The Power Of The People Active Nonviolence In The United States:

The Power of the People Robert Cooney, Helen Michalowski, 1977 For the first time active nonviolence in the United States is recorded in a chronological and detailed visual history THE POWER OF THE PEOPLE brings to life the hopes frustrations and actions of the known and unknown people of this nation who have dedicated their lives to working for justice and peace throughout the world The Power of the People ,1975 The Power of the People Marty Jezer, 1987 An Energy Field More Intense Than War Michael True, 1995-11-01 American history abounds with a rich tradition of literature dealing with nonviolence In a work that spans from the seventeenth century to the present Michael True brings to light the strong but long neglected strain in American culture nonviolence as an active response to conflicts and divisiveness In identifying writings about action for social change he distinguishes literary works from peace advocacy and nonviolence and relates them to broad currents of United States history The Quakers of the 1680s and abolitionists of the 1850s the sanctuary Movement and Plowshares of the 1980s novelists from Nathaniel Hawthorne to Norman Mailer and poets from Walt Whitman to Denise Levertov all have written powerful works on nonviolent action Through this literature the author explores the beauty of an important theme in American literature At a time when people face widespread injustice True reminds us that nonviolence holds a significant place in our country s history Ambassadors of Reconciliation: New Testament reflections on restorative justice and peacemaking Ched Myers, Elaine Enns, 2009 Both Ched Myers and Elaine Enns work for Bartimaeus Ministries in California Myers the author of Binding the Strong Man and Who Will Roll Away the Stone focuses on building biblical literary church renewal and faith based witness for justice Enns has worked for twenty years in the field of restorative justice and conflict transformation Book jacket Crossing the Line Rosalie G. Riegler, 2013-01-01 Of course let us have peace we cry but at the same time let us have normalcy let us lose nothing let our lives stand intact let us know neither prison nor ill repute nor disruption of ties There is no peace because there are no peacemakers There are no makers of peace because the making of peace is at least as costly as the making of war at least as exigent at least as disruptive at least as liable to bring disgrace and prison and death in its wake Daniel Berrigan No Bars to Manhood More than sixty five peacemakers have contributed oral narratives to this compelling history of those who say no to war making in the strongest way possible by engaging in civil disobedience and paying the consequences in jail or prison Crossing the Line gives voice to often neglected social history and provides provocative stories of actions trials and imprisonment This fascinating volume serves as an excellent supplement to conventional histories Almost all the storytellers here are people of faith or are inspired by those who live by faith Many work at conventional careers some do full time peacemaking by living in Catholic Worker houses or in the Jonah House community several are priests and nuns who minister worldwide Also featured are three resisters prominent in War Resisters League history From World War II conscientious objectors to contemporary activists these narrators have refused to be helpless in the face of a violent world and have said
