Spelling Trouble? Sally A. Johnson, 2005-01-01 In this book Sally Johnson explores the linguistic cultural and political issues underpinning the constitutional challenge brought by various individuals and groups against the reform Drawing on sociolinguistic theories of language ideology Johnson critically analyses the conflicting views of language that were produced reproduced and challenged in the course of this dispute At the same time her book attempts to situate those ideologies together with the dispute as a whole within the wider historical context of state involvement in the standardisation of German orthography from the mid 19th century onwards Spelling Trouble will be of interest to speakers and students of German as well as sociolinguists studying language politics language planning and language ideology BOOK JACKET

Linguistic Authority, Language Ideology, and Metaphor Neil Bermel, 2008-08-22 How does a country find itself at war over spelling This book focuses on a crucial juncture in the post communist history of the Czech Republic when an orthographic commission with a moderate reformist agenda found itself the focus of enormous public controversy Delving back into history Bermel explores the Czech nation's long tradition of intervention and its association with the purity of the language and how in the twentieth century an ascendant linguistic school Prague Functionalism developed into a progressive but centralizing ideology whose power base was inextricably linked to the communist regime Bermel looks closely at the reforms of the 1990s and the heated public reaction to them On the part of language regulators he examines the ideology that underlay the reforms and the tactics employed on all sides to gain linguistic authority while in dissecting the public reaction he looks both at conscious arguments marshaled in favor of and against reform and at the use conscious and subconscious of metaphors about language Of interest to faculty and students working in the area of language cultural studies and history especially that of transitional and post communist states this volume is also relevant for those with a more general interest in language planning and language reform The book is awarded with the The George Blazysca Prize in East European Studies 2008

Developing Orthographies for Unwritten Languages Michael Cahill, Karen Rice, 2017-05-26 While investigating endangered languages many researchers become interested in developing literacy for these languages However often their linguistic training has not provided practical guidance in this area This book with contributions by experienced practitioners helps fill this gap Both foundational theory and specific case studies are addressed in this work Non linguistic factors are described particularly sociolinguistic issues that determine acceptability of orthographies A principled approach to the level of phonological representation for orthographies is proposed applying recent phonological theory The thorny issues of how to determine word breaks and how to mark tone in an orthography are explored Overly hasty

orthographies and the benefits of allowing time for an orthography to settle are discussed Principles of the foundational chapters are further exemplified by detailed case studies from Mexico Peru California Nepal and Southeast Asia which vividly illustrate the variety of local conditions that must be taken into account The combination of theoretical and practical makes this book unique It will benefit those involved in helping establish orthographies for hitherto unwritten languages and provide concrete guidance through crucial issues Michael Cahill Ph D 1999 Ohio State University developed the Konni orthography in Ghana He was SIL s International Linguistics Coordinator for eleven years and is on the LSA s Committee on Endangered Languages and their Preservation Keren Rice Ph D 1976 University of Toronto helped standardize the orthography of Slavey and has taught on orthography development at InField CoLang She was LSA President in 2012 and is currently University Professor at the University of Toronto

Language Planning in Europe Robert Kaplan, Richard Baldauf Jr., Nkonko Kamwangamalu, 2016-04-22 This volume focuses on language planning in Cyprus Iceland and Luxembourg explaining the linguistic diversity historical and political contexts and current language situation including language in education planning the role of the media the role of religion and the roles of non indigenous languages The authors are indigenous to the situations described and draw on their experience and extensive fieldwork there The three extended case studies contained in this volume draw together the literature on each of the polities to present an overview of the existing research available while also providing new research based information The purpose of this volume is to provide an up to date overview of the language situation in each polity based on a series of key questions in the hope that this might facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities where similar issues may arise This book comprises case studies originally published in the journal Current Issues in Language Planning
