Ideology and Foreign Policy in Early Modern Europe (1650-1750) Gijs Rommelse, 2016-05-13 The years 1650 to 1750 sandwiched between an age of wars of religion and an age of revolutionary wars have often been characterized as a de ideologized period However the essays in this collection contend that this is a mistaken assumption For whilst international relations during this time may lack the obvious polarization between Catholic and Protestant visible in the proceeding hundred years or the highly charged contest between monarchies and republics of the late eighteenth century it is forcibly argued that ideology had a fundamental part to play in this crucial transformative stage of European history Many early modernists have paid little attention to international relations theory often taking a Realist approach that emphasizes the anarchism materialism and power political nature of international relations In contrast this volume provides alternative perspectives viewing international relations as socially constructed and influenced by ideas ideology and identities Building on such theoretical developments allows international relations after 1648 to be fundamentally reconsidered by putting political and economic ideology firmly back into the picture By engaging with and building upon recent theoretical developments this collection treads new terrain Not only does it integrate cultural history with high politics and foreign policy it also engages directly with themes discussed by political scientists and international relations theorists As such it offers a fresh and genuinely interdisciplinary approach to this complex and fundamental period in Europe s development Early Modern Europe, 1450-1789 Merry E.

James A. Dator,John A. Sweeney,Aubrey M. Yee,2014-09-09 Mutative Media is a sweeping examination of how communication technologies have contributed to changes in people s thoughts and actions and thus in the power structures of societies in the past at present and in four alternative futures We start by surveying what is generally known about the emergence of human language and speech that has enabled humans to extend their organizing abilities beyond that of other hominids We then review research on the emergence of signs symbols and eventually writing which led to new ways of thinking acting and organizing in scribal societies and vastly extended human influence globally We consider the impact of the printing press in Europe the Middle East China and Korea that led to various ways of thinking and organizing in modern societies and conclude our historical survey with a discussion of the emergence and impact of electric and electronic communication technologies from the nineteenth century to the present After a brief overview of what futures studies is and is not based on our extensive experience in the field we present four generic alternative futures and discuss a prototype of a hybrid mixed reality game designed to enable players to experience the power and potential of new communication technologies within four very different environments and conditions We think you will be intrigued by our surprising findings and what they may mean for future generations Read All About It! Kevin Williams,2009-09-16 This Text book traces the evolution of the newspaper documenting its changing form style and content as well as identifying the different roles ascribed to it by audiences government and other social institutions Starting with the early 17th century when the first prototype newspapers emerged through Dr Johnson the growth of the radical press in the early 19th century the Lord Northcliffe revolution in the early 20th century the newspapers wars of the 1930s and the rise of the tabloid in the 1970s right up to Rupert Murdoch and the online revolution the book explores the impact of the newspapers on our lives and its role in British society Using lively and entertaining examples Kevin Williams illustrates the changing form of the newspaper in its social political economic and cultural context As well as telling the story of the newspaper he explores key topics in detail making this an ideal text for students of journalism and the British newspaper Issues include newspapers and social change the changing face of regional newspapers the impact of new technology development of reporting techniques forms of press regulation Body and Identity Angela Franks,2025-08-15 Angela Franks provides a sweeping intellectual history of identity particularly in terms of how identity relates to the body with an emphasis on the importance of Christianity to this understanding Modern questions about our bodies and how we see ourselves are often complex and problematic To better answer these contemporary questions and navigate identity politics Angela Franks seeks to provide a better understanding of identity She begins by giving three basic meanings of the term identity through time the true or authentic self and our awareness of ourselves She engages with thinkers from antiquity to present day and investigates the decisive developments that Christianity provided Within Christianity came a new awareness of the distinctive individuality of each person the true self called by God in a way that often breaks away from the solid or fixed structures of identity formation such as family class and nation This more liquid idea of identity continues to evolve in modern times though without its theistic emphasis on God s call The result is a purely liquid self that consists of consciousness and activity but without a grounded self that is either the object or the subject of consciousness This is the empty self we have today one that is given much more to do and less to be A comprehensive history of identity Body and Identity brings the theological history of the self to the forefront in order to address the empty self and how identity is defined today A Short History of the Renaissance in Northern Europe

Malcolm Vale,2020-04-02 The concept of a Northern European Renaissance in the arts in thought and in more general culture north of the Alps often evokes the idea of a cultural transplant which was not indigenous to or rooted in the society from which it emerged Classic definitions of the European Renaissance during the 14th 15th and 16th centuries have often seen it as an Italian import of for example humanism and classical learning into the Gothic North There were certainly differences between North and South which have to be addressed not least in the development of the visual arts In this book Malcolm Vale argues for a Northern Renaissance which while cognisant of Italian developments had a life of its own expressed through such innovations as a rediscovery of pictorial space and representational realism and which displayed strong continuities with the indigenous cultures of northern Europe But it also contributed new movements and tendencies in thought the visual arts literature religious beliefs and the dissemination of knowledge which often stemmed from and built upon those continuities A Short History of the Renaissance in Northern Europe while in no way ignoring or diminishing the importance of the Greek and Roman legacy seeks other sources and different uses of classical antiquity for a rather different kind of Renaissance in the North The Nature of the Book Adrian Johns,2009-05-15 In The Nature of the Book a tour de force of cultural history Adrian Johns constructs an entirely original and vivid picture of print culture and its many arenas commercial intellectual political and individual A compelling exposition of how authors printers booksellers and readers competed for power over the printed page The richness of Mr Johns s book lies in the splendid detail he has collected to describe the world of books in the first two centuries after the printing press arrived in England Alberto Manguel Washington Times A mammoth and stimulating account of the place of print in the history of knowledge Johns has written a tremendously learned primer D Graham Burnett New Republic A detailed engrossing and genuinely eye opening account of the formative stages of the print culture This is scholarship at its best Merle Rubin Christian Science Monitor The most lucid and persuasive account of the new kind of knowledge produced by print A work to rank alongside McLuhan John Sutherland The Independent Entertainingly written The most comprehensive account available well documented and engaging Ian Maclean Times Literary Supplement Tibetan Printing: Comparison, Continuities, and Change ,2016-05-30 In Tibetan Printing Comparisons Continuities and Change the editors publish the results of the workshop Printing as an Agent of Change in Tibet and beyond held at Pembroke College Cambridge in November 2013 This is the first study of the social and cultural history of Tibetan book technology that takes materials living traditions and cross cultural comparisons into consideration Bringing together leading experts from different disciplines it discusses the introduction of printing in Tibetan societies in the context of Asian book cultures with an eye to the questions raised by the study of the European history of printing This title is available online in its entirety in Open Access Contributors are Tim Barrett Alessandro Boesi Peter Burke Michela Clemente Hildegard Diemberger Dorje Gyeltsen Franz Karl Ehrhard Helmut Eimer Johan Elverskog Camillo Formigatti Imre Galambos Agnieszka Helman Wazny Tomasz Wazny Sherab Sangpo Kawa Peter Kornicki Leonard van der
