,1981     Demolition Means Progress Andrew R. Highsmith,2015-07-06 Tracks the fall of Flint Michigan once one of the nation s greatest industrial towns now one of its poorest cities compelling and powerful Kevin Boyle National Book Award winning author of Arc of Justice In 1997 after General Motors shuttered a massive complex of factories in the gritty industrial city of Flint Michigan signs were placed around the empty facility reading Demolition Means Progress suggesting that the struggling metropolis could not move forward to greatness until the old plants met the wrecking ball Much more than a trite corporate slogan the phrase encapsulates the operating ethos of the nation s metropolitan leadership from at least the 1930s to the present Again and again the leaders of Flint and other municipalities tried to revitalize their communities by demolishing outdated and inefficient structures and institutions and overseeing numerous urban renewal campaigns many of which yielded only more impoverished and more divided metropolises After decades of these efforts the dawn of the twenty first century found Flint one of the most racially segregated and economically polarized metropolitan areas in the nation In one of the most comprehensive works yet written on the history of inequality and metropolitan development in modern America Andrew R Highsmith uses the case of Flint to explain how the perennial quest for urban renewal even more than white flight corporate abandonment and other forces contributed to mass suburbanization racial and economic division deindustrialization and political fragmentation Challenging much of the conventional wisdom about structural inequality and the roots of the nation's urban crisis Demolition Means Progress shows in vivid detail how public policies and programs designed to revitalize the Flint area ultimately led to the hardening of social divisions Brilliantly narrates the entire arc of 20th century American industrialization at the scale of a single city Flint Michigan and its suburbs a remarkable book Robert Self author of American Babylon Race and the Struggle for Postwar Oakland     Research Advances in Alcohol and Drug Problems Reginald G. Smart, Howard D. Cappell, Frederick B. Glaser, Yedy Israel, Harold Kalant, Robert E. Popham, Wolfgang Schmidt, Edward M. Sellers, 2013-03-13 This volume is the eighth in the Research Advances Series and the fifth published by Plenum Press The purpose of the series is to review new work in rapidly changing fields We do not expect reviews to cover the whole field of work on alcoholism and addiction Nor do we expect that they will be like annual reviews covering all work in a delimited field Our reviews are designed to explore only the most exciting parts of the total field and to focus on conclusions that can be made about them The series publishes one volume each year Volume 8 is an omnibus rather than a theme volume in that a wide range of topics is covered including research on alcohol opiates and tobacco As usual the greater emphasis is on alcohol research reflecting the importance of the problem and the volume of work to be reviewed With Volume 8 come some changes in the Editorial Board It will be the last volume in the series for Robert E Popham who has resigned from the Board He has been with the series since its inception and has contributed a great deal to its development The members of the Board are grateful for his help We are adding two new members Dr Howard Cappell whose field is experimental psychology and Dr Edward M Sellers in clinical medicine and pharmacology challenges by developing adaptive supply system options and new and improved treatment and monitoring technologies Future system options to be studied are flexible small scale and multi source supplies utilising non conventional resources like brackish ground water treated wastewater and urban groundwater   EPA-600/9 ,1978-08 Reports of Decisions

Catchment2Coast: A Systems Approach to Coupled River-Coastal Ecosystem Science and Management P.M.S. Monteiro,2009-07-07 Catchment2Coast was an interdisciplinary research and modeling project that aimed to improve understanding of the linkages between coastal ecosystems and adjacent river catchments It used a variety of tools and methods ranging from continuous hydrodynamic monitoring and biochemistry flux measurements to remote sensing techniques   The North Sea and Culture (1550-1800) Juliette Roding,Lex Heerma van Voss,1996   Mobile Barrages and Intakes on Sediment Transporting Rivers M. Bouvard,2017-10-05 Rapid growth in water requirements makes it necessary to increase the amount of water drawn from rivers The dams necessary for capturing river water have to be built to resist damage when large floods occur and an idea of the possible destructive power of floods is given by the front photograph The need for protection results in thick sill structures fitted with gates and upstream and downstream cut off walls Sediment transported by rivers settles forming deposits behind dams where flow velocities decrease On the other hand where flow velocities are high through hydraulic machinery pums and turbines fed from the dam it can be necessary to remove even fine sand from the water and also to remove floating debris Various hydro mechanical installations including gates and screens are introduced into the flow circuits to deal with sediment and debris problems Many emperical solutions to definition of very important details complement standard design procedures Understanding of their use is facilitated by numerous illustrations
