The Prison House Of Language:

The Prison-house of Language Fredric Jameson, 1974 Fredric Jameson's survey of Structuralism and Russian Formalism is at the same time a critique of their basic methodology. He lays bare the presuppositions of the two movements, clarifying the relationship between the synchronic methods of Saussurean linguistics and the realities of time and history.

The prison-house of language, 1972 Technique, Discourse, and Consciousness David Lovekin, 2022-05-19 This study examines the French thinker Jacques Ellul, 1912-1994 and his historical, biblical, and social analyses of how technology manipulates and impoverishes modern thought, culture, and language. In the spirit of Georg Hegel and Ernst Cassirer, Ellul explores how technology begins in myths, stories, and religion, advances to tools, and then develops into data, algorithms, and abstract systems which are detached from human bodies and communities. Efficiency then becomes an absolute in all areas of human life, and the mentality of technique becomes lost in its creations. These modern symbols, posing as ultimate human goods and values, are denigrated by technique, leaving humanity awash in clichés in groundless social media and in blathering slogans that sustain the illusion that politics and culture have now become The Prison-house of Language: a Critical Account of Structuralism and Russian Formalism Fredric Jameson, 1972 Sublime Historical Experience F. R.

Ankersmit, 2005 Why are we interested in history at all? Why do we feel the need to distinguish between past and present? This book investigates how the notion of sublime historical experience complicates and challenges existing conceptions of language, truth, and knowledge. Feminist Literary Studies K. K. Ruthven, 1990-09-13 K. K. Ruthven looks at the impact of Marxism, structuralism, and post-structuralism on feminist critical practice. Nabokov's Invitation to a Beheading Julian W. Connolly, 1997 In an unnamed dream country, Cincinnatus C is condemned to death by beheading for gnostical turpitude, an imaginary crime that defies definition. After spending his last days in jail, he simply wills his executioners out of existence.

Poiesis and Possible Worlds Thomas L. Martin, 2004-01-01 Martin argues that literary studies remain mired in the anomalies of a linguistic methodology derived from early 20th-century language philosophy, a view challenged not only by theoretical physics but also by compelling advances in philosophic semantics. Word and World Patricia Hanna, Bernard Harrison, 2004 This important book proposes a new account of the nature of language founded upon an original interpretation of Wittgenstein. The authors deny the existence of a direct referential relationship between words and things. Rather, the link between language and world is a two-stage one: in which meaning is used and in which a natural language should be understood as fundamentally a collection of socially devised and maintained practices. Arguing against the philosophical mainstream descending from Frege and Russell to Quine, Davidson, Dummett, McDowell, Evans, Putnam, Kripke, and others, the authors demonstrate that discarding the notion of reference does not entail relativism or semantic nihilism. A provocative re-examination of the interrelations of language and social practice, this book will interest not only philosophers of language but also linguists, psycholinguists, students of communication, and all those concerned with the nature and acquisition of human linguistic capacities Narrative Knowing and the Human Sciences Donald Polkinghorne,1988-01-01

Titel oversat Narrativ viden og de humane videnskaber Body and Story Richard Terdiman,2006-12-01 In Body and Story Richard Terdiman explores the tension between what might seem to be two fundamentally different ways of understanding the world as physical reality and as representation in language In demonstrating the complicated relationship between these two modes of being he also presents a new bold approach to the problem of conflicts between irreconcilable but equally compelling theoretical ideas Enlightenment rationalism is most often understood as maintaining that words can meaningfully refer to and grasp things in the material world while Postmodernism famously argues that nothing exists outside of language Terdiman challenges this clean distinction finding the early seeds of Postmodern doubt in the Enlightenment and demonstrating the stubborn resistance of material reality particularly that of the body to language even today Building on readings of works by 18th century encyclopedist Denis Diderot and contemporary philosopher icon Jacques Derrida Terdiman argues that despite their genuine and profound opposition a constant negotiation or mutual interrogation has always been taking place between these two world views even as the balance at times shifts to one side or the other In analyzing these shifts he proposes a new model for understanding how seemingly unabridgeable theories legitimately coexist in our intellectual conception of the world and he suggests a new ethics for managing this coexistence The Book of Absolutes William D. Gairdner,2008-08-21 A lively challenge to postmodern opinion that reveals satisfying and reliable certainties

Maoist phenomenon unexpectedly sparked a democratic political sea change in France

Loosen the Fetters of Thy Tongue, Woman Zafira L. Cohen, 2003-09-03 Maverick Israeli poet Yona Wallach 1944 1985 is often remembered for her outrageous and unconventional personality and the controversies engendered by her sometimes shamelessly erotic verse But she is regarded by many of her friends and colleagues as the most important among the Israeli poets of her generation perhaps even the greatest Hebrew poet of modern times and has had a profound effect on Israel s cultural life ever since her works began to appear in periodicals in the early 1960s Zafira Lidovsky Cohen presents the first full length critical analysis in English of her works exposing the roots of her poetry in the poetic revolution in Israel during the 1950s and explain how she epitomizes the literary climate of her time Wallach s poetry reflects the cultural crises that shook the academic world of the 1960s and the intellectual battles many artists fought with the prison house of semiotic systems in which the human mind they felt was entrapped Mysticism religion and prophecy passion genius sex and madness are only some of the terms associated with this woman and her poetic art which one critic has called a unique combination of elements of rock and roll Jungian psychology and street slang break neck pace and insistent sexuality Cohen paints a background for Yona Wallach s poetry by outlining her short life and surveying her critical reputation Drawing on her own rich and varied background in Bible mythology Hebrew language and Poststructuralist and Postmodernist literary and linguistic theory Cohen traces Wallach s poetic corpus translates and interprets representative examples of her works and situates them within a variety of historical and literary contexts

The Ethics of Criticism Tobin Siebers, 2018-03-15 Tobin Siebers asserts that literary criticism is essentially a form of ethics The Ethics of Criticism investigates the moral character of contemporary literary theory assessing a wide range of theoretical approaches in terms of both the ethical presuppositions underlying the critical claims and the attitudes fostered by the approaches Building on analyses of the moral legacies of Plato Kant Nietzsche and Freud Siebers identifies the various fronts on which the concerns of critical theory impinge on those of ethics

The Nature and Rationale of Zen/Chan and Enlightenment Ming Dong Gu, 2023-07-14 This book initiates a paradigm shift away from Zen Chan as quintessentially Buddhist and examines what makes Chan thought and practice unique and original through an interdisciplinary investigation of the nature and rationale of Chan and its enlightenment. Exploring how enlightenment is achieved through Chan practice and how this differs from other forms of Buddhism, the book offers an entirely new view of Chan that embraces historical scholarship, philosophical inquiry, textual analysis, psychological studies, Chan practice, and neuroscientific research, and locates the core of Chan in its founder Huineng's theory of no thinking, which creatively integrates the Taoist ideas of zuowang, forgetting in seated meditation, and xinzhai, fast of heart, with his personal experiences of enlightenment. It concludes that Chan is the crystallization of an innovative synthesis of Buddhism, Daoism, and Confucianism, as well as other resources of somatic and spiritual cultivation, and that enlightenment is a momentary return to the mental state of a baby before birth. This book will appeal to students and scholars of religion, philosophy, and neuroscience. It will also offer new insights to thinkers, writers, artists, therapists, and neuroscientists, as well as those practicing Zen, Mindfulness, and psychotherapy.
