Article

Mental Health of an individual is a dynamic process in which a person's physical, cognitive, affective, behavioral and social dimensions interact functionally with one another and the environment. One of the most important aims of education is to help the individual in making adjustment with the changing environment. Mental Health helps the person to adjust to the environment. It has much wider scope than physical health as it aims at the development of wholesome balanced and integrated personality. Mental Hygiene is a science and it deals with the process of attaining Mental Health and preserving Mental Health in the society. The phrase 'Mental Health' is closely related with the phrase Mental Hygiene as the main objective of Mental Hygiene is to attain Mental Health. In other words, Mental Hygiene is a means for Mental Health. That is why we can say that Mental Hygiene is the means and Mental Health is the end. This paper emphasizes on the principles of Mental Hygiene to improve the Mental Health.

Mental Health of a human being is a dynamic process in which a person's physical, cognitive, affective, behavioral and social dimensions interact functionally with one another and the environment. One of the most important aims of education is to help the individual in making adjustment with the changing environment. Mental Health helps the person to adjust to the environment. It stands for the health of the mind. This condition also provides an individual the capacity to be resilient to the stresses he meets and to respond to these challenges without having to compromise his wellbeing. This also makes him productive and fruitful for himself and his community. It is a state of emotional and psychological wellbeing in which an individual is able to use his or her cognitive and emotional capabilities function in society and meet the demands of everyday life.

Mental Health

It is a condition of psychological maturity. Mental Health is a condition of personal and social functioning with a maximum of effectiveness and satisfaction. A mentally healthy person is responsible, self-reliant and has a true sense of individuality. And he has a realistic life goal as well as philosophy of life and values. He is capable of differentiating between the right and the wrong things. A mentally healthy person possesses good physical health. He can keep good social relation too. He has a good insight into his actions that he does.

WHO (2001), "Mental Health is a state of well-being in which the individual realizes his or her own abilities, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to make a contribution to his or her community." The WHO stresses that Mental Health "is not just the absence of mental disorder."

J.A. Hadfield (1952), "Mental Health is the full and harmonious functioning of the whole personality".

Cutts and Moslay (1941) "Mental Health is the ability which helps us to seek adjustment in the difficult situations of our life".

K. A. Menninger (1949), "Let us define Mental Health as the adjustment of human beings to the world and each other with a maximum of effectiveness and happiness. It is the ability to maintain even temper, an alert intelligence, socially considerate behaviour and a happy disposition".

From the above definitions, it is concluded that Mental Health is the health of one's mind which can prove a potent determinant of one's integrated personality and balanced behavior identified on the basis of the level of his adjustment to his self, others and environment. The
