A History of British Publishing John Feather,2003-09-02 This comprehensive history first published in 1987 covers the whole period in which books have been printed in Britain Though Gutenberg had the edge over Caxton England quickly established itself in the forefront of the international book trade The slow process of copying manuscripts gave way to an increasingly sophisticated trade in the printed word which brought original literature translations broadsheets and chapbooks and even the Bible within the purview of an increasingly broad slice of society Powerful political forces continued to control the book trade for centuries before the principle of freedom of opinion was established In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the competition from pirated USA editions where there were no copyright laws provided a powerful threat to the trade This period also saw the rise of remaindering cheap literature and many other modern features of the trade The author surveys all these developments bringing his history up to the present age The Several Lives of Joseph Conrad John Stape,2011-06-22 Published to mark the 150th anniversary of his birth The Several Lives of Joseph Conrad is a brilliant and highly readable biography of a literary figure of world wide reputation Conrad s impact has been so profound and far reaching that eighty years after his death he remains an essential cultural reference point Such phrases as heart of darkness and The horror The horror have entered the language often cited without an awareness of their original contexts His popular legacy extends to Latin American fiction to the spy novel to the terrorist and anarchist character and to film The writers he has influenced range from T S Eliot to William Faulkner to V S Naipaul and John Le Carr For a writer of difficult fiction he has enjoyed a remarkably wide impact yet as Marlow proclaims in Lord Jim of the figure whose story he tells he was one of us and so Conrad remains in fascinating ways Stape s biography an intimate portrait including previously unpublished photographs offers a Conrad for our times a man with a deep sense of otherness of multiple cultural identities and writing in his third language a working writer whose novels and stories are a cornerstone of literary modernism and indeed of modernity itself The Ideal Book William Morris,2023-12-22 British Librarianship and Information Work 1976-1980 L. J. Taylor,1982 The Industrial Archaeology and Industrial History of London ,1988 A Bibliography of the History of Printing in the Library of Congress ,1987 The Industrial Archaeology and Industrial History of South-eastern England ,1990 American Notes & Queries ,1975 A Bibliography of British Business Histories Francis Goodall,1987 Annual Bibliography of British and Irish History ,1976 British Literary Bibliography, 1970-1979 Trevor Howard Howard-Hill,1992 British Literary Bibliography 1970 1979 is a ten year supplement to the six volumes already published in the prestigious series Index to British Literary Bibliography and is fully indexed for consistency with earlier volumes The series provides a comprehensive record of the writings that describe and study the history of the printed book in Britain and works of bibliography and textual criticism from the earliest times The period covered by the present volume was bibliographically very active witnessing a great renewal of interest in the history of the book The volume has seven main sections General Bibliographies of and Guides to British Literature Bibliography and Textual Criticism General and Period Bibliography Regional Bibliography Book Production and Distribution Forms Genres and Subjects and Authors Complete information about each book or journal article is provided in standard form and in many instances objective annotations are given affording additional access to the items through a very detailed index Index to British Literary Bibliography: British literary bibliography, 1970-1979, a bibliography Trevor Howard Howard-Hill,1992 Selected Additions to the Library School Library Collection University of California, Berkeley.
