timely model to retune contemporary architectural sensibility when dealing with the dilemma between design and preservation when transforming a building of recognized significance London George McDonald, 1991-03 Wouldn't it be wonderful to see the sights with your own local host to give you a native's point of view? A must read. Craig Kallendorf, Texas A the role of translation, the intricate relationship of pagan and Christian, the ideological implications of the classical tradition, the interplay between the classical tradition and the histories of scholarship and education, the relation between high and low culture, and the myriad complex relationships, comparative, contrastive, and interactive, between art, literature, and thought themselves. Authoritative and accessible. The Classical Tradition: Art, Literature, Thought offers new insights into the powerful legacy of the ancient world from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance to the present day. The Temple Church in London Robin Griffith-Jones, David Park, 2010 Founded as the main church of the Knights Templar in England at their New Temple in London, the Temple Church is historically and architecturally one of the most important medieval buildings in England. Its round nave, modelled on the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem, is extraordinarily ambitious, combining lavish Romanesque sculpture with some of the earliest Gothic architectural features in any English building of its period. It holds one of the most famous series of medieval effigies in the country. The luminous thirteenth-century choir, intended for the burial of Henry III, is of exceptional beauty. Major developments in the post-medieval period include the reordering of the church in the 1680s by Sir Christopher Wren and a substantial restoration programme in the early 1840s. Despite its extraordinary importance, however, it has until now attracted little scholarly or critical attention, a gap which is remedied by this volume. It considers the

New Temple as a whole in the middle ages and all aspects of the church itself from its foundation in the twelfth century to its war time damage in the twentieth Richly illustrated with numerous black and white and colour plates it makes full use of the exceptional range and quality of the antiquarian material available for study including drawings photographs and plaster casts Contributors Robin Griffith Jones Virginia Jansen Philip Lankester Helen Nicholson David Park Rosemary Sweet William Whyte Christopher Wilson
