chapters collectively explore Relevant to advanced students and scholars across disciplines in the humanities and social sciences focused on Southeast Asia this book is a timely exploration that unpicks and unpacks this long discussed aspect within Asian area studies A Study Guide for Aphra Behn's "Oroonoko" Gale, Cengage Learning,2016-06-29 A Study Guide for Aphra Behn s Oroonoko excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Novels for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Novels for Students for all of your research needs Crime Scene: Singapore Stephen Leather,2010-10-01 The first ever multi author anthology of crime fiction set in Singapore Featuring stories from veteran UK crime writer Stephen Leather Singapore Literature Prize winner Ng Yi Sheng and popular Singapore based authors Richard Lord Chris Mooney Singh Dawn Farnham Lee Ee Leen Pranav Joshi Zafar Anjum and Carolyn Camoens The Boat Walter Gibson,2007-07-01 In 1942 a ship carrying 500 escapees from Japanese occupied Singapore set sail for Ceylon Halfway to safety she was torpedoed and sank Only one lifeboat was launched a lifeboat built to carry twenty eight but to which 135 souls now looked to for salvation For twenty six days cannibalism murder heroism and self sacrifice drifted with her There were only four survivors The Site of the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus in Singapore Sandra Hudd,2016-06-17 The Site of the Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus in Singapore Entwined Histories of a Colonial Convent and a Nation 1854 2015 explores key issues and developments in colonial and postcolonial Singapore by examining one particular site in central Singapore the former Convent of the Holy Infant Jesus established in 1854 and now a food and entertainment complex The Convent was an early provider of social services and girls education almost a mini city within walls including a thriving community of schools an orphanage and a women s refuge World War II and the Japanese occupation followed by the creation of the new Republic of Singapore presented a new set of challenges but it was the convent s size and prime location that made it attractive for urban redevelopment in the 1980s and led to government acquisition demolition of some buildings and the remainder put out to private tender The chapel and the former nuns residence are classified as National Monuments but in line with government policy of adaptive re use of heritage sites the complex now contains bars and restaurants and the deconsecrated chapel is used for wedding receptions and events Tracking the physical and usage changes of the site this book works to make sense of that eventful journey a paradoxical journey that moves only in time not in space and includes abandoned babies French nuns Japanese bombings and twenty first century dance parties In a society that has undergone massive change economically and socially and above all transitioned from a small colonial enterprise to a wealthy independent city state those physical changes and differing usages of the Convent site over the years track the changes in the nation The wider ongoing tensions between heritage conservation and the modern global city are explored by examining what has been chosen for preservation the quintessentially Singaporean hybridity of the commercial reuse of historic buildings as well as the nostalgia for what has been lost Intimacies of Violence in the Settler Colony Penelope

Edmonds, Amanda Nettelbeck, 2018-05-25 Violence and intimacy were critically intertwined at all stages of the settler colonial encounter and yet we know surprisingly little of how they were connected in the shaping of colonial economies Extending a reading of economies as labour relations into new arenas this innovative collection of essays examines new understandings of the nexus between violence and intimacy in settler colonial economies of the British Pacific Rim The sites it explores include cross cultural exchange in sealing and maritime communities labour relations on the frontier inside the pastoral station and in the colonial home and the material and emotional economies of exploration Following the curious mobility of texts objects and frameworks of knowledge this volume teases out the diversity of ways in which violence and intimacy were expressed in the economies of everyday encounters on the ground In doing so it broadens the horizon of debate about the nature of colonial economies and the intercultural encounters that were enmeshed within them Asia Journal of Global Studies

One Out Jack Torry, 2022-03-15 This is an exciting story about a newspaper reporter who risked his life on countless occasions in Nanking Singapore and Manila to provide people throughout the world with riveting coverage of the war in Asia Author Jack Torry spent two and a half years reading hundreds of the subject's newspaper articles examining scores of letters written by McDaniel's parents and sister going through personal letters he wrote during the war and reviewing extensive interview notes in the Library of Congress McDaniel was the last reporter to leave Singapore before its fall to the Japanese in 1942 He escaped on one of the last ships leaving Singapore and when it was sunk by Japanese aircraft he and 130 others had to survive on a deserted island Health Insurance Reforms in Asia Sabrina Ching Yuen Luk, 2014-03-26

This book empirically examines health care financing reforms and popular responses in three major cities in East Asia Shanghai Singapore and Hong Kong It adopts a new revised version of the theory of historical institutionalism to compare and explain the divergent reform paths in these three places over the past three decades It also examines forces that propel institutional change The book provides three detailed case studies on the development of health care financing reforms and the politics of implementing them It shows that health care systems in Shanghai Singapore and Hong Kong were the products of Western presence in the nineteenth century It illustrates how greater attention is paid to the roles played by ideas actors and environmental triggers without abandoning the core assumptions that political institutions and policy feedback remain central to impact health care financing reforms It shows that health care financing reform is shaped by a complex interplay of forces over time It also provides the most updated material about health care financing reforms in Shanghai Singapore and Hong Kong The central argument of this book is that health care financing reform is both an evolving process responding to changing circumstances and a political process revealing an intricate interplay of power relationships and diverse interests It shows that institutional changes in health care financing system can be incremental but transformative in nature It argues that social policies will continue to develop and welfare states will continue to adapt and evolve in order to cope with new risks and needs This book sheds new lights on understanding the politics of health care financing reform and sources and modes of institutional change Masters and servants Claire Lowrie,2016-05-01
