The Prairie Builder David R. Murray, Robert A. Murray, 1984 Saskatchewan Premiers of the Twentieth Century Gordon L. Barnhart, 2004 From the optimism associated with provincial status in 1905 through the trials of Depression and war the boom times of the post war period and the economic vagaries of the 1980s and 1990s the twentieth century was a time of growth and hardship development challenge and change for Saskatchewan and its people And during the century twelve men from a variety of political parties and from very different backgrounds led the government of this province The names of some like T C Douglas and Roy Romanow are still household names while others like Charles Dunning and William Patterson have been all but forgotten Yet each in his unique way for better or for worse helped to mould and steer the destiny of the province he governed These are their stories Cultures, Communities, and Conflict Euthalia Lisa Panayotidis, Paul James Stortz, 2012-01-01 Contributing to the social intellectual and academic history of universities the collection provides rich approaches to integral issues at the intersection of higher education and wartime including academic freedom gender peace and activism on campus and the challenges of ethnic diversity The contributors place the historical university in several contexts not the least of which is the university's substantial power to construct and transform intellectual discourse and promote efforts for change both on and off campus No Ordinary Academics Shirley Spafford, 2000-01-01 Describes the circumstances and people that turned a department in an isolated prairie university into a thriving intellectual community that would nurture some of Canada's best minds Essays in the History of Canadian Law: In honour of R.C.B. that originated south of the border He argues that as a consequence Saskatchewan education developed in resistance to eastern Canadian forms with education policy makers some brought in from the United States consciously looking to their southern neighbours for direction in developing educational models Alcorn's detailed portrait of University of Saskatchewan president Walter C Murray and his Wisconsin Idea further highlight the influence of the north-south axis A challenge to standard histories of Canadian education Border Crossings encapsulates the development of the meaning practice and language of Saskatchewan education in the early twentieth century
