withered in poverty in a home in Brooklyn where the authorities said she had been drugged and often bound to a toddler bed by her mother having realized a bare thimble's worth of living Marchella weighed 1 pound 4 ounces when she was born prematurely on April 3 2006 A relative recalls thinking she was about the size of a one liter Pepsi bottle A twin sister born first died Her name was Miracle N R KLEINFELD AND MOSI SECRET A Bleak Life Cut Short at 4 Harrowing from the Start New York Times May 8 2011 This chapter will set the stage for an in depth theoretically framed discussion of various types of family violence including elder abuse intimate partner violence and child abuse In addition to defining key terms we will also discuss the concept of family violence itself which is perhaps surprisingly contested compare and contrast scholarly approaches to thinking about family violence and offer a reconceptualized model for considering family violence Objectives Provide the latest empirical data on a variety of types of family violence Define critical concepts and recognize key issues relevant to the study of family violence Identify and introduce the theoretical paradigms that have been employed to analyze and understand family violence 1 the family violence approach 2 the feminist approach and 3 the race class and gender RCG approach Illuminate the ways in which social structures and institutions such as the economy cultural norms religious ideologies and the military shape violence in families Illuminate the ways in which social statuses race social class gender age and sexuality shape patterns of violence in families Provide an honest discussion of the issues that families living with violence face

Sourcebook of Family Theories and Methods Pauline Boss, William J. Doherty, Ralph LaRossa, Walter R. Schumm, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, 2008-11-19 Origins We call this book on theoretical orientations and methodological strategies in family studies a sourcebook because it details the social and personal roots i.e. sources from which these orientations and strategies flow Thus an appropriate way to preface this book is to talk first of its roots its beginnings In the mid 1980s there emerged in some quarters the sense that it was time for family studies to take stock of itself A goal was thus set to write a book that like Janus would face both backward and forward a book that would give readers both a perspective on the past and a map for the future There were precedents for such a project The Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Harold Christensen and published in 1964 the two Contemporary Theories about the Family volumes edited by Wesley Burr Reuben Hill F Ivan Nye and Ira Reiss published in 1979 and the Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Marvin Sussman and Suzanne Steinmetz then in production Social Interaction Systems Robert Bales, 2017-09-08 Social Interaction Systems is the culmination of a half century of work in the field of social psychology by Robert Freed Bales a pioneer at the Department of Social Relations at Harvard University Led by Talcott Parsons Gordon W Allport Henry A Murray and Clyde M Kluckhohn the Harvard Project was intended to establish an integrative framework for social psychology one based on the interaction process augmented by value content analysis Bales sees this approach as a personal involvement that goes far beyond the classical experimental approach to the study of groups Bales developed SYMLOG which stands for systematic multiple level observation of groups The SYMLOG Consulting Group approach was worldwide as well as interactive It created a data bank that made possible a search for general laws of human interaction far beyond anything thus far known In his daring search for universal features Bales redefines the fundamental boundaries of the field and in so doing establishes criteria for the behavior and values of leaders and followers Bales offers a new field theory an appreciation of the multiple contexts in which people live Bales does not aim to eradicate differences but to understand them In this sense the values inherent in any interaction situation permit the psychologist to appreciate the sources of polarization as they actually exist between conservative and liberal individualistic and authoritarian libertarian and communitarian Bales repeatedly emphasizes that the mental processes of individuals and their social interactions take place in systematic contexts which can be measured Hence they permit explanation and prediction of behavior in a more exact way than in past traditions Bales has offered a pioneering work that has the potential to move us into a new theoretical epoch no less than a new century His work holds out the promise of synthesis and support for psychologists sociologists and all who work with groups and organizations of all kinds Educational Sociology for Beginners David Snedden, 1928 Family Socialization, Race, and Inequality in the United States Dawn P. Witherspoon, Susan M. McHale, Valarie King, 2023-11-06 This book examines the ways in which families can address racial and ethnic inequalities and racism and the impacts of these systems on health education and other family and family member outcomes It addresses the historical context of race and racism in the United States ethnic racial socialization in families of color and White parents attitudes and practices related to antiracist socialization Chapters describe structural racism debunk the myth of racial progress and explore the representation of race and racism in family research provide a historical account of ethnic racial socialization literature propose a model of ethnic racial socialization of Latinx families describe how racial socialization can be used therapeutically and address White normativity expand models of White racial socialization and learning and grapple with the complexities of antiracist socialization Finally the volume offers recommendations for the field of family research to meaningfully include race and racism as well as provides suggestions for translational work in this area related to policies programs and practice Featured areas of coverage include Ethnic and racial socialization among families of color White racial socialization and racial learning Antiracist socialization Opportunities for family research on race and racism to be used to enhance family policies and intervention programming Family Socialization Race and Inequality in the United States is a must have resource for researchers professors clinicians professionals and graduate students in developmental psychology family studies and sociology as well as interrelated disciplines including demography social work prevention science public health educational policy political science and economics
