The novels under study are Red Harvest by Dashiell Hammett The Postman Always Rings Twice by James M Cain They Shoot Horses Don t They by Horace McCoy and To Have and Have Not by Ernest Hemingway In this first full length study of gender in hard boiled fiction the genre is discussed as a representation of the ideologies of masculinity and individualism Hard boiled fiction is located in its historical and cultural context and it is argued that the genre with its explicit emphasis on masculinity and masculine virtues attempts to reaffirm a masculine order The study argues that this emphasis is a counter reaction to more general changes in the gender relations of the period Indeed hard boiled fiction is argued to be an attempt to reconstruct a masculine identity based on anti modern values generally accepted in the cultural context of the genre Early Film Noir William Hare, 2010-07-27 The name is French and it has connections to German expressionist cinema but film noir was inspired by the American Raymond Chandler whose prose was marked by the gripping realism of seedy hotels dimly lit bars main streets country clubs mansions cul de sac apartments corporate boardrooms and flop houses of America Chandler and the other writers and directors including James M Cain Dashiell Hammett Jane Greer Ken Annakin Rouben Mamoulian and Mike Mazurki who were primarily responsible for the creation of the film noir genre and its common plots and themes are the main focus of this work It correlates the rise of film noir with the new appetites of the American public after World War II and explains how it was developed by smaller studios and filmmakers as a result of the emphasis on quality within a deliberately restricted element of cities at night The author also discusses how RKO capitalized on films such as Murder My Sweet and Out of the Past two of film noir s most famous titles and film noir s connection to British noir and the great international triumph of Sir Carol Reed in The Third Man Criminality and the Modern Stephen Brauer, 2022-01-28 The emergence of the social sciences established in the mid to late nineteenth century had a substantial bearing on how researchers academics and eventually the general public thought about criminal behavior Using Modernism as a lens Stephen Brauer examines how these disciplines shaped Americans understanding of criminality in the twentieth century and how it provides a new way to think about culture social norms and ultimately laws In theory laws act as articulations and codifications of a community s beliefs values and principles By breaking laws criminals help us reinforce social norms by providing the opportunity to affirm what is believed to be right By operating outside the bounds of acceptable behavior the criminal serves as a useful figure to understand what is at stake in the culture what the central issues of that culture might be and what the fears and anxieties are Criminality serves as a lens through which we can read ourselves and how the criminal operates as a cultural figure signifies the things we are negotiating in our lives and in our communities Brauer focuses on two main concepts central to the very concept of Modernism to explore criminality contingency the idea that the individual might not be in control of their own deviance and agency the notion that the criminal makes a conscious choice to use crime as a means of economic success The figure of the criminal is a powerful one and is key to exploring American twentieth century culture This book would be of interest to students and scholars in criminology sociology cultural studies literary studies history and many others Cain's Craft David Madden, 1985 Analyzes the master of the hard boiled novel The Suspense Thriller Charles Derry, 2010-06-21 This book is a comprehensive study of one of the most popular genres in the cinema From a perspective sympathetic to popular culture this study analyzes a large number of primarily American and European films by a variety of distinguished directors including Alfred Hitchcock Claude Chabrol John Frankenheimer Michelangelo Antonioni and Costa Gavras Indispensable to anyone interested in understanding how suspense thrillers work and what they mean this book provides insightful analysis of hundreds of memorable films while at the same time working as a virtual how to manual for anyone trying to write a Hitchcock like thriller The first section of the book is primarily theoretical It offers a bibliographical survey and then explains why we so profoundly enjoy these suspenseful films of murder and intrigue A chapter on Thrills or How Objects and Empty Spaces Compete to Threaten Us explores the psychological concept of the thrill and relates it to the psyche of the spectator To what extent does the suspense thriller represent a symbolic and vicarious experience of danger A chapter on Suspense That Makes the Spectator Take a Breath explores the crucial narrative concept of suspense and relates it to the psychological mechanisms of anxiety incited in the spectator Why do we like to be scared A final theoretical chapter offers a dynamic definition of the suspense thriller derived in part from Edgar Allan Poe and based primarily on content analysis The second section of the book is more of an historical survey and devotes one chapter to each of the suspense thriller's primary sub genres These chapters provide close readings of more than 150 major films and detailed analysis of the suspense thriller's conventions themes and recurrent iconography Sub genres include The Postman Always Rings Twice Body Heat The Manchurian Candidate The China Syndrome Missing The Passenger Spellbound Obsession Marathon Man and Blue Velvet A final chapter explores areas for further research and offers concluding insights The Postman Always Rings Twice James M.
