The Power of the Middle Class Joseph L. Grady,1992 Although most Americans define themselves as middle class Joseph Grady believes this body is actually losing potency rapidly Here Grady defines and traces the history of the middle class from the Depression through the 90s examining the factors which have led to its pending demise and urging a redefinition of American economic priorities Erin Go Braugh Books     The Power of the Middle Class Joseph L. Grady,1992-08     Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993     Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1992     Tales from School Rod Wills, Missy Morton, Margaret McLean, Maxine Stephenson, Roger Slee,2014-11-26 This is a book about the struggle of many New Zealand families to have their children with learning disabilities included in local community schools It reviews the influences in the post war period that shaped the state response to the right of all children to attend school Reflections from both education policy makers and parents of that time are included The book also examines the more recent impact of neoliberal politics on education policy and the consequences experienced by families with school aged children with disabilities who may well become collateral damage in the enterprise of improving schools After examining the families experience the book asks how inclusion can be fostered in schools and classrooms Practitioners and academics present research findings that indicate alternative ways of thinking and acting that attest to more ethical and humane responses to human difference Citizens school personnel politicians and policy makers should be challenged by the tales from school arising from attempts to achieve a world class inclusive education system Cover photograph by Rod Wills Oratia District School     The Imminent Collapse of America and of the Whole Western Civilization Angelo Bertolo,2012-09 In the 5000 years of the history that we know great empires grew and fell according to certain patterns that repeat themselves like laws of nature The USA rose and grew to prominence in the world reached its zenith in 1945 with the military victory and with the atom bomb but is not destined to stay there forever The book tries to draw the attention to the signs of decadence that match the patterns of the decadence of previous empires in history and the patterns of growth of progress in other cultural milieus very few pundits in America and in the western media in general seem to be aware of this fact The birth rates keep diminishing in America and are very low in Europe In other civilisations the birth rates have been high and those countries count more in the world today politically and economically than a few generations ago In addition the irrational and passionate attitude of those peoples including the aggressive suicidal attitude with religious and political connotations is a sign of progress for them Those people who are in favour of family planning programs and of a more relaxed morality are acting against the general interests of their countries     Marketing Death Cheris Shun-ching Chan,2012-03-22 How do companies sell life insurance in a country where death is a taboo subject In Marketing Death Cheris S C Chan explores both how and why the life insurance industry has managed to emerge in China a country with an entrenched cultural stigma against the very topic of death Drawing on extensive ethnographic fieldwork and engaging with current scholarship Chan explores the processes and micro politics by which foreign and domestic companies have negotiated local cultural resistance and created a market in spite of it In doing so she asks larger questions about how different societies view and value life and death what is meant by cultural values how they interact with a set of fragmented cultural tools to compellingly organize individuals practical daily lives and how the market is influenced by them Chan tells a story not just of the emergence of the Chinese life insurance industry but of the dynamic relationships between culture and markets local norms and foreign influences in one of the world s fastest growing economies Marketing Death is the first book to offer a sociological analysis of the emergence of a life insurance market outside of a European or American context Through in depth study of the expansion of an industry whose unique product gambling on one s own sudden death has always met with a measure of resistance but never more so than in China Chan provides a new lens for understanding how modern capitalist enterprises are diffused to regions with disparate cultural traditions
