The Politics of Social Transformation in Afghanistan, Iran, and Pakistan Myron Weiner, Ali Banuazizi, 1994-04 This volume comprises the work of some of the leading authorities in Southwest Asian and Middle Eastern studies concerning the state initiated interventions to restructure the socio political order in Afghanistan Iran and Pakistan Weiner and Banuazizi s detailed introduction describes the unprecedented changes that followed the collapse of the old regimes Each coup and the resistance movement that followed tore the already fragile political and economic infrastructure of each country and nearly destroyed the social fabric of the population But the common thread according to the editors was the crucial role Islam played as a unifying element in these diverse movements The editors show how such changes have reshaped each country s alliance with the others and how the political future of all three governments is more intertwined today than at any other time in modern history The contributors focus on the profound transformations of this region particularly since the Communist coup in Afghanistan and the Islamic revolution in Iran in the late 1970s Chapters include material on the social composition and the ideological orientations of the governing elite and counter elite the politics of economic redistribution and social equity and state policies affecting the social economic and political status of women This book should be of interest to students and scholars of Middle East studies comparative politics and anthropology

Islam, Gender, & Social Change Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad, John L. Esposito, 1998 The essays collected in this book place this issue in its historical context and offer case studies of Muslim societies from North Africa to Southeast Asia These fascinating studies shed light on the impact of the Islamic resurgence on gender issues in Iran Egypt Jordan Pakistan Oman Bahrain the Philippines and Kuwait Taken together the essays reveal the wide variety that exists among Muslim societies and believers and the complexity of the issues under consideration      Nation, Ethnicity and the Conflict in Afghanistan Raghav Sharma,2016-07-15 Ethnic and tribal loyalties in Afghanistan provided the lethal cocktail for the violent conflict that engulfed the country following the collapse of the Soviet backed government in 1992 The ensuing fighting between mujahideen groups paved the way for the tectonic social and political shifts which continue to shape events today What accounts for the emergence of ethnicity as the main cause of conflict in Afghanistan What moved people to respond with such fervour and intensity to calls for ethnic solidarity This book attempts to make sense of ethnicity s decisive role in Afghanistan through a comprehensive exploration of its nature and perception Based on new data generated through interviews field notes and participant observations Sharma maps the increased role of ethnicity in Afghan national politics Key social political and historical processes that facilitated its emergence as the pre dominant fault line of conflict are explored moving away from grand political and military narrative to instead engage with zones of conflict as social spaces This book will be of interest to students and scholars working in politics ethnic studies and security studies      The New Geopolitics of Central Asia and Its Borderlands Ali

Banuazizi,Myron Weiner,1994 This book focuses on the newly independent Muslim republics of the former Soviet Union in Central Asia especially Uzbekistan Tajikistan and Azerbaijan It examines the recent economic and political developments in these states with reference to the lingering legacy of Tsarist Russian and Soviet rule the resurgence of an Islamic political identity the persistence of ethnic allegiances and rivalries and the nascent democratic aspirations of their peoples

Reinventing Khomeini Daniel Brumberg,2001-04-15 Reinventing Khomeini offers a new interpretation of the political battles that paved the way for reform in Iran Brumberg argues that these conflicts did not result from a sudden ideological shift nor did the election of President Mohammad Khatami in 1997 really defy the core principles of the Islamic Revolution To the contrary the struggle for a more democratic Iran can be traced to the revolution itself and to the contradictory agendas of the revolution s founding father Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini A complex figure Khomeini was a fervent champion of Islam but while he sought a Shi ite vision of clerical rule under one Supreme Leader he also strove to mesh that vision with an implicitly Western view of mass participatory politics The intense magnetism and charisma of the ayatollah obscured this paradox But reformers in Iran today while rejecting his autocratic vision are reviving the constitutional notions of government that he considered and even casting themselves as the bearers of his legacy In Reinventing Khomeini Brumberg proves that the ayatollah is as much the author of modern Iran as he is the symbol of its fundamentalist past      Sectarian Inside Afghanistan Timor Sharan, 2022-09-28 This book maps out how political networks and centres of power engaged in patronage, corruption and illegality effectively constituted the Afghan state, often with the complicity of the U.S.-led military intervention and the internationally directed statebuilding project. It argues that politics and statehood in Afghanistan, in particular in the last two decades including the ultimate collapse of the government in August 2021, are best understood in terms of the dynamics of internal political networks through which warlords and patronage networks came to capture and control key sectors within the state and economy, including mining, banking and illicit drugs, as well as elections and political processes. Networked politics emerged as the dominant mode of governance that further transformed and consolidated Afghanistan into a networked state, with the state institutions and structures functioning as the principal marketplace for political networks, bargains and rent-seeking. The façade of state survival and fragmented political order was a performative act, and the book contends sustained through massive international military spending and development aid, obscuring the reality of resource redistribution among key networked elites and their supporters. Overall, the book offers a way to explain what it was that the international community and the Afghan elites in power got so wrong that brought Afghanistan full circle and the Taliban back to power.

Islamic Leviathan Seyyed Vali Reza Nasr, 2001-09-13 Islamization is commonly seen as the work of Islamist movements who have forced their ideology on ruling regimes and other hapless social actors. There is little doubt that ruling regimes and disparate social and political actors alike are pushed in the direction of Islamic politics by Islamist forces. However, Islamist activism and its revolutionary and utopian rhetoric only partly explain this trend. Here, Nasr argues that the state itself plays a key role in embedding Islam in the politics of Muslim countries. Focusing on Malaysia and Pakistan, Nasr argues that the turn to Islam is a facet of the state's drive to establish hegemony over society and expand its powers and control.

Iran Revisited Ali Pirzadeh, 2016-04-20 This book examines Modern Iran through an interdisciplinary analysis of its cultural norms history and institutional environment The goal is to underline strengths and weaknesses of Iranian society as a whole and to illustrate less prescriptive explanations for the way Iran is seen through a lens of persistent collective conduct rather than erratic historical occurrences Throughout its history Iran has been subject to many studies all of which have diagnosed the country s problem and prescribed solutions based on certain theoretical grounds This book intends to look inward seeking cultural explanations for Iran s perpetual inability to improve its society The theme in this book is based on the eloquent words of Nasir Khusrau a great Iranian poet az mast ki bar mast The words are from a poem describing a self adoring eagle that sees its life abruptly ended by an arrow winged with its own feathers the bird is doomed by its own vanity The closest interpretation of this idiom in Western Christian culture is you reap what you sow which conveys a similar message that underlines one s responsibility in the sense that sooner or later we must face the choices we make This would enable us to confront and live up to what Iran s history and culture have taught us
