Sociology Relationships That Make A World:

Sociology Marjorie E. Donovan, 1998 Sociological Perspectives of Education Prof. (Dr.) Shauli Mukherjee, Emmanuel Adebunmi, PhD & Pranay Pandey, 2023-06-30 The term Society is the most fundamental one in sociology. It is used in a very wide sense. In common parlance, the society is used to refer to members of specific groups. For example, we speak of Harijan Society, Teachers' Society, and Students' Society, and the like. Similarly, the word is used to refer to some specific institution like Brahma Samaj, Arya Samaj, etc. But in sociology, the term Society refers not to a group of people but to the complex pattern of the norms of interaction that arise among them. People are only the agents of social relationships; they are regarded as things. A society is intangible; it is a process rather than a thing, motion rather than structure. Society is a web of social relationships, the pattern of norms of interaction by which the members of the society maintain themselves. A Critical Theory for the Anthropocene Nathanaël Wallenhorst, 2023-09-15 This volume, which is rooted in biogeophysical studies, addresses conceptions of political action in the Anthropocene and the tension between a desire to accomplish the Promethean project of modernity and a post-Promethean approach. This work explores the idea of an anthropological mutation of political consolidation from a post-Promethean togetherness to creating the capacity to act together. The political thinking of the human condition developed by Hannah Arendt is important here as a resource for thinking about humanity in terms of human adventure. This has three dimensions: hubris, the world, and coexistence, referring respectively to the logic of profit of the homo oeconomicus, the logic of responsibility of the homo collectivus, and the logic of the hospitality of the homo religiosus. The intellectual and political attitude outlined in this book is an extension of critical theory; the work also puts forward a critique of what poses a problem in our relationship to the world and suggests how to overcome it, the ultimate goal being social transformation. The author proposes an uprising and an anthropological consolidation of politics based on the revitalization that is brought about by the sharing of a conviviality both between humans and with what is non-human. The identification of conviviality as an educational paradigm to survive the Anthropocene gives us the much-needed reason for hope despite this heritage of the Anthropocene. In addition to Arendtian thinking, this critical theory for the Anthropocene draws on the political thinking of several contemporary authors, including Maurice Bellet, Hartmut Rosa, Andreas Weber, Dominique Bourg, and Christian Arnsperger. This volume is of interest to researchers in the Anthropocene. Schools and Society Jeanne H. Ballantine, Joan Z. Spade, 2011-04-04 Offering a wide array of theoretical perspectives and methods, a broad range of resources, and both classic and contemporary studies, this fully updated Fourth Edition uses the open systems approach to provide readers with a framework for understanding and analyzing the book's disparate topics. Edited by Jeanne H. Ballantine and Joan Z. Spade, both of whom actively teach Sociology of Education courses, this text includes dozens of readable articles that illustrate major concepts and theoretical perspectives in the field. Mindful Leadership Nikola Plohr, 2025-06-19 This book invites readers into a thought-provoking dialogue, fostering reflection and self-discovery. It offers a process designed for anyone eager to explore their inner world and personal patterns while remaining open to new perspectives in their interactions with others Moving fluidly from introspection to action it bridges theory with practice in a meaningful way The first section Inner Leadership explores the rich possibilities of self reflection an essential element for contemporary leadership Mindfulness both as a practice and a concept provides the space for inward exploration helping us connect with our inner narratives our unique responses to criticism and emotions and the ongoing search for recognition The second section shifts the focus to leadership within teams Through the lens of Mindful Leadership it delves into the complex web of interpersonal dynamics that shape not only our professional lives but our broader human relationships Key themes include communication inspiration courage decision making belonging and sustainability Each chapter concludes with reflective questions and practical exercises guiding readers to transform theoretical insights into actionable strategies

Friendship Francesco Alberoni,2016-09-19 In Friendship Francesco Alberoni offers a wide ranging analysis of intimacy Traversing disciplines he untangles the meanings of friendship from family and friendly relations from love and passion and the everyday experiences of coupledness Friendship is the just relationship Rather than based on exchange it is an encounter between two intimates that repudiates the logics of the market the depersonalizing norms of modern bureaucracy and the objectives of collectivities whether they be couples or social movements Intimate and just friendship partakes of the world while resisting its dehumanizing drift Marrying philosophical poetics with social science sensibility Alberoni shows that the extent to which we live up to the ideals of friendship marks our capacities to realize the republican virtues in concrete everyday life Papers and Proceedings American Sociological Society.
