American Globalization, 1492-1850 Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla, Ilaria Berti, Omar Svriz-Wucherer, 2021-06-28 Following a study on the world flows of American products during early globalization here the authors examine the reverse process By analyzing the imperial political economy the introduction adaptation and rejection of new food products in America as well as of other European Asian and African goods American Globalization 1492 1850 addresses the history of consumerism and material culture in the New World while also considering the perspective of the history of ecological globalization This book shows how these changes triggered the formation of mixed imagined communities as well as of local and regional markets that gradually became part of a global economy But it also highlights how these forces produced a multifaceted landscape full of contrasts and recognizes the plurality of the actors involved in cultural transfers in which trade persuasion and violence were entwined The result is a model of the rise of consumerism that is very different from the ones normally used to understand the European cases as well as a more nuanced vision of the effects of ecological imperialism which was moreover the base for the development of unsustainable capitalism still present today in Latin America Chapters 1 3 4 7 8 11 and 13 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> Journal Bath and West and Southern Counties
