The Portrait The Wind The Chair:

The Portrait, the Wind, the Chair Y. York, 1996 During the windstorm of the century ten year old Lucy and her fourteen year old sister Terroba find themselves marooned alone in Gramma's old house With the phones dead the electricity out and Mom nowhere in sight Lucy must deal with a chair with a mind of its own and a dead gramma who won't stay in her portrait Her night of imagination and adventure leaves Lucy with a new ability to face her fears and embrace the love that is all around her Commissioned and produced by the Seattle Children's Theatre this play focuses on everyday matters that many preteen children face Things like trying to get along with your older younger sibling even when they're driving you nuts Trying to be brave even when you don't feel brave Learning to accept the illness and death of a loved one And using fantasy as both an escape and a route to self discovery Back cover The Portrait the Wind the Chair Y. Herrmann's The Ghost and Mrs. Muir David Cooper, 2005-08-04 Regarded as one of the greatest film composers of all time Bernard Herrmann was responsible for some of the most memorable music in film His work with Alfred Hitchcock produced a slew of classics including Vertigo 1958 North by Northwest 1959 and Psycho 1960 Several years before collaborating with Hitchcock however Herrmann composed the brilliant score for The Ghost and Mrs Muir 1947 which remained a personal favorite of the composer s Herrmann s score reinforces the film s romantic theme and much of the music has an appropriately elegiac quality In mood orchestration and even to some extent thematic identity it seems to prefigure his music for Vertigo In this latest addition to the Scarecrow Film Score Guide series author David Cooper examines Herrmann s career in general as well as the specific elements that went into the creation of The Ghost and Mrs Muir s score Cooper traces the development of Herrmann s craft as a film composer especially through his radio work where he made contact with many of the great artists of the age most notably Orson Welles This association was to give him a passport to Hollywood and led to the scoring of his first film Citizen Kane Herrmann s subsequent film scores of the 1940s included The Devil and Daniel Webster The Magnificent Ambersons and Jane Eyre In this guide Cooper considers Herrmann s musical technique and offers a theorization of some of the ways in which music can be meaningful in film He also explores non musical contexts of the film including the screenplay s relationship to the popular novel from which it was adapted as well as the contribution of director Joseph L Mankiewicz the performances of Gene Tierney and Rex Harrison and the editing of Dorothy Spencer Cooper also provides a quantitative evidence based study of the score In doing so he discusses the extent to which Herrmann adopted screenwriter Philip Dunne s suggestions for music in The Builder, 1886 Meissonier Octave Gréard, 1897
