highlights the marks that their working methods inevitably left in the text Detailing how intellectual innovation was generated Amsler's book also sheds new light on the content of the Talmud This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core new reading translation and interpretation including alternatives as well as detailed studies of some unique aspects The analysis is based on Rabbinical Jewish sources originating largely in the same historical era This results into a more reliable interpretation of the Copper Scroll which probably originates from the Priestly leaders of Jerusalem and contains a list of the hidden treasures of the Second Temple before its destruction by the Romans A Rhetorical Conversation Jordan D. Vass Jr,James Vass Jr,2003-05-13 This book is a study of UW men s basketball fans during the 2001 2002 season and explores their proclivity to cheering for self during basketball events The term basketball event is used rather than basketball game to make clear that everything connected to and seen heard or experienced before during and after a basketball game is included The actual game itself is only part of the basketball event An undercurrent runs throughout this participant observation mini ethnography dealing with access and the relative quality of that access to basketball events being affected by ones age class race and gender The prominent role of advertising in shaping basketball events and helping to construct fans as consumers of products both commercial and institutional during the process of cheering for self is central to this idea Cheering for self is the activity engaged in by individual fans after they find things to identify or connect with through personal investment Fans cheer for self indirectly Fans cheer for the team that they identify with Through the process of cheering for self while attending the basketball event people are taught how to become fans to consume a UW product the basketball event and to consume advertisers products People have a tendency to spend their entire life trying to impress others A Bride Without a Blessing David Brodsky,2006 David Brodsky uses form and source criticism to date Massekhet Kallah and the first two chapters of Kallah Rabbati which form a commentary on Massekhet Kallah to the mid amoraic period circa late third and early fifth centuries CE respectively and to locate their redaction in Babylonia This makes these two sources the only known rabbinic texts whose final redaction took place in Babylonia during the amoraic period and establishes them as the closest extant relatives of the Babylonian Talmud Parallels between these two sources and the Babylonian Talmud elucidate the nature of oral transmission and of the redactional processes of Babylonian rabbinic material during this critical period and thereby of the Babylonian Talmud itself In addition the author deciphers Massekhet Kallah's peculiar asceticism a concern with men's inappropriate use of or interactions with their wives charity vows and even with the group's own transmitted traditions Massekhet Kallah fears the physical and at times cosmic effects of such inappropriate behavior Brodsky finds that these items were all deemed consecrated removed from the realm of normal interaction To have mundane interaction with them was a powerful and dangerous act Brodsky explores the fascinating gender and theological implications of this unique asceticism
